The Death of Keyaz

The Elaborate Plan for the Battle

Hero Krichorao was fatigued with journey,
He came to vast Kumishbulak prairie.

Waited for the uncle to come early,
Young Seytek almost wore out his eyes.
Krichorao told Seytek,
What he had experienced and seen.
Krichorao and Seytek,
Talked their minds freely and planed the future.

Krichorao said to him at the moment:
"Kid, go to see Keyaz,
Find a chance and discuss with your mother.
You must ride Totoru steed and come here,
Let it leave Keyaz.

"Please tell your mother,
On the fifteenth day of Bashiona month,
We will meet in Talas.
Our Talas people will rise in rebellion on that day,
We cannot do it in advance and cannot delay either.
If we cannot arrive on time,
Kanchorao will kill them all."

Seytek mounted and set out,
Koychabudar galloped forward.
Seytek and Ayichulek,
Arranged the plan carefully.
Seytek went to see Keyaz,

Told Keyaz his purpose:

"I have a favor to ask of you,
I want to pick Olus Khan's daughter Gulinar,
Do you think it is proper?
Since we come from Urum,
Six months of days have passed,
Six months of nights have passed.
I want to go to Urum as soon as possible,
Welcome Gulinar to join our family.
So as not to let her become a daughter-in-law come be herself,
She will be laughed by girls and other married ladies,
I want you two to save your face.

"If your daughter-in-law comes in everyday,
Bow to you and greet you,
Is not it a respect to you?
If the daughter-in-law obey my sister all the time,
Is not it a respect to my sister?"

Seytek stood up after he finished his words,
Walked out of the palace and mounted his steed.
Seytek sat steadily on the horseback,
Said to his mother Ayichulek loudly:
"My sister Chulek, please listen to me,
When you go and pick up your daughter-in-law,
Please ride on Totoru steed.
When your daughter-in-law comes,
Welcome her with grand Catch-sheep ceremony.
Seytek, I, only rides on Totoru steed,
Then I can win in Catch-sheep ceremony.

"Father Keyaz is in his prime time now,
Your fames will pass on in the world.
My sister, do not forget,
Please remember what I said."
Finished his words,

Seytek galloped the steed away.

Krichorao was busy in preparing,
He made sharp arrows carefully.
He waited for Seytek's return eagerly,
He estimated Seytek would return in two days.

Seytek came back and met with him,
Two heroes drank the beverage and went forward.
They came to Artenbulak where there was only one spring,
They would spend the night there and guard there.
They would shoot the black female argali come to drink water to death,
Because Keyaz's life was in its belly.

Young tiger Seytek,
Threw out a suggestion at the moment:
"My dear uncle,
I want to guard here by myself.
People say Eri[①] and Seridai[②],
They must come here when they are thirsty.
You can go and block the way to the palace,
Wait on the way they must pass.

"Ok, my cute boy,
How I can compete the achievement with you.
Young guy, do not fall to sleep,
Do not miss the best chance to shoot the black female argali.
If it goes beyond your shooting range,
I will stop it at the ridge."

Seytek tied his mount in a distant place,
He ambushed by the spring,
Krichorao galloped his steed to the ridge.

1 2 Kirgiz language. It is the name of argali.

It was the noon when Seytek arrived,
He gave up the sweet snap.
He did not sleep the whole night,
Looked up and counted the stars in the sky.

Stars in the sky started to move,
It seemed someone was driving them.
Stars in the east were less and less,
It was easy to be counted.
All stars moved and crowded,
Swarmed to the west of the sky.

The sky was turning white in the east,
It was like woman's curved eyebrows.
The sky was tuning white,
The black argali came to the spring,
Under the cover of the hazy sky.

The black argali would not drink water greedily,
It looked round after every drink.
Then it galloped along the slope,
Disappeared in your sight fast.
The damned black female argali,
It dare not stand by the spring and drink that day.
He was beyond the shooting range,
Stuck his ears and opened his eyes wide and watched.
It seemed it noticed something,
It was going to turn round and run back to the mountain.

His uncle took Ackelty gun away,
Apple-head firelock was in hometown Talas.
Hero Sirak's Sirbaran gun,
Was as a trophy,
Kanchorao presented it to Keyaz Khan.
Now Sirak's precious Baran gun,
Was in young hero seytek's hands.

He lifted Sirbaran gun and aimed,
He put one finger on the trigger and thought:
"This black female argali,
Does it leave without drinking water?

"If I press the trigger recklessly,
If Sirbaran's bullet cannot shoot on its body,
The slippery black female argali,
Will directly run back to Keyaz.
Tell him someone is shooting it with Baran gun,
Then our plan will be exposed completely."
Seytek reminded himself,
Calmed down and observed carefully.

The black female argali turned round,
Rushed to the spring.
Lowered its head to the spring surface,
Its lips were completely under the water.

The damned animal was very cautious,
It lifted its head and watched around from time to time.
The target was far from the gun,
Like one black mane,
It was hard to be aimed.
Seytek did not draw the gun back,
He still aimed at the target but with a gloomy face.

Seytek watched and noticed,
The black female argali drew its legs in,
But it did not look up.
Seytek made a judgment,
That the black female argali was going to prance,
Hide in secret place and run away.

When its fore legs just lifted,
And its hind legs were still on the ground.
Seytek did not draw his gun back,

He pressed the trigger immediately.
SirBaran's bullet did not shoot the target to death,
It only shot the flesh by the waist of the black female argali.
The black female argali dragged its injured body,
Ran to the slope difficultly.

Hero Kristan heard Baran gun's shooting,
He knew clearly the bullet did not shoot the target to death.
It was like he witnessed it,
He made a correct judgment.

Kristan lifted his telescope,
Fixed his eyes on the coming way.

He was the hero could see everything,
He was the hero no one could defeat,
He was the hero could make all his wishes come true,
He was the hero could foresee with divine accuracy.
Almanbet's son Krichorao,
He was such a magical man.
Hero Krichorao was strong and tall,
He watched Kokoyruk pass carefully.

He saw the black female argali,
Staggered forward with its huge body,
There was a big piece of flesh draped by the side of its side.

Krichorao's bow was drawn,
He was ready to shoot at anytime.
The coming black female argali,
Found the hoof prints of Surkoyun steed suddenly.
It stopped and turned round,
Ran to another path.

"It is going to run out of my sight,
It turns to the edge of Kerchindu.
It is far and roads there have too many curves,

I cannot spare my steed and should gallop,
Take a shortcut and block its way.

"If I cannot stop it in Kerchindu,
The damned beast will run away,
And go back to Keyaz directly.
Damned Keyaz then,
Will cut Ayichulek's head off silently.
Then he will mount Totoru steed,
Come soon and fight us."
Krichorao calculated in his mind like this,
Mounted and chased immediately.

The steed galloped its hooves,
Deep holes it made like earth stoves.
Clouds of dust rose behind it,
It was like dense mist covered the earth.
Dust floated in the air,
Moved to the horizon like morning fog.
He galloped forward as fast as he can,
Arrived at the pass and watched carefully,
The black female argali had disappeared!

Krichorao followed the trace on the ground,
After the time of cooking a meal,
He looked around and observed,
He thought it had not climbed over the ridge.

Krichorao whipped and galloped,
As fast as whirlwind,
He arrived at the pass of the valley quickly.
He reined the horse and crossed the horse there,
Looked toward pass Tashi.
The black female argali appeared in his sight,
It only needed two more steps to climb over the ridge.

Krichorao aimed at it immediately,

Shot the arrow with full of his strength,
The arrow left the bow instantly.
The female argali was prancing forward,
Its fore legs just landed,
The arrow Krichorao shot out pierced its body.

Hero Krichorao at the moment,
Prayed to ancestor Ayikoler Manas' spirit,
Prayed to father black mane wolf Almanbet Khan's spirit,
Prayed to hero Chuwak and Sirak's spirits,
No matter how many tricks the argali had,
Never let it flee again.

He whipped Surkoyun steed up the hill,
Galloped as if on wings.
Lion-like hero Krichorao,
Chased the black female argali wholeheartedly,
He whipped his steed anxiously.
Surkoyun steed galloped its hooves,
Even birds were ashamed in front of it.

Hero Krichorao came up,
The female argali lay on the ground with unkempt hair.
Before Krichorao dismounted,
The female argali sometimes transferred into twirling snake,
Sometimes transferred into a frog,
It cast spells for six times.

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Was a master in breaking spells.
He grabbed a handful of dirt and incanted,
Threw it onto the female argali,
Stopped its spell.
The black female argali used its spells up,
It had no place to hide.

Krichorao pressed it hard on the ground,

Cut its belly open and took out the gallbladder.
Observed its guts carefully,
Found and took the fist-size box out.

There were two lids on the box,
And there was one blowhole.
Hero Krichorao saw through the hole,
Three black-headed sparrows stood in a line in the box,
There were three yellow sparrows and one red sparrow.
Keyaz worked spells on seven sparrows,
He stored his life on them,
And hid in the black female argali belly.
Krichorao put the lids tight back,
Cut the argali skillfully.

Krichroao was busy cutting the meat,
Seytek came to him in a hurry:
"Dear uncle, please forgive me,
The cunning female argali deceived me,
I did not knock it off.
Uncle, I make the trouble for you,
Let you suffer from it."

"Oh, my colt Seytek,
What we suffer today,
Is not a real trouble.
If the black female argali escaped today,
It will bring us crowning calamity.
If the argali escape today,
It will report everything happened here.

"Keyaz will kill Ayichulek immediately,
He will not let your mother explain at all.
Keyaz will move his life to other place,
Then he will hunt us down.

"If he delivers news to Talas,

Kanchorao will come and help him.
He will behead Kanikai and Bakay,
Took their heads and sought credit from Keyaz.
Both justice and evil sides will fight to death,
Countless fellow people will shed their blood.

"I have lost my Khan brother,
If I do not make it today,
If we lose Kanikai, Bakay and Chulek,
How can our career succeed?

"I shot the huge female argali to death,
I am overjoyed,
Joyful sweat wetted my clothes.
God blesses us,
Let us rest here,
And taste the fresh meat of the argali too.

"I guess your mother,
Will try her best to mount Totoru steed,
She will be here soon."
They barbequed the female argali meat,
Dipped in salt water.

Let put how they ate the meat aside,
Listen carefully about,
Chulek's situation in Ayinla.

The appointed date was coming,
Ayichulek had been anxious.
She played the woman to Keyaz:
"My khan Keyaz, please listen!
Your son will pick his wife back,
He set out impatiently.
He pleaded with me right before he set out,
He wanted me to welcome them on the way.

"Close relative cannot marry close relative,
Because Olus Khan is far from us,
Your son then marries his daughter.
We should welcome them on the way,
So as to avoid others' mockery,
Avoid your son losing face."

Keyaz became very impatient:
"Seytek goes his own way,
Makes his own decision to pick up his wife,
Now let him come in by himself!
You are adrift when you are old,
I have never seen you like this!"

Ayichulek kept silent for a while and responded angrily:
"You damned Keyaz, you talk nonsense!
You said I, Ayichulek,
Are adrift when I am old.
Since I married you,
It has been twelve years.
Am I a giddy woman?
Did I attend any wedding?
Even it is one wedding or funeral,
Do not you act like a real man,
Saddle the steed in person,
Let me ride and go and show the etiquette.

"I also want to attend ceremony and wedding every time,
But I was afraid you would mind.
I was afraid it would be disgraced if others saw me,
So I stay at home all the time.
Now I become a real slave,
Do not I ever ride a steed,
Like Totoru?

"The clothes Semtay wore when he was alive,
Are on me now.

You do not want me to wear new clothes,
So you never buy me new clothes.
Even some sweet words,
You also do not say to me.

"The rubbish you talk today,
I will remember forever!
You should not make irresponsible remarks,
I did not ask to walk through the streets.

"Seytek is the only son,
He has no elder brother,
He has no younger brother either,
He has no sisters to help him at all.

"Now he himself alone,
Goes to Urum to pick up his wife.
You do not let me go with him as a mother,
You are such an inhuman and cruel man!

"There are so many handsome young men in Jedigair,
You did not let any of them,
Go and accompany your lonely son!

"I want to go and welcome my daughter-in-law kindly,
You, Keyaz, say I, Chulek, am adrift,
Tell me why do you say it?
You think you are an omniscient,
I am an ignorant woman.
I play deaf to your remarks all the time,
But you never stop jeering at me.

"I was a stubborn woman,
When I got angry,
I dare fight my father over the power to make decision.
Now I decide to return to my original nature,
I will turn your world upside down.

"Kangayi people and Kirgiz become enemies,
For generations,
I will go to Kangayi for help.
I will erase my old appearance,
Transfer into an eighteen-year-old girl.

"I will peck your eyes mercilessly,
Like vulture pecks their food.
If I cannot tear you into pieces,
Please change Chulek's name completely!

"I will wear my swan dress,
I will fly into the sky.
I will turn into a beautiful girl,
I will marry Jalgezack.
I will pee on your salt,
Otherwise, I am unworthy to Chulek's fame."

Took the swan dress off the carpet.
She wore the swan dress and flew to the skylight,
Sensible people felt some bad would happen.

Damned Keyaz,
His heart was bleeding with pain at the moment.
He began to beg Ayichulek for mercy:
"Ayichulek, please do not misunderstand me!
Couple loves each other like us,
There are many interesting things happen.
You are too fussy and leave me like this,
I will have other wife if you leave,
But people will say you abandon Keyaz,
You will get a shameless bad fame.

"When did you saddle Totoru steed and want to mount?
When did I say Chulek could not ride the horse?

If you sell sheep in the pen,
If you ask to catch horses in the pasture,
If you ask to drive cattle,
If you ask to pick one from single-hump camels,
If you ask to exchange them for shining Burum clothes,
Will I stop you?

"I surely did not buy you clothes,
But it should be you who buy clothes for me.
Clothes you make is on me now,
I do not complain when you do not buy me more.
You know the reason why you do not change clothes,
How do you want me to analyze the reason?

"Seytek goes to Urum,
He does not take a young companion.
He did not ask us,
For letting one of us accompany him.

"Ayichulek, think about it,
I know my son is not happy,
How can I ask to go shamelessly?
What you have told me today,
Is your complaint to our son.
Please do not turn into the swan and stay on the skylight,
You make me scared.

"You mount Totoru steed,
Do not go alone,
Let women follow and accompany you.
Tell people in Ayinla before you go,
Get the bride and broom's room ready.

"You have mount to use,
You have clothes to wear,
You always make trouble out of nothing,
It is not a good habit!

You always blame others,
You are eloquent,
You never let others finish their words.
You are hot-tempered and easy to get angry,
You consider nothing when you are angry.
Chulek, please come down,
Wear your dress and mount the steed,
Set out now and do not delay."

Keyaz said like this,
But he had evil plots in his hearts,
Ayichulek knew it clearly.

Like a snow block fell,
Chulek landed instantly.
Keyaz played deliberately,
Tried to grab Chulek and did not let her go.

Seytek has gone to pick up his wife,
Krichorao is still in the prairie,
Who knows whether he is curing there or not!
Chulek has shouted at me just now.
As long as I catch Chulek,
I can know what she is planning.

Keyaz held Chulek's neck with one hand,
And reached the other hand to Chulek's breast,
I was going to catch Chulek and did not let her go.

Sister-in-law Ayichulek was a magic master,
Like water was running,
She shook her body and went invisibly.
She stood by the side of the left door,
Watched Keyaz gracefully.
Keyaz looked around,
Moon-like Ayichulek's spell,
Made him feel scared:

"Oh, Chulek, do not waste time,
Get ready and dress well.
Loyal slave Bayimiedier,
Bring Totoru here and let Chulek mount!"
Keyaz shouted excitedly.

Keyaz's hair stuck up with anger,
Hair on his face stuck like wheat awn.
He came to the high tower,
Sat on the rock-carved chair.
Bayimiedier brought Totoru steed,
And saddled the steed.

Ayichulek prepared a big bag in front of him,
And prepared another bag secretly.
She filled the secret bag with gold,
She made good preparations.
It was a magical bag,
It was not full even you put all gold in the world in,
It would not become heavier at all.
It was made of the material similar to eyelid,
It was a mysterious leather bag.
Do you know people's eyelid,
Wealth never could not satisfy people's eye.

Ayichulek took out the bag secretly,
Tied it on Totoru steed.
She mounted the steed in haste,
Set out on the way to welcome the bride.

Keyaz had forgot just now,
He did not ask Totoru about the situation,
God made him forget.
He remembered suddenly after Ayichulek set out,
He waved and shouted:
"Chulek, please wait!"
Keyaz came up in a hurry.

He would ask Totoru about the situation!
Ayichulek had expected it.

Sixty two spells,
Ayichulek mastered them all.
Seventy two magic arts,
Syichulek was expert at them all.
The secrets of one thousand and one spells,
Ayichulek could break easily.
She recited stutter spell silently,
She touched Totoru's forehead,
With her hair decoration gently.

Totoru steed was not like before,
Talked human language fluently.
Keyaz came to the side of Chulek,
Pretended to talk to Totoru again,
He actually wanted to complain to Totoru.
But his Totoru steed opened its eyes wide,
Did not say anything but kept silent.

The black box Keyaz hid his life in,
Had been in Krichorao and Seytek's hands.
Keyaz's loyal companion Totoru steed,
Had been under Ayichulek's bottom.
Keyaz took precautions all the time,
But how he could win both intelligent and courageous Chulek.
Manas' heroic offspring,
Had prepared well everything for the battle,
Let's see how they killed bastard Keyaz!

Krichorao Killed Keyaz

Keyaz did not get any information from Totoru steed,
He had no choice but left dreamily.
Look, how Chulek planed:
"Everyone sees Totoru steed,
Never spares their praise to its speed.
I want to see how fast it can go,
We will arrive at Kumishbulak prairie today.
I must master clearly,
How everything is going on with Seytek and Kris."

When Chulek set out,
The damned steed,
Knew Chulek on its back,
Had betrayed its master,
It mastered in the mind:
"I will carry Chulek on my back like a sparrow,
Gallop forward and do not listen to her order.

"I will climb over rolling mountains,
Throw her into valley.
I will cross thick forest,
Go on the rampage,
Hang her on the tree branch.
When she struggles on the branch,
I will take her swan dress off,
I will watch without her swan dress,
How she can fly into the sky again.
I will tell Keyaz,
Everything happens here from the beginning.

"If Chulek does not want to go there,
I will merge into surging lake.
When she struggles in the lake,
I will take her swan dress off and run away.

"If Chulek does not want to go there either,
I will take her to the cliff,
I will prance on the cliff.
When she feels scared and falls off,
I will take the chance and take her swan dress away."
Smart steed Totoru,
Calculated the plots in its mind.

The damned steed,
Lowered its head and rushed forward,
It was like white cloud,
Drifted over rolling black mountains.
Towering snow peaks,
It climbed over one by one.
Rolling mountains,
It jumped over one after one.

Totoru galloped downward,
It became crazier.
No matter how hard Ayichulek reined it,
Damned Totoru steed did not follow the order at all.
It was anxious to crush the bit,
It galloped its hooves forward,
Wanted to throw Chulek to death in the front.

Ayichulek clearly knew:
Totoru cherished evil plots of revenge.
Because this damned animal,
Had become aware of Talas people's plan.

Ayichulek understood clearly:
"The beast does not listen to my order,

It wants to go back to Keyaz wholeheartedly.

"If Totoru goes back to Keyaz,
The result will be obvious.
Keyaz will not let me stay alive.
He will stamp on me and take my swan dress off forcibly,
He will cut my head off like butcher a sheep,
He will cut my belly open like cut a watermelon.

"Keyaz will not let it go like this,
Seytek and Krichorao,
Will suffer from his plots.
My Arashi father Bakay and mother-in-law,
He will gouge their eyes.
All my family and relatives,
Will suffer from Keyaz's chase and kill."

Sixty wisdom, forty grief,
Turned over and over in Ayichulek's heart.
Twisted and turned, thought over and over again,
Tears welled up in her eyes,
It seemed it was the end of her life.

She thought: "If I go round Orolmo,
Ferocious Keyaz must notice my trace.
If he leads his troops and rush to me,
How can I compete against him then."

Right at this crucial moment,
Ayichulek played her unique skill,
She recited the spell again and again,
Bounded Totoru's hooves.
Ayichulek bent over on the horseback,
Reached her hand to the magic steed's chest.
The steed had no choice but slowed its steps,
It could not gallop anymore.

Ayichulek broke the whip in two,
Toward Totoru's head,
She whipped more than ten times.
The steed got a heavy blow,
Painful tears flowed to the ground.

Moon-like sister-in-law Ayichulek,
At Tashmoynok[1] pass,
Found Krichorao and Seytek.
Seytek, Krichorao and Ayichulek,
Fully discussed how to deal with enemies.
They barbequed the female argali liver,
Dipped in salt water and tasted to their content.
Mixed barbequed fat with the argali tail and black liver,
Ate them all.

They returned to Ayinla,
From Tuzbulak slope.
Let Arashi father Momingjan,
And uncle Tokto from Kashgar,
Get ready and return to their hometown.

They made three-day preparations,
Made everything they need ready,
Took out gold, silver and jewelry,
Gave it to Momingjan.
Gathered cattle, horses, camels and sheep,
Let Toktosart drive them back home.

Two thousand sheep and one thousand four-year-old horses,
They were all grey fine horses,
No people had ever riden on them.
And those forty-five saddled male camels,
Forty-five oxen used to pull plows,
Were driven on the road.

1. Tashmoynok: Kirgiz language, it means huge rock pass.

Passed Saridobe and Tiris Ayirik,
Ayichulek and them stayed on a vast plain for the night.
They rested there assured,
Prepared what they need on the way ready.
Let us come back to Jedigair,
See Keyaz's situation.

Yurt-size Keyaz,
Was brutal by nature.
He got bad headache at the moment,
He could not bear it.

He was restless on the rock-carved chair,
Counted the days on his fingers,
Grief filled up his chest:
"Ayichulek promised when she left,
She must come back in nine days.
Now it has been fifteen days,
She is still out.

"In recent days,
My headache tortures me very much.
The headache gets more and more serious,
I do not understand the reason.

"This one year,
Ayichulek spends most of the time out.
She said she would pee on my salt,
She was so rude to me.

"Does she cheat me out of my steed?
Goes to the pasture and takes her son,
And the disabled slave away together,
Do they three run toward Jalgezack's village?

"I can wait patiently here today,

If she does not come back till tomorrow,
I will chase and punish her.

"I will drain cunning Ayichulek's blood,
Like pour water.
I will show my power and skills,
Make Seytek open his eyes wide!
I will kill that disabled slave,
I will wipe out completely,
Everyone who has relation with Manas.

"I will send messenger to Talas,
Deliver the message to Kanchorao.
Let them cut Kanikai and Bakay's heads off,
And bring them back to me.

"Chulek smells good during the day,
But she smells too bad with body odor at night.
I have experienced her tricks,
She makes traps for me one after another.
Ayichulek does not want to sleep with me at night,
She makes the smelly witch replaced her.
Does Chulek cast the spell all the time?
Does she cheat me all the time?"

Keyaz lay on the bed and thought about it,
Till the sky started to grow lighter.
Libra had faded away,
His eyes still did not close.
Keyaz did not sleep the whole night anxiously,
He spent the night with his eyes widely open,
He felt things were not going well.

Before the sun rose,
Keyaz walked out of the palace.
Many thoughts turned over in his mind,
He could not help from going to the stable.

When he saw his steed was not in the stable,
He knew he made a mistake and lowered his head to regret:
"I give my steed to the woman,
I feel sorry for my fame as a Khan,
It will bring me crowning calamity!

"Ayichulek, no matter where we can meet,
I must break with you once for all.
I will hang your eyelids,
I will change my name if I cannot do it!"
Keyaz talked to himself angrily,
Babbled on and on, felt aggrieved.

When he looked at steeds in the stable,
He saw Koykuron steed.
When he plundered Talas in the past,
When he took Ayichulek away forcibly,
There was a maroon mare,
Followed him like a sheep.

Keyaz had the insight to recognize the fine steed,
He took care of the mare secretly:
"If you, the maroon mare, can give birth to a male colt,
It must be an outstanding colt, it will not be ordinary at all."
The maroon mare surely had a male colt,
Named it Koykuron,
Now it had been nine years old.

Steed Koykuron,
Had the blood of fine steed:
The herdsman hurt Surkoyun stallion's leg accidently,
So he left it in the stable and took care of it.
Then put it back to the pasture,
There were a flock of mares around it.
The maroon mare mated,
It gave birth to Koykuron later.

Keyaz watched Koykuron,
It was like Totoru steed.
Even you rode it for nine months,
It would not get exhausted.

He led Koykuron steed,
Walked out of the yard in a hurry.
Servants saw him and dare not neglect,
Carried the saddle hurriedly.
They saddled Koykuron steed as soon as possible,
Mountain-size Keyaz mounted the steed.

It took twelve days,
To go to Kumishbulak prairie.
Keyaz galloped the steed day and night,
He arrived at the green prairie the next morning.

He climbed up Tashmoynok pass,
He saw foxes played on the slope.
He galloped the steed toward the downstream,
He found the mark of burnt fire,
And burnt argali liver,
It was cut to pieces and thrown on the grass.
He stopped as he saw this,
His heart was burning like fire.

He jumped off the saddle,
Sat on the ground with a vacant look.
Keyaz had been forty-five years old,
No one dare compete him in the world.

He took the telescope out of his clothes,
Hung the belt over his neck,
Lifted the telescope and adjusted.
Aimed at Tirisaye Dawans,
He observed the situation there.

One moving group was marching ahead,
Ayichulek rode on the maroon steed,
Walked in the group proudly.
People were crowded there,
They rushed back and forth and drove the livestock.
Seytek appeared in the crowd suddenly,
He was overjoyed.

"I have predicted long ago,
They will betray me one day!
It happens as expected,
They plunder my people's livestock,
And are fleeing to other place.
These flustered people,
How can they run out of my hands?"

Keyaz mounted Koykuron again,
Galloped his steed forward angrily.
He wanted to stop them,
Before they climbed over the Dawans.

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Was wise and played to the score.
"Sister-in-law comes here,
It has been seventeen days.
She has promised before she left,
She must return in nine days.
Now she fails to meet the time limit,
Does Keyaz chase for this?"
Krichorao felt upset,
He lifted his telescope and watched.

It was the telescope Almanbet left,
Ayichulek brought it and hung it over his neck.
He observed toward the direction of Jedigair,
At Tashmoynok pass,

He saw Keyaz there.

Krichorao ran under the cover of favorable position,
Came to Momingjan and uncle Tokto,
Reported to Seytek and Ayichulek:
"I see Keyaz coming,
Ayashata Momingjan and uncle Tokto,
Please start off right away,
Do not delay.

"I will go and stop Keyaz,
I will witness his skills and fight him.
If his death is coming,
I will kill him,
Do not let him go back alive!

"If my death is coming,
I will die without anything to regret.
Human is born for suffering,
I will accept the destined hardship,
I will walk to the hell bravely!

"Seytek,
Listen to me,
You ride on Totoru steed,
Do not let Keyaz see you.

"It is said once he sees Totoru,
It will double his courage and power.
You should hide in and monitor,
Do not let him find you.

"I want to experience,
How powerful Keyaz is,
I cannot live in the world if I am inferior to him!
I will be like venomous scorpion and spider,
I will be like venomous snake on south side,

Shed my venom,
All over self-confident Keyaz.
I long for the battlefield for a long time,
I will fight him to death!"

Krichorao just finished his words,
Seytek started to say:
"Lucky uncle, what you said is absolutely true,
But you should let your nephew show off.
You always take me with you,
I am your reliable support.
Let me go and fight first,
If I cannot resist,
You can come and help me then."

Hearing what Seytek said,
Krichorao got angry immediately.
People would be scared out of wits,
People dare not look at him.

Ayichulek said first,
Defused the awkward situation:
"My boy Seytek, do not do it,
You talk rubbish here.
Every time your uncle asks to go to the battlefield,
Even your father never competes with him.

"Giant Keyaz chases us now,
He is not an easy enemy to defeat.
His skills are extraordinary,
No one could break his waist easily."

Seytek heard the suggestion,
He gave a glance to Ayichulek.
Then looked at Krichorao.
People never saw such an angry face,
Anyone saw his face would feel astonished.

Powerful lion Krichorao,
Gave a hard whip on the grey steed's leg.
The grey steed galloped its hooves like whirlwind,
Krichorao whipped his steed ceaselessly.

He passed Keligaitashikol shoal,
Came to the vast upstream area,
He blocked on the way Keyaz was coming.
Looked at what Keyaz did,
Krichorao felt surprised!

Keyaz was as huge as a mountain,
It was impossible to stop him.
Trees fell as he went past,
Cliffs collapsed and rocks rolled.
It was like flood rushed down,
Smoke billowed and dust surged!

His voice of marching ahead made waves,
Ducks and geese in the lake were scared.
He splashed smoke out of his mouth,
It was like the stove to smoke leather.

Places Koykuron steed stepped on,
Pot-size rocks were kicked up,
And flew far away,
Turned into tiny sand and spread over the sky.

Koykuron steed under him,
Was like an arrow roared past,
And like a bird flew over the sky.
Keyaz sat on the horseback with a gloomy face,
His face was like a dirty soap.
He swung the whip,
Lashed the steed's thigh ceaselessly,
Kicked the steed belly with stirrups,

Keyaz galloped forward hurriedly.
The death was waving at him,
His evil life would leave the world soon.

Krichorao held the spear tight in the hand,
Fixed his eyes on him.

Giant Keyaz crossed the river,
He was like a devil,
Rushed on the bank ferociously.

Hero Krichorao stood on the bank,
His face was like silver and body was like iron,
Anger filled up his heart,
He braced himself up with strength.
He was in high spirits,
He had a strong will,
He was full of strength.
He was ready to launch an attack at any time,
He concentrated his eyes on the rival.

"If I prick him suddenly,
When he just climbs up on the bank,
If I cannot knock him off face to face,
It will damage my heroic fame.
Mardhan rode on rhino in the past,
Finally his life ended in my hand,
How Keyaz in front of me can compare with him.

"I will stand in front of him confidently,
Let him recognize my real identity,
Then fight with him face to face,
Fight bravely regardless of his danger.
If it is in my power,
I can take his life in one blow.
If it is beyond my power,
I can defeat him with tricks."

Krichorao rode on Surkoyun steed gracefully,
Sire spear was swung in his hand,
Pointed boots stepped in the stirrups tight.
When Keyaz came to a clearing,
Lion Krichorao marched ahead bravely.

Keyaz was not an ordinary person,
He reacted fast and did not hesitate at all.
He poked his spear out,
To Almanbet's son Krichorao mercilessly.

Hero Krichorao gave the attacking chance to the rival,
He stood still and watched silently.
The spear Keyaz poked with both his hands,
It hit on Krichorao's body with great power,
The spear post broke into twelve pieces and flew,
Hero Krichorao stood still and did not move safely.

It was Krichorao's turn to attack,
He swung his spear and got ready to attack.
Damned Keyaz should get God's punishment,
He did not follow the rule but began to attack again.

Warded off Keyaz's coming axe,
Hero Krichorao lifted his shining Sire spear,
Poked with full of his strength,
But he did not make Keyaz fall off.
Keyaz was like a hard black rock,
He did not move at all.

Angry Keyaz,
Shouted like a mad beast.
His shouting shattered the rocks around,
Also made many peaks collapsed.
The sun hid, the sky turned gloomy.
The earth cracked, dust flew,

Clouds of dust covered the sky.
He whipped Koykuron steed,
Launched an attack to hero Krichorao again.

Ferocious blood-sucker Keyaz,
Filled with rage, came rampantly.
Got exasperated, angered beyond all control,
He pulled a plane tree up smoothly.

Dirt on the root of the plane tree,
Was big as a huge yard.
There were many rocks in the dirt,
Each of them was of yurt size.

Keyaz waved the plane tree,
Gathered up all his strength,
Pounded it at Krichorao.
Hero Krichorao had plenty of experience in the battlefield,
He did not feel surprised.
He adjusted his position quickly,
Dodged nimbly the attack of the plane tree.

The heavy plane tree pounded on the ground,
The ground sank immediately.
The earth cracked,
Groundwater gushed out,
Flowed on the ground.

Branches of the plane tree were broken,
The root of the tree fell and broke into several pieces,
Mixed with dirt and rocks,
Splashed away.

Giant Keyaz failed and started again,
He pulled up another tree and pounded at Krichorao too.
God blessed lion Krichorao,
He adjusted himself and moved fast.

The plane tree pounded on the ground heavily,
Keyaz failed again.
The plane tree trunk was crushed into pieces,
There was even no piece of stick in Keyaz's hand.

Facing empty-handed Keyaz,
Krichorao launched a fierce attack.
He shouted loudly the name Manas,
Drove the protector over Keyaz's head away,
Fastest steed Surkoyun,
Showed all its skills,
Rolled its ears and galloped ahead.
Clouds of dust were kicked up,
It was like frog covered the sky.

Right at the moment,
In a blink of an eye,
Lion's offspring hero Krichorao,
Cut and poked for sixty times in a row.
Long spear and battle axe were used alternately,
Iron stick and shovel attacked in turn.
Hero Krichorao's attacks,
Made Keyaz impossible to open his eyes.

His spear knocked his chest protector noisily,
Battleaxe knocked on the helmet.
Iron weapons knocked each other fiercely,
Flames splashed with red light.
The earth could not bear their weight,
It could not help shaking.

Damned Keyaz,
Could not bear the humiliation,
He was quivering with anger!
His black face and blue eyes,
Turned darker,

Angry flames splashed out of his eyes!

Koykuron steed under Keyaz,
Galloped its hooves forward fast.
It was in its prime time,
Its butt was round and full.
Molar teeth exposed were four-finger-wide,
The white crescent spot on its forehead,
Was its shining amulet.
Its crotches were like stretched valley,
Its butt pointed like bald mountain.
Keyaz was not satisfied,
With the fine steed under him.

Arrogant Keyaz,
Could not help complaining:
"It is a pity my steed now is not Totoru,
I cannot display my power!
I gave my steed to my wife,
She cheated me with lies.
If I ride on Totoru steed,
I must make this shameless slave cry.
I will cast him in the iron net,
Drag him back to Ayinla and kill him!"

Keyaz carried battle axe with him,
The back of the axe were two Arshen[1] thick,
The surface of the axe was three Arshen wide.
Keyaz drew the axe back and fiddled with it,
Too many thoughts turned over in his mind:
"I should get rid of him soon,
Cut this slave in two,
I must stop them,
Before they drive the livestock and climb over the ridge.

1 Arshen: It is the long measure ancient Kirgiz use. One Arshen equals 72centimeters.

"When I see Ayichulek and Seytek,
Cut their heads off together.
Then rush to Talas directly,
Hooked Kanikai and Bakay,
On their eyelids and hung them up high.

"Kanchorao indulges in a life of pleasure,
He cares nothing about what happens around.
I will go and ask him,
If he pretends to be confused,
I will break our friendship.

"Among Kirgiz people in Talas,
Those self-called heroes,
I will step them under my feet and take their clothes off.

"If I am kind to Talas people,
How can I make myself satisfied?
Ayichulek cheated me,
In the name of welcoming the daughter-in-law,
Go to Talas and collude with them behind me!

"She forced me to send Krichorao to herd horses,
She said she did not want him to appear in front her.
But she moved him secretly,
Cured him and made him healthy again!

"When she transferred into swan and went up to the skylight,
She talked wildly and is not satisfied with me.
She said she would go to others for help,
She said she would commit adultery,
What she said is true!

"The guy only deserves to drink yogurt,
He brings the disaster to the world.
I see the truth now,
Ayichulek and this slave,

They really collude,
How I can bear such a shame!

"If I let Talas people off,
Once their wings fully grow,
They must wipe us out,
God will descend a crowning calamity over my head.

"Kanchorao had expected what would happen,
He knew he must kill them,
So he acted like that.
But I pleaded for mercy for them that day,
Who knows I bury a seed of disaster,
To my death.
If their plots get successfully applied,
My Bagersh family must be wiped out completely.

"Seytek is Semtay's son,
I have doubted this for a long time,
The damned slaves deceived me,
Now their identity finally gets exposed.

"Ayichulek smiles happily during the day,
She was shining and charming.
She deals with me during the day,
Does she cast spells at night?
And goes to sleep with Krichorao?

"Ayichulek is an outstanding woman,
She is wise and full of tricks in her mind.
Now she finally throws the cover away,
Exposes her bad conduct of betraying her husband.
I know Ayichulek's evil attentions now,
No matter how Ayichulek acts,
Do not want to get away from my hands!"

Keyaz was laden with anxiety,

He forgot the time of his death.
He doubted Ayichulek's chastity,
Now he regarded Krichorao as the rival in love.
A thousand thoughts came to Keyaz's mind,
He thought Ayichulek was his wife,
Envy and shame made him resentful.

Scenes of their life in the past,
Appeared in his mind one after one,
His face turned black and he was filled with rage.
His fingers quivered,
Drooping beard was standing,
Even his moustache stuck up.

His hair and beard were all standing,
His body swelled up like a turtle.
Keyaz was burning with a frenzy of rage,
Swung the huge crescent axe in his hand,
Cut toward Krichorao fiercely.

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Was a hero of skilled equeatrianism,
He was full of strength,
He was agile and swift.
He did not let the crescent axe fall on his head,
So he hit Keyaz's elbow fiercely.

Who could bear the blow from Krichorao?
Damned Keyaz at the moment,
The crescent axe in his hand disappeared.

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Held the spear in the hand tight.
Aimed at mountain-size Keyaz's kidney,
Poked his spear out fiercely.

Keyaz once made friend with fairies,

They helped him store his life in female argali belly.
He found himself skin-color steel plates,
Wrapped his body with six layers of steel plates.
The thickness of the steel plates on him,
Were two six-span long.

Krichorao's sharp spear,
Would not turn even it pierced through rocks,
But it rebounded from Keyaz's body.

Keyaz did not care,
But he launched attacks to Krichorao continually.
He had lost his manner of a hero and got angry,
He turned round and grabbed Krichorao's clothes edge.

At the moment,
Hero Krichorao threw the weapon in the hand out.
He grabbed Keyaz's collar,
He was going to drag the rival off the horse and beat him.

Their iron stirrups and spurs on the boots,
Clanged together loudly.
Their feet knocked horse bellies ceaselessly,
Rushed up to the hill out of breath,
Turned their horses round and rushed to the bottom of the valley.
Two heroes, back and forth, left and right,
They dragged each other.

Surkoyun and Koykuron steed,
Were father and son.
Krichorao watched carefully,
About Koykuron's situation from Talas.

It was a find steed in the battlefield,
It fitted Seytek the best.
Koykuron steed,
Was in its prime time.

Its back was like argali,
Its chest was like hunting dog,
Its anklebones were strong and hooves made loud noise.
It was more energetic when it went upward,
It galloped like on the plain when it went downward.
Its steps were steady on hill slope,
It never got exhausted no matter how far it went.

Screen-like lung was like with a bronze wing,
Mane was short and tail was soft,
Forehead hair was curly,
It was beautiful like girl's fringe.
Krichorao liked it more and more,
He calculated he must send Koykuron,
To Seytek.

Krichorao and giant Keyaz,
Fought two days and two nights,
They remained deadlocked.
Battle gowns were torn into strips,
None of the buttons were still on.

Furious Keyaz,
Fought from strength to strength.
He jumped off Koykuron suddenly,
And grabbed tiger Krichorao's collar.
Lion Krihcorao turned round immediately,
Grabbed Keyaz's belt tight.
Keyaz calculated in the mind,
He would pull and lift Krichorao,
Like throwing out a round-top leather hat,
Threw him far way easily.

Keyaz grabbed Krichorao angrily,
Did not let his feet touch the ground,
Lifted him up high,

Threw him fiercely down,
From skylight-high stiff,
Then Keyaz stood there proudly.

Hero Krichorao was incomparable,
He was proficient in all skills.
His shoulders and back never touched the ground,
He never knew what was the felling of staining with dirt.
Although he was thrown off the cliff,
He landed on his feet steadily.
He rushed up to the blue cliff,
Marched toward Keyaz again.

Ayichulek and Seytek,
Saw Krichorao being thrown off the cliff in distance,
They felt sorry for him and cried for him.
When they saw Krichorao coming again,
They could not help jumping for joy.

Keyaz saw Krichorao not hurt at all,
He felt worried for what would happen:
"The slave is Almanbet's son,
He is cunning and full of evil tricks.
Even if he has super power,
I must descend disaster over his head.
No matter how much time the Death delays,
He must be the next one to die."

Keyaz bit his lip hard,
Held Krichorao by his waist suddenly,
But no matter how hard he tried,
He could not lift Krichorao up.
His own weight and the energy he used,
Made half of him stuck in the dirt.
He could not make Krichorao's feet leave the ground,
In stead, his arms were numb,
He had no energy left.

If they continued to wrestle,
He would fall into difficult situation.
"It will be better to fight on the horseback!"
Keyaz plotted new tricks in his mind.

He said to Krichorao,
Expressed his intentions:
"We fought on horseback for two days,
And fought on foot for one day and one night,
It has been three days.
Krichorao, if you agree,
Let mount our steed again,
Continue to fight on horseback.
If I cannot poke you off,
How can Keyaz's fame spread in the world?"

Krichorao calculated after he heard it:
"Your days as a Khan is going to end,
You cannot act like overlords as before.
Your end is coming,
You will be swallowed by the earth.
I will let you choose freely before you die,
It is no use no matter how hard you struggle,
I must take your life away!"

Hero Krichorao was smart and brave,
He agreed on Keyaz's request.
Keyaz saw the rival agreed on him,
He made a stupid estimation in his mind:
"He agrees on everything I said,
It looks like he has no idea anymore."

Keyaz rode on Koykuron's back aggressively,
Like surging flood,
Tried to overwhelm Krichorao's prestige.
Two span long spear,

Was swinging in his hand.
His grey spear was broken under Krichorao's hand,
Where was this spear in his hand from?

When Toltoy was alive,
He found the way to climb over Yuoyirma.
He invaded Russian more than ten times,
The long spear was a trophy from then.
Toltoy hid the spear,
In Kokoyrok peak.
Keyaz knew this secret,
He took the spear out on the way coming.

The shame from his wife Ayichulek,
Made him jealous and sad.
He rushed to Krichorao again,
Started a new round of attack.
Humiliation he suffered for years,
He tried to clear it up today.

Keyaz did not give Krichorao a chance to fight back,
He poked his spear out continuously.
Seeing Krichorao falling into dangerous situation,
Moon-like sister-in-law Ayichulek,
Had tears ran out of his eyes.

Keyaz attacked fiercely,
He did not give steed Sur any chance.
He did not let Krichorao,
Take his advantage like before.
He did not give Krichorao a chance to turn round,
But gave him unbearable blow.

"Although the beast's life is in my hand,
He wants me to come to an end together with him."
Krichorao prayed to Ayikoler Manas' spirit,
Prayed to late Khans' spirits,

Prayed for helping him get rid of the difficult situation.

Keyaz was filled with hatred,
He was full of energy.
He used different skills,
Proudly and aggressively.

Right at the moment,
Rainbow rose up,
From rolling mountains of Talas.
Ayikoelr Manas headed numerous late heroes,
Came to Krichorao.

Krichorao pointed at Keyaz angrily,
Asked him harshly:
"Bloodsucking Keyaz,
Why do you hate me so?
You fight me so fiercely,
Do not you think you can defeat me?
Look, late ancestors have all come,
Where can you run about?

"Look, Ayikoler lion Manas leads in the front,
Sage giant Koshaoyi follows tight,
Almanbet and Chuwak come shoulder to shoulder,
Hero Sirak heads forty warriors,
They all come.
You should listen to me and do not go against me,
Otherwise, you will be crushed under their steps."

Fearless hero Keyaz did not listen to the persuasion,
And he ridiculed Krichorao:
"You are a guy only drink yogurt,
Cut out your deceptive crafts!
Your Manas,
Do not say he can help you now,
Even his only son Semtay was killed,

He did not appear and help him.

"So you master such magic,
Try to save your life at the dead end.
You always use such tricks,
Deceive people and cover up the story.

"If their spirits really come today,
I will let your father see through his eyes,
How I knock you off on the ground.
If there are people alive among them,
I will deal with them too!"

Keyaz shouted crazily,
His face was ugly like a dirty soap.
He opened his bloody mouth and showed his teeth,
It seems he was going to swallow the mountains.
He was arrogant in front of Krichorao,
He did not put Krichorao in his eyes.
He lifted the axe and cut to the rival's face,
He was anxious to cut Krichorao down.

Right at the crucial moment,
Hero Sirak whipped his Tilkzil steed and helped,
He said with his beard swung:
"Krichorao, what are you doing?
Do you consider crow-like Keyaz,
As your royal companion?
You are Sultan[1]'s offspring,
I come specially to give you directions.
You should poke jackstraw-like Keyaz,
Off his horseback immediately!

"Have you already forgotten,
On sacred Talas grave,

1 Sultan: It is the name of a country and Khan. It is also transferred as Sudan or Sultang.

Your sultan father Almanbet,
Fondled your shoulder with his hand.
Do you know, my son,
Your shoulder never touches the ground after then.

"Kirgiz in Talas are suffering,
They aspire earnestly for your coming.
Forty-day limitation is going to end,
My kid, put it in your mind.
My sister-in-law Kanikai and Bakay Khan,
Look forward to your returning to hometown anxiously."

Krichorao was on the horseback,
He was like entering in the dream.
He turned round and looked in the dream,
He did not see uncle Sirak.
He only heard the voice but did not see the person,
Hero Krichorao and damned Keyaz,
Both heard clearly the astonishing remarks.
Keyaz lifted the axe and his hands quivered,
He could not cut the axe onto the rival.

Surkoyun was Koykuron's father,
Went through untold hardships,
Koykuron saw its father's situation,
It regretted very much:
" My home is in Talas too,
I do not know it at all,
So I work myself to the bone for Keyaz.
If my father Surkoyun fall down,
If Sultan Kris cannot resist,
Whole Krigiz will curse me,
I will feel too ashamed to live in the world!"

When Koykuron felt regret,
Keyaz came back to his sanity.
Mountain-size Keyaz shouted:

"Hey, slave with failed arm,
I should not have pleaded mercy for you in the past,
I deserve what I get today!

"You all alive and once alive,
Now gather here unexpectedly.
I will fight bravely,
Do not let you escape safely!

"Once I killed Semtay,
Took his wife as my trophy.
I made you become disabled with no scapula gristles,
Let you suffer and admit your misfortune.

"I make Bakay lonely and helpless,
Descend disaster over his head,
I let Kanchorao arrange him to herd camels,
Do not give him a mount,
Make him hunchbacked all the time.

"I make Kanikai fall in difficult,
I let Kanchorao arrange her to herd calves,
Passers-by can whip her casually.
Do not offer her any bedding stuff,
She only can use poor felt when she sleeps.

"You never treat Kanchorao as an equal,
I let him sit on the throne of Khan.

"Numerous once became highly conceited,
Cried and begged for my mercy.

"I sent people to Talas,
Captured beautiful girls and married young women.

"Where was Ayikoler Manas then?
Why did not he show up and stop me?

They feared of my power,
None of them dare come and help you.

"It seems I am too kind,
I will not be so kind from now on.

"All rest Talas Krigiz people,
I will divide them to Khitan, Russian and Kangayi!
Do not allow your girls to have husbands,
Do not allow your young men to have wives,
Do not allow you to have any baby,
Let you extinct in the world!

"I will march straight in Talas,
To the face of Manas' spirit,
Gather Onuozdu's ten sons' offspring,
And their families together.
Order my soldiers to kill them,
Let their blood run into Tottikol lake.
If the blood does not overflow the lake,
I will not retreat my troops.

"Then I will take Kanchorao and move,
Step on the journey to Jedigair.

"If I cannot fulfill what I say,
I am unworthy of Keyaz's fame!
Arm-failed slave, because of you,
Whole Krigiz will fall in despair!

"Ayichulek has transferred into a bird,
I will cut her long plait.
I will twist Ayichulek's neck off.
Let Seytek's blood drain,
I will mix his heart blood,
With my horse milk and drink it."
Keyaz talked wildly and arrogantly,

He made enough evil remarks.

Hearing what Keyaz said carefully,
Krichorao replied angrily:
"Our forefathers teach us:
'People should not hope others die,
But should consider our own life.'
Do not think what you said,
Will come true.

"You will kill,
All Onuozdu's offspring.
You are daydreaming!

"You think people are all like Kanchorao,
Bow and betray master for the sake of glory,
You colluded with such an unrighteous man.

"You persist in arbitrarily,
You do not know the immensity of heaven and earth, Keyaz!
You want to swallow the universe,
Your arrogance comes to a climax, Keyaz!
The six parts of your body shake separately,
You lead a fast life, Keyaz!
You take Ayichulek as your trophy,
You daydream proudly, Keyaz.
Actually it is the witch whom you have,
How can you sully Ayichulek, Keyaz!

"I witnessed my sister-in-law's wisdom,
She had given birth to the lion's posthumous child.
In order to avenge his father,
In order to descend crowning calamity to you,
Lion's son Seytek,
Has mounted and stepped on the expedition.

"You are so arrogant and talk wildly,

Ancestors with noble spirits,
In order to make you change your mind,
So they make themselves presence.

"Your grandfather Bagersh is a hero,
He was my father Manas' close friend.
Your father is Toltoy,
He is a courageous man,
Servant Chinkogeo cheated him,
So he lost his life.

"Mountain-size Keyaz,
Kanchorao cheated me again,
You two plundered Talas.
As long as you change your mind,
We can forgive you.

"Good or evil luck in the world,
We both cannot escape,
Let us go ahead,
Go to sage uncle Bakay directly.
Tell him our purpose.
As long as he knows you regret,
He will forgive you!

"He will let you still be the master of your master,
You can continue administering your people.
As long as you change your mind,
Bad luck will not attack you.

"Kanchorao and Chachykai,
Deliberately plan and tempt you.
You fell for their trap,
Because you did not consider the cause and the result.
We Kirgiz people fight and kill each other,
It will become a joke in the world.
We should consider carefully about,

What we will do.

"If you repent and start anew,
It is not ashamed.
Do not mention you, a junior,
Even famous Kunwuerbayi,
Once lowered his head and admitted his guilt to uncle Bakay.

"Kairimubayi headed Kazakh people,
Invited giant Kerzilwuyouk from Jafan,
Invited Niskara's son,
One-eyed giant Mardhan who rode on a black rhino,
From Karamark,
They took them as their support.
Uncle Bakay protected Arashi people,
Even mice cannot steal their bran.
Do not fear at all when facing strong enemies,
Defeat enemies' spirit bravely.

"You persecute us in the past,
As long as you regret sincerely,
We make sure you will be safe.
If you want to regret,
Please whip your Totoru steed,
Go back home with me.
Go to sacred Talas together,
Go to dear Kankoler,
Go to respected uncles,
Plead for the forgiveness and remove anger.
Aunt Kanikai is a broad-minded kind mother,
Also plead for her forgiveness and remove anger.

"I will plead mercy for Kanchorao and Chachykai,
We can let them escape the punishment.
We should go to Ayikoler's grave,
Confess and apologize and hold a ceremony.
Plead late lions,

To cool their anger down."

Krichorao persuaded sincerely,
Damned Keyaz did not appreciate it at all,
He jumped up like a camel with full of scabies:
"That's enough, Krichorao, do not say more.
Krichorao, you must know,
I will not change my mind.
You tell different lies,
You just want to cheat me.
No matter how you plead,
You cannot escape from my hand safely!

"You only play magics,
You mentioned Ayikoler Manas, Almanbet,
Chuwak, Sirak all come and save you,
How do you prove what you said is true.

"All you who are alive now,
I will wipe you all out.
You are a cunning and dirty servant,
Do not imagine you can cheat me with sweet words!"

Keyaz grabbed the iron-post spear in the hand tight,
Turned it inward and got it close to his body.
He swung the leather whip in the hand,
Whipped Koykuron's leg and galloped forward.

The ferocious beast,
Had fierce looking and there was death in the air,
People dare not look at his vicious looking.

He became crazier and crazier,
Boundless mist rose up behind him.
His roar shattered rocks around him,
Also made people's heads burst open.
Albars steel spear point,

Shined like burning flames.
Unrepentant Keyaz,

Seeing Keyaz's imposing manner,
Lion Krichorao looked more majestic.
He pressed Surkoyun steed tight with his legs,
Marched ahead confidently.
He shouted the name Manas loudly,
Held the spear tight and pressed on toward Keyaz.

Keyaz poked his steel spear out at the moment,
The spear could make the earth and mountains shake.
He thought once Krichorao touched the spear point,
Krichorao must fall down immediately.

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Was not an ordinary person,
At the moment when the spear point was getting him,
He gave a sudden attack toward Keyaz's elbow,
He warded off the coming spear successfully.
He poked his long spear out immediately,
It hit on shameless Keyaz's ribs.
Unfortunately the spear point did not pierce the beast's skin,
It rebounded like it knocked on a rock.

Keyaz should be punished,
He adjusted his spear again.
He wanted to knock black mane wolf,
Hero Krichorao off.

His eyes stared widely,
The edge of his clothes waved with wind.
He used full of his strength,
Poked toward the leopard hero.

The coming sharp spear point,

Knocked Krichorao's hard body.
The long spear broke in twelve pieces,
The broken pieces flew in the sky.

Keyaz threw the broken spear away,
Grabbed the huge axe in the hand,
Galloped Koykuron ahead.
Like a male camel in heat,
Lowered his body and launched another attack.

Distinguished hero Krichorao,
Reacted calmly and gained energy secretly,
Arrogant warriors like Keyaz,
He had killed numerous of them.

He spun the spear and got it close to his body,
Aimed at Keyaz's vital part.

Koykuron was from Talas,
Opened its eyes round and wide like a camel.
Gnashed its teeth like male argali,
It pranced left and right.
The respected steed kept a distance deliberately,
It did not let Keyaz have chance to attack again.

When the chance was there,
How Krichorao could miss it.
He aimed at Keyaz's right armpit,
Gave a hard poke.
The spear knocked on his armpit,
Damned Keyaz's axe fell out of his hand.
But the spear point still did not pierce through,
Keyaz's body was as hard as a rock.

Krichorao lowered his body,
Grabbed Keyaz's waving clothes edge quickly.
Pressed it tight under his saddle,

Then whipped and galloped his steed ahead right away.

Master Krichorao dragged giant Keyaz,
His mount Surkoyun was like dragging a mountain.
Damned mad dog Keyaz,
No matter how hard he struggled,
He could not stand up at all.

Sharp stones scratched his body when they passed Gobi Desert,
Thorns scratched his face when they passed the wilderness.
His body rolled when they went up the hill,
His body rolled when they went down the hill,
He was dragged to the crowd from far distance.
Krichorao let his sister-in-law and nephew,
And let people watched it feel proud.

Satikai and Alkai saw this,
They asked Kutubayi:
"Who is he that is dragged on the ground like a lamb?
Who is he that dragged on the ground like a bull?"

Kutubayi stood there and watched ahead,
Replied to Alkai and Satikai:
"The man is dragged like a bait[1],
He is your Keyaz,
The man drags him is our leopard Kris.
It is your Keyaz whose skin is split and flesh break forth,
It is our leopard who is punishing him.

"Alkai and Satikai,
Do you have more questions?
If you are smart enough,
You can expect the result.

1. Bait: When they train the eagle, a long rope has fox skin or similar stuff tied on the other end, and they drag the rope and lure the eagle to dive and hunt.

"Alkai and Satikai,
The world is always changing,
The world is turning upside down now,
What do you want to say now?

"When Keyaz invaded Talas in the past,
Alkai,
You walked on air then,
Satikai,
You became delirious with joy.

"People escorted with guards from Talas,
Will all be under your administration,
In the long days,
You make a show of authority,
Now you still act on your own will!

"You make young married women wash dishes,
You make girls fetch water,
You make young men cut firewood and light the fire,
They need pack for you when you move,
You make numerous people's life miserable.

"Even in extremely cold winter,
You let them cut firewood in snow,
Make sure you can light the fire at home and warm yourself.
You commit all sorts of crimes,
You are more ferocious,
To Kirgiz people from Talas.

"Please consider carefully from now on,
How can you live your future life?
I will apply from Brother Krichorao,
Ask to put you two under my administration.

"How you forced people in the past,
I will repeat exactly on you,

You should work yourself to be the bone for me.
If I cannot do what I promise,
Let Kutubayi's name go to hell!

"If you are real men,
You should go and fight now,
Go and rescue your Keyaz,
Take him out of danger!
If you are giant warriors,
You should go and knock Krichorao down!"

When Kutubayi was talking,
Krichorao just went back to the mountain,
Now appeared in low ridge.
In rocky hilly area,
Krichorao led Koykuron,
Koykuron dragged Keyaz.
Keyaz's body was dragged on rocks,
Injured all over the body, black and blue.
His flesh was left on rocks,
Only his bones shook.
Ribs on the chest bulged,
Each bone could be counted,
Thin tendons were like scattered yarn.
His skeleton was dragged to grassland,
Pressed on the grass.

It was not long,
Before the damned guy,
Shouted suddenly,
The bloody body stood up quickly.
With the roar of shattering rocks,
Rushed to Krichorao again.

Krichorao jumped off his saddle,
Grabbed his arm immediately.
With full of his energy,

Revolved very fast for several rounds.
Then toward the cliff,
Threw the body mercilessly.

Rocks on the cliff had been weathered,
Exposed under sun for years,
Rain made the rocks cracked.
The rock collapsed,
Keyaz's bones had fell apart.

In the time of less than one meal,
Keyaz gathered his parted bones together again.
He raised his head and coughed,
Made shaky strides toward Krichorao.
God protected Krichorao,
He felt surprised about what happened in front of him.

Krichorao was not weary of the fight,
He lifted Keyaz again.
With full of his strength,
Rotated Keyaz's body fast,
Then threw it to the cliff mercilessly.
Rocks were smashed immediately,
Turned into powder and flew in the sky.

Seytek and Ayichulek,
Galloped their steeds to Krichorao.
Ayichulek smiled kindly,
Her apple-like cheeks were pink:
"Ah, cute brother Krichorao,
You are the hero of Krigiz of white felt hat,
You are Kirgiz people's unshakable support.

"You endured hardships and exhausted your mount,
Killed the black female argali.
You cut the argali belly open,
Got the sparrows in its belly,

Where do you put those sparrows?
Why do you make yourself so frustrated?
Why do you waste energy on this mad dog?"

Krichorao had forgotten it,
Keyaz's life was stored in sparrows.

Krichorao remembered that wood box,
He took it out and twisted those five sparrows' heads off.
Two sparrows took the chance and fled,
When they passed over Totoru steed's head,
Went into the steed's both nostrils separately.

Totoru steed neighed loudly,
Regardless of the chain, dug the ground with its hooves.
Keyaz lay on the ground with his bones falling apart,
He stood up immediately,
Started to fight agasint Krichorao again.

Look, damned Keyaz,
Was thrown onto rocks and smashed,
When he heard Totoru neighed,
His body became excellent without damage instantly.
Even his battle gown went back to its original shape.
He approached Krichorao,
Reached his hand and grabbed Krichorao's collar.
Totoru steed kicked back continually,
Tried to free itself from the chain.
Keyaz was encouraged very much,
His muscles bulged.

Shackled Totoru steed,
Shook the chain on its leg off.
The damned animal,
Galloped away with its rein,
Directly to Keyaz.
Mountain-size Keyaz,

Got courage and power back immediately.

Krichorao saw it,
Said to Seytek:
"Koykuron comes from Talas,
It is a steed should belong to you.
Seytek,
You and Koykuron,
You cannot fight this dog face to face!
When you were a little boy,
You care much about me, your uncle.
For the sake of my safety,
Once you called Keyaz father."

Krichorao whipped Surkoyun steed,
Rushed to Keyaz.
Huge Keyaz,
Shouted to Krichorao:
"Let us begin a final fight,
Please let me attack first.
If one of us is poked off the horse by the other one,
There will be no regret to die."

Krichorao agreed to let him attack first,
And meet his desire before he died.
Keyaz brace himself up,
Gave a fierce poke to the leopard hero.
Krichorao was like big Obol mountain,
Stood steadfastly, safe and sound.
The spear Keyaz poked,
Broke in forty six pieces and flew in the air.

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Whipped the grey steed and galloped ahead,
Keyaz felt scared as he saw it,
He thought he entered a dead-end.

Krichorao cherished the chance in his turn,
Gave Keyaz a severe poke.
Portentous Keyaz,
Like a huge poplar tree shook,
With a big noise,
Mountain-size Keyaz fell on the ground.

Got a hit from hero Krichorao,
Who could bear it?
Because of the protection of the sparrows,
Keyaz stood up again.
Angry Krichorao,
Picked Keyaz on his spear point,
"I will let you die once and for all!"
Threw him to the sharp rocks.

The rocks were smashed and splashed,
The mountain collapsed right away,
The earth shook,
Dirt was dyed red with Keyaz's blood.

Damned Totoru steed,
Waved its tail and mane,
Stretched its body,
Neighed loudly.
It was like a reflection of consciousness,
Smashed Keyaz,
His body recovered to the original one.
Brave Krichorao,
Made him leave the world for six times.
But he returned to life after death for six times,
He came back into Krihcorao's sight.

Krichorao knew the secret in it,
He cut Totoru's mane and tail off.
He had no battle gown at this time,
But Keyaz came back to life again.

Krichorao had no choice,
But to kill Totoru steed.
Totoru's blood ran like river,
Keyaz fell on the ground immediately.

Krichorao cut his head off,
Tied it behind Koykuron's saddle and left.
The winner sent news,
Seven Khans in Jetisu,
Asked them to come and gather in three days.

Jedigair people got the notice,
Rushed day and night and all came in three days.

Kutubayi's son Kalado,
Was elected to be Khan,
He replaced Keyaz.
Kalado was as strong as a hill,
He sat on the throne and became the master.

Krichorao, Seytek and Ayichulek,
Packed and were ready to set out.
They would return to their hometown Kankoler,
Meet Arashi people of white felt hat,
And visit respected Kanikai and sage Bakay.

Let us put this aside,
Sing from lion Seytek went back to Talas,
And mounted the throne.

Seytek Mounted the Throne

Young Seytek Returned to Talas

When the moon hung in the sky,
Ayichulek, Krichorao and Seytek,
Set out at night from Jetisu,
Together with Kutubayi,
They had promised Kermanbayi,
They carried a letter wrote to him.

Heroes went fast and hurried toward Talas,
Whipped their horses and crossed plains.
The heroes were overjoyed,
Breathed the fresh air to their content,
They felt comfortable and happy.

The heroes whipped their steeds,
Climbed up Timirtao mountain,
Came to the edge of Talasha.
Lifted the telescope,
Watched Kankoler prairie.
They pointed to Seytek,
All places they could see.

The heroes could not help bursting into tears,
Poured out how they missed the hometown.
They galloped their steeds to the foot of the mountain,
In order to worship ancestors' graves,
They whipped and galloped forward.

When they arrived at Saribeliso,
They found a white hunting dog crouched beside the road,

It was skinny and had no energy to move.
Krichorao recognized the hunting dog,
He jumped off the steed immediately.
Ayichulek dismounted and came too.
They held the dog up and watched its head,
Pus came out of the dog's eyes,
Its teeth exposed,
The point of its nose knocked on the ground.
The dog fell forward on to the ground,
And had no energy to raise its head or stand up.

The dog missed Semtay too much,
It had waited for twelve years.
It did not see Semtay coming,
So it had full of grief and complaints.
It did not shed its old hair at all,
It had no mood to hunt marmots and wolverines.
It was intelligent although it was only an animal,
It suffered a lot from heart torture.

Ayichulek came to the hunting dog,
Fondled it and did not feel disgusted at all.
The collar that had been taken off its neck,
She brought it with her this time,
She put it back to its neck today.

"Cute little thing, your new master is here,
Do you have any regret now?"
Ayichulek talked to the hunting dog.
Ebaifu medicine was effective,
It could make people passed out restore the feeling,
It could make people short of breath recover soon.
Ingenious Ayichulek,
Gave the white dog two pills.
The white dog stretched its neck immediately,
Opened its eyes slowly,
It saw vaguely,

Ayichulek's anxious expression.
It woofed in a low voice to Ayichulek,
Shook its head and tail to please her.
When it found Krichorao was there too
It jumped up,
Embraced him tight like a person.
It burst into tears,
Bean-size tears dropped ceaselessly,
Upper teeth knocked lower teeth.
It was too excited to calm down,
It barked as loudly as thunders.
Jackals and wolves in distance,
Heard the white dog's barking,
Were all scared to death.

Ayichulek turned round at the moment,
Said to Seytek:
"The white hunting dog in front of you now,
Your father tamed and trained it in person.
Now you have seen,
Talas prairie today,
People and livestock are all suffering."

Seytek walked up slowly,
Held the hunting dog his father left in his arms.
Held the dog's neck gently,
Fondled its hair and expressed his love.
It had not shed its hair for years,
But it shed completely at the moment.

The white dog gave a look to Seytek,
It thought Semtay came back to it.
It reached its neck and barked loudly,
It echoed in rolling mountains.
Talasha mountains were shocked about the barking,
Huge rocks fell off the mountains.
Between Seytek's legs,

The white dog went back and forth twice.
It lay down and rolled to the right,
Then it rolled to the left.
It stood up in high spirit,
Barked happily and rushed to the mountain.

God, do not let this happen again,
In order to please its master,
The white dog rushed ahead excitedly.
On the high slope of the wide valley,
It was where male argali rested.
In a blink of an eye,
The white dog got by the side of male argali.
It marched toward male argali group fiercely,
It separated five argali out of the group,
It drove them to where Seytek ambushed.
Right before they were going into the shooting range,
The white dog rushed up and bit one argali belly open.
Krichorao cried out immediately:"It's ok, buddy!"
Kind-hearted Krichorao,
Stopped the excited hunting dog.
The collar was back on its neck again,
Three mastered fondled it gently,
The white hunting dog frisked excitedly,
Its appetite had increased greatly,
It resorted its strong built.
The male argali the white dog bit injured,
Hero Krichorao dealt with it with his knife.
Argali meat is as delicious as sheep meat.
They let their appetite go,
They ate a lot unknowingly.

They mounted and continued to go forward,
Till the sun was going to set,
They arrived at Chatikal river.
They tasted the clear water of hometown,
Let their steed taste grass in Kankoler,

They stayed outside for the night.

There was a strange noise cam at midnight:
It was like the sound of snoring sometime,
It was like the sound of pouring water the other time,
Mixed with panting,
They did not know what was that,
They did not know where the sound came from?

The sky brightened,
Seytek woke up,
He yearned for his hometown in his heart,
He missed Kirgiz people of white felt hat.
He strolled onto a highland and watched,
Suddenly he found an animal crouched and groaned,
It was like a camel at first sight.
He walked up and watched carefully:
The camel had become skinny with only bones,
It became blind with leukoma in its eyes.
Two humps shriveled and drooped,
Its four legs were thin and long,
It was as thin as a piece of paper.

Seytek watched the camel carefully,
He recalled his mother's words:
"My kid, your father's white female camel,
Will welcome you on your way."
Was this camel female or male?
Seytek observed carefully again,
Sure enough it was the female camel,
It probably was his father's white female camel.
Damned slave Kanchorao,
Even did not let an animal off.

Seytek was filled with rage,
He was anxious to swallow him!
The smart and cute white female camel,

Since Ayichulek let it go,
It was always in Kaypuchy basin,
It always wandered in the desert.
No matter where it was,
It missed Chulek even in its dreams.
It dreamed of Chulek three days in a row,
So the white camel set out on the journey,
Came to the boundless Gobi Desert,
And lost it way.

Ninety days had passed,
It still could not find its way out,
On the morning two days ago,
In order to go to Tortikol,
The white camel passed this place.
It crouched to rest but it could not stand up again,
Its belly ached in hunger.
Its gullet made big noise,
Its trachea made big noise too.
Its throat had hoarse voice,
The white camel crouched there weakly.

Seytek stared at the white camel,
He could not distinguish it immediately,
He had no heart to abandon it either.
Krichorao had no patience to wait,
Followed and came to the camel.
The white camel smelled Krichorao,
It could not help crying.
When hearing the white female camel's crying,
Ayichulek came immediately.
She took out magical Maidaiti medicine,
Gave the white camel five pills.

The white camel felt bright in front of its eyes,
It saw Ayichulek clearly,
It could not help crying.

The white camel wanted to stand up,
But its drooped humps could not erect.
Its hind legs got up finally,
But its fore legs could not bear it,
It fell on the ground again.

Hero Krichorao and Seytek,
Picked Buliduirgun[1] herbs,
Gave it to the white female camel as food.
The white camel know it clearly:
Ayichulek and Krichorao had come.
For Seytek,
The white camel opened its eyes wide and stared,
It did not know yet who he was.

But the camel could not talk,
It could not ask either.
The female camel fixed its eyes on Seytek,
Krichorao knew what it wanted to say,
Knew the camel wanted to know who Seytek was.
"My cute white female camel,
Since I parted with you,
Since you left Talas people,
Wander in other places,
It has been twelve years.

"She is Ayichulek,
I am Krichorao,
You once carried silver coins for me.
You suffered from hardships.
Crouch on the ground and have no energy to stand up.
Look, Semtay's son Seytek,
He has grown into a strong young man,
We will hold Seytek's flag,
Returned to Talas home."

1 Buliduirgun: It is the name of one herb.

Once carried virtuous mother Kanikai,
Always went to attend weddings,
Krichorao seemed to have understood Krichorao.
It dragged its weak body,
Moved to Seytek difficultly.

"Cute buddy, please do not move."
Seytek said and approached the white camel.

The white female camel stretched its neck,
Smelled Seytek first,
Then smelled Krichorao,
And gave a loving glance to Ayichulek.
Then it shook its neck ceaselessly,
Tasted the grass its master provided,
Swallowed Buliduirgun herbs.
During the time of cooking a meal,
The white camel had restored its energy.

The white dog walked to the female camel,
It barked happily.
The white dog and the white camel,
Pranced with joy,
The white dog jumped happily in the air,
The white camel raised its head high and sang.

Let us put this aside,
Take a look at Ajibayi's son Kermanbayi,
See what he was doing.

Since Krichorao left,
Ajibayi's son Kermanbayi,
Went from household to household.
One day finally,
He came to where Torsoldoy's son Kargalday lived.
He did not hide his purpose of coming,

Said directly to Kargalday:
"You should keep your mouth shut,
Keep an eye on palace guards,
Watch what they do.
Which people look forward to seeing Seytek?
Which people spread rumors?
And do not want Seytek to return to hometown?

"We have known clearly,
That hero Krichorao will come back,
And clear the old debt out.
Do not say white is black,
Do not say black is white either.
Do not make innocent people wronged,
Do not let evil people escape punishment."

Kermanbayi accounted for this,
He did not rest after he went back home.
He watched the stars,
Calculated the appointed date.
He mounted and set out alone,
Visited people in Jetitor,
Visited leaders of all Ayinlas.
Many people did not know why he came,
They felt curious.
Many people did not know what he wanted to say,
They were impatient and asked about.
All white-beard old men,
All wise elders,
All thought Kermanbayi would not come for nothing,
He must have important thing to say.

Setertayi replaced Kermanbayi,
Became a Began,
He came up and welcomed Kermanbayi:
"Welcome, brother Kermanbayi,

It was me who rode Torutai[1] steed in the past,
And sent you the message.
I do not think you will come for nothing,
You must have important tings to arrange.

"I told you a secret in the past:
Ayichulek might be pregnant.
When the whole tribe was going to flee,
You convinced them and let them stay.
Lion hero left hometown too long time,
Does he send you special news?
Let you smile and feel satisfied!

"I have heard about it,
People here wait more eagerly.
You called Torsoldoy's son Kargalday,
And told him face to face,
The news comes to me at the same time.
Brother, please do not hide from me,
I do not become bad.

"It has been four days,
I am too excited to go to sleep.
Hero Krichorao and Ayichulek,
I miss them all the time.
Aunt Kanikai and Bakay Khan are suffering now,
I have no heart to see it,
So I avoid going to the palace and saluting deliberately.
Kanchorao blames me for not visiting him,
He always abuses and blames me."

Kermanbayi now said:
"Talas people are under two Begans' administration,
You are one of the Begans.
You replaced Sari Khan,

1 Torutai: It is the name of horse. It means maroon colt.

You can go to the palace freely.
Cute young man, you are super smart,
You have figured out my purpose of coming.

"You always expect,
Wandering people return to hometown.
As long as Seytek comes safely,
Many things should be done then.
I have met Kris,
Kissed the back of hands and greeted each other.
He made a forty-day limit,
He said he must return till then.

"He said Kanchorao betrayed shamelessly,
Overturned black mane wolf Sem[①]'s throne.
They will revenge themselves and punish Kanchorao.
Inform all Kirgiz people of white felt hat,
Go to the grave,
This is the future Khan's order,
You must remember it clearly.
Setertayi, I will go on journey,
Go to Obolbek's home.
Please remember and prepare well,
You should be responsible for your people."

Kermanbayi was at Setertayi's home,
He ate meat of young mare of empty embryo to his content.
Horse milk wine mixed with honey,
He filled his leather bag full with it.
He mounted and continued to the journey,
So as not to miss the appointed time.

Kermanbayi did not go to other place,
He went directly to Obolbek's home,
Reined the horse at the door.

1 Sem: Semtay's nickname.

Before this time,
Setertayi had reminded Obolbek twice:
"Be clear-headed and do not be stupid!"
Kanchorao beat Obolbek cruely for six times,
He had been in black despair.

When he saw Kermanbayi,
Obolbek was overwhelmed with joy.
He thought about Kermanbayi came this time,
And must have a lot to say.
He asked his servants to set out immediately,
And drive a flock of mares of empty embryo,
Choose the fattest one and butcher it.
Spread large tablecloth and gave a banquet,
Let beautiful woman Suksur,
Pour the delicious horse milk wine.

Obolbek held the wine bowl with both of his hands,
Stood up and proposed a toast to the host.
Honorable guest Kermanbayi,
Drank bowls of horse milk wine happily.

Kermanbayi went to sleep after the meal,
The whole day,
He said nothing to Obolbek.

Obolbek in his own room,
Asked to invite Kermanbayi to come:
"Kermanbayi, you are my big brother,
I am your younger brother and I am behind you.
Eating with you on the same tablecloth,
Is my dream for years,
Today we finally meet.
What do you want to say to me?
What do you want me to do?
Please tell me directly.

"The reason I look so old now,
Is because I always mix with Kanchorao.
You have ignored us,
For about twelve years,
You appear suddenly now and you must have important things.

"Kermankai[1], if you believe me,
Please tell me directly and do not hide.
I will not be overcautious and indecisive,
I will not spare my declining age.
I suffered from Kanchorao's fierce beat for six times,
I was black and blue all over.
Too many hardships descended on me,
No one ever helped me.
I did not get your pity,
I lost my face in front of my people,
I lost my dignity in front of strangers.

"When Semtay was alive,
You were once a Began.
I was still a naughty boy then,
We lived as neighbors.
For years,
I think I do not do anything wrong,
But I am blamed and viciously slandered frequently.
I doubt in my mind for a long time,
It is hard to erase the hatred in my heart."

Obolbek poured his heart,
To Kermanbayi.
Kermanbayi watched carefully,
He concluded he had no evil thoughts.
So Kermanbayi said like this:
"Obolbek, I understand your difficulties,
Please be at ease of mind.

1 Kermankai: It is an honorific title for Kermanbayi.

Inform your people secretly,
On the first Thursday of this month,
Gather in front of the grave without hesitation.
The old and the young,
Men and women,
Do not leave any of them,
Otherwise you will be in trouble.

"If you go and welcome personally,
Hero Krichorao and Ayichulek,
And black mane wolf's son Seytek,
Will not abandon you.
This is my answer to you,
I do not hide anything from you.

"Wolves will eat our livestock,
Kanchorao will take our lives away.

"Our ancestors once reminded:
'Poor clothes can be changed into new one day,
Hungry people can eat to his content one day.
Suffering people,
Can turn over the evil world one day.'

"I have appointed with Setertayi,
On the fifteenth day of Bashiona month,
You people should all turn out.
Do not allow anyone that does not know the rule,
To go to Kanchorao and report him."
Kermanbayi gave a few simple remarks,
Expressed his idea clearly and went on his journey again.
Setertayi and Obolbek,
Informed their people separately.

People got the notice from their Began,
They knew hero Seytek and Krichorao,
And Ayichulek will come soon.

On the appointed day, no one stayed at home,
They all marched toward the appointed place.

They had no time to put bridles on their colts,
They let the lamb go and suck the breast.
They left cows and calves and did not care,
People on colts were faster than people on camels,
People on stallions caught up with people on mares.
There are people on white-spotted bulls,
People went on foot if they did not have mounts.
Everyone as long as he was alive,
The massive group of people swept over the earth.

Infants in cradles did not cry,
Mares left their colts behind and did not turn and look for,
People marched on the road.
Young men raced each other,
Laughter and cheers went ceaselessly.
Elders had long silver beard swung,
Strong drunk men were full of courage.
Old women hunched,
Did not worry about coughing and panting on the way.
Many women went on foot,
And carried cradles on their backs.
People marched forward in a hurry,
Left their tiredness behind.

No one said he was tired,
No one complained.
They only had Seytek in the heart,
Only had Krichorao in the heart,
Only had Ayichulek in the heart,
Only wanted to meet them as soon as possible,
Their hearts were anxious like flaming fire.
Even it was an ocean in the front,
Even it was burning charcoal under their feet,
Even enemies came and stopped them,

Even a rain of bullets were shot toward them,
No one would be feared,
No one would turn and return.

People shouted and horses neighed,
All people marched ahead bravely,
Clouds of dust rose up in the air.
Some of Kanchorao's soldiers,
Saw the massive crowd,
They came on their horses and asked:
"Where are you going?"

No one paid attention to them,
No one answered their questions.
They wanted to stop the crowd,
But they were weak in number and power.
The soldiers went back the way they came,
Reported the news to Kanchorao immediately.

"They are people under our administration,
We do not see strange people among them.
We asked where they are going,
No one pays attention to us,
No one answers our question.

"Bayis stick their fat bellies out,
Those naive young men are in proud manner,
Many people gallop their steed,
Rush back and forth in a hurry.
Old women shake their shriveled bodies,
Old men wave their unkempt beard,
Knights are arrogant,
Married ladies care nothing but march forward.

"Mothers carry cradles on their backs,
People with lung disease are regardless of their coughing.
These people come to look for trouble,

Even the death cannot make them return."
Soldiers all talked at once,
Kanchorao was astonished and did not say anything,
He gave such an order for a long time:

"You set out now,
Go and catch up with those people who will make trouble,
Try your best and catch some of them,
You must figure out what is happening,
Return immediately after you get through!"

Following Khan Kanchorao's order,
Another five people mounted and set out.
They galloped forward and rose dust behind,
They caught up with the group.

They were impatient and aggressive,
Asked the reason of their journey rudely,
The marching people did not respond,
The five guys rushed up together,
Caught one person close to the side of the rode.

They questioned that person rudely,
The person answered with justice:

"We are going to Manas' grave,
Worship his spirit.
Famine is spreading in Talas,
Our livestock suffer from hunger and starve to death.
We go especially to the grave,
Complain our misery to the lion.

"Years have passed,
Ayikoler Manas' grave,
Has no people to visit.
Worshiping need butchered livestock,
People all hate to sacrifice his own lambs.

"Because we do not visit and worship the grave,
We have no wheat naan to eat in winter,
We cannot smell fragrant milk wine in summer.
Now we go to the grave,
Visit Manas' grave,
Raise our hands and ask for his blessing."

Among the five thugs,
There was one called Jurgulik.
He developed a wild personality from his childhood,
He shouted rudely to the person just talked:
"Your Manas' rigid body,
Had been buried deep in the black dirt.
You go to visit and raise your hands to pray,
Can he give you cakes to make you full?
Can he let your wilderness full of grass?
Can he make your livestock have milk again?
We will bring you to see our Kanchorao Khan!"
Gave the person a whip on his head as he talked.

Right at the moment,
Kargalday came and stopped him:
"Oh, Jurgulik, Jurgulik!
You look like a flea on sheep,
Are you capable of fighting all of us?
You are unreasonable and you beat my people,
Now I will let you taste my whip!"
Kargalday whipped Jurgulik,
Hard and unceasingly.
Jurgulik's four companions were astonished,
They estimated Jurgulik would lose his life,
So they came hurriedly and helped him.
Berdaik and Kargalday,
Completely disregarded their safety,
Fought against Kanchorao's five thugs.
Berdaik was a strong and powerful man,

He had full of strength and act agilely,
Jurgulik and other four thugs,
Were knocked on the ground.
He led five captured horses,
Continued to go to the grave.

Five thugs walked back to the palace in a hurry,
Reported to Kanchorao breathlessly.
Chachykai stood by Kanchorao,
Served him with barbeque and strong tea flatteringly.
Five mad dogs talked at once about their experience,
Kanchorao listened and gave orders to his warriors:
"My sixty giants,
It is your time to show off.
You send two of you to go there,
Escort the person who resisted to me,
Break up all other people and return here."

Chachykai chipped in at the moment:
"Kanchorao, you should go in person,
Head sixty warriors to suppress them.
Among the crowd,
If you find Obolbek and Setertayi,
You should cut their heads off.

"These two servants,
Make trouble when they eat full.
It is slave Krichorao,
He came here in his disabled body.
I am sure he must talk some rubbish,
Say we torture the people and make them live miserably.
It is this slave fan up the flames of trouble,
Ask them to go to the grave and worship.
I guess those leaders of Ayinla,
Were under their control.

"'Knock with tiny hammer for one thousand times,

Not equal to blow heavily with a big hammer once.'
You are the big hammer and others are the tiny hammers,
My Khan, if you do not go in person,
Who else can suppress this riot.
You should be cautious about the hostile eyes on you,
You should distinguish hostile remarks clearly."

Hearing Chachykai's suggestion,
Kanchorao gave out the order,
Asked to saddle his Jaykal black spotted steed.
Every time Kanchorao got angry,
He must wear the long robe,
Must wear the yellow hood,
Walked out of the room angrily.

He carried the knife on his waist,
Hung the axe on the saddle,
Carried the firelock on his shoulder,
Grasped the sharp spear tight in his hand,
Mounted and chased the crowd.

The massive crowd,
Had approached the grave.
People cried and complained.
Old people wept bitterly,
Tears poured down everyone's face.
All people could not help crying sadly,
Prayed to Manas for the blessing.

Kanchorao and his men were approaching,
But they did not see people they expected to see.
People complained about old men being killed,
Worried about kids would be killed.
Sad cries were as loud as thunders,
It made the earth shake.
At distant Bozmoynok pass,
Four figures were partly hidden and partly visible.

Ayichulek and Seytek,
Hero Krichorao and Kutubayi,
Delayed by the side of the white female camel.
Seeing massive crowd had been gathered,
They were coming to the appointed place.

Kermanbayi and Kargalday,
Obolbek and Setertayi discussed:
"We will die,
Sooner or later.
We would rather stop Kanchorao bravely,
Than wait here.

"We try to explain with tactful words,
If he does not yield and continues to swagger,
We must let him have no good end.
If we crouch like cats,
He will not yield to us.
Otherwise if our people fall in disaster here,
We will fall for the charge of crime!"

When they were discussing,
The crowd shouted loudly suddenly,
They saw four people came hurriedly from the pass,
The crowd got excited.

Ayichulek passed the marsh land,
She went up onto a highland.
She calculated in her mind:
"My father-in-law's spirit in heaven,
And fellow people alive all watch me.
How I can sit on the horseback and meet them,
It breaks the rule and will let them down."
She dismounted immediately,
Hung the whip over her neck.
She carried the rein in the hand,
Walked to the fellow people.

Krichorao rode on Surkoyun steed,
Seytek rode on Koykuron steed,
Kutubayi rode on Jelibes steed,
When they got close to the crowd,
When people saw Seytek's face:
"Come and look, Semtay comes back!
Cherished white spotted steed,
Now becomes maroon steed,
Disappeared mysteriously and now coms back,
He is lion Semtay!"
People rushed about telling the news excitedly,
In a mad rush to welcome,
No one cared Kanchorao and his people,
They were at a loss what to do.

Suddenly in the graveyard,
A heavy gale blew.
The sound of bronze drum came out,
The clarion sounded.
Kirgiz people of white felt hat,
Felt astonished about God's show.

When the grave showed signs,
Ayichulek came in a hurry,
She took Kutubayi's hand and said:
"Kutubayi, go with me,
Let's go and protect those old people!
Those mindless bastards,
May persecute them!"
Moon-like Chulek and old hero Kutubayi,
Went along the reeds hurriedly.

No one noticed them,
No one saw them.
People wanted to meet Seytek in a hurry,
Circled the young hero tight.

Some people did not spare their mounts,
Butchered the mounts and held the ceremony for the spirits.

Kanchorao turned into fury as he saw it,
Ordered his sixty giants:
"Catch those four people for me,
Or let them dismount,
Lead their mounts,
And come to me on foot and bow to me!"

He shouted to them loudly:
"I make offerings to you for a long time,
Let you become sixty giants now.
My slaves, do not be ungrateful,
You must repay my kindness!
If you have two minds on me,
I will clear out with you!
I will kill you all,
Before I kill Krichorao and Seytek!
I, Kanchorao, am your Khan,
I am a man of my word!"

Sixty giants whipped and galloped their steeds,
Shouted the name Kanchorao loudly,
Beat Dobulbas drum,
Charged toward the crowd.

Seeing the coming people,
Krichorao said like this:
"Dear Seytek,
Sixty invaders are not too many.
I will go and meet Kanchorao,
I will negotiate with him if he agrees,
I will test his power.

"Stupid woman Chachykai,
Betrayed your father,

Commit adultery in the bed your father slept.
You cannot go and see her."
Krichorao finished his words,
Whipped his steed toward Kanchorao.

Sixty giants came aggressively,
They were just jackstraws in Seytek's eyes.
He was the offspring of the swift horse,
He was born and raised by a fairy.
Facing sixty giants' attack,
He stepped forward bravely.
Sixty giants were frenzied,
Besieged young Seytek in the center.

Seytek was filled with anger,
Lifted his knife and cut left and right.
He turned around and chased,
The young hero killed one after another,
Sent sixty giants to the other world,
None of them was alive.
People jumped with joy,
All came up and hugged Seytek,
Crowded the young hero in the center.

Seytek's appearance,
Was exactly the same as Semtay.
It was like his father's skin,
Was covered over the son's head.
His moustache was like wheat awn,
His crescent ears were as big as shields.
His eyes were shining as morning stars,
His eyeballs were as black as coal.
He was as cold as steel,
His body was like a hill.
If he grew to thirty years old,
No steed could bear his weight.
He was like chilly wind when he was pitiless,

His arrow was thick and big like a bull waist.
When he met tens of thousands of enemies,
He wiped it like sweep leaves.
When he met enemies dare invade,
He could resist them easily.
His imposing manner was like surging waves,
His body was like a huge male camel.
He had wide shoulders and long legs,
He was born a giant.
He was so outstanding,
And there was no second one in the world.

Poor fellow people had almost worn out their eyes,
They surrounded Seytek,
Looked at him from the front to the back.
Some people misunderstood,
They thought Seytek was Semtay,
They argued and insisted on their own opinion.

Krichorao Defeated Kanchorao

Krichorao caught up with Kanchorao,
Stood shoulder to shoulder with him and said:
"I am Kris, You are Kanchorao,
You and I played together and grow up together,
We spent our wonderful childhood together.
Do you remember when we were little,
We ran and chased each other with bare feet.
Kanchorao, I bow to you today,
Please change your mind and disregard previous enmity.

"Seytek is powerful and matchless,
If you persist in fighting him,
You will have no chance to live in this world.
Chachykai is an unchaste widow,
You married her as you wish.
Seytek is power and violent,
Do not offend him.
I persuade you with good words,
You judge it by yourself.
No one supports you anymore,
Do not expect Keyaz to help you."

Kanchorao was burning with a frenzy of rage,
Every of his beard stuck up angrily,
His eyes splashed evil flames:
"You are a slave, and do not know the rule,
Do not make grand gestures in front of me,
Do not think I am easy to be deceived,
How I can believe in your lies!

"Do not say you, Krichorao slave,
Even faced Semtay,
I did not retreat and I showed my power!
You do not understand you have a degrading identity,
How can you have conscience to advise me?
You hate to be neglected and talk nonsense everywhere,
Make trouble for me everywhere you go.

"Krichorao, shut your stupid mouth!
Go and saddle my steed now,
You only can be safe by this.
If you instigate people and make trouble deliberately,
You will not be alive tomorrow even you are alive today!"

Krichorao replied with sincere words:
"Kanchorao, I take a risk and come to you,
For the sake of fulfilling our childhood promise,
We grew up together,
I keep the habit of protecting brothers.

"I do not complain you ask me to saddle the steed,
My hands are skillful in doing it.
When brother Semtay was alive,
When we rode steeds and went out,
I raised our mounts,
You raised our mounts too.
I always saddle your steed,
You always ride the steed I saddle.
Do not say you and me,
Brother Semtay also saddled our steeds.
Those moving moments,
You have forgotten completely,
But I remember clearly in my heart!

"You talk unreasonably,
You lie and cheat heartlessly.

I do not hide any truth,
All what I tell you is true.
I do not want to watch you walk to the end,
I stand here to save you."

Kanchorao bawled at him angrily:
"I do not listen to your fine words!
Stop pretending in front of me,
You instigate the people and leave me!"

Heartless Kanchorao,
Was like a frenzied mad dog,
He picked the spear up and wanted to fight Krichorao.
Krichorao asked when he saw this:
"Kanchorao, it's for real or you are kidding.
If you play real knife and gun with me,
I must make your spirit come out!
I persuade sincerely with fine words,
But you are brutal and close your ears!"

"You are a slave grew up through eating yogurt,
I am brutal to you and heartless.
I never put you in my eyes,
Never shrink back and dare not attack!
I am strong and you are disabled,
The disabled cannot climb over high ridges!"
Kanchorao talked wildly,
Swung the spear in his hand,
With full of his strength,
Poked toward Krichorao's chest.
Krichorao was a courageous and intelligent hero,
He had good skills and tactics.
He moved fast to the side,
Dodged Kanchorao's spear point.

Kanchorao became angry,
Whipped black spotted Jaykal steed.

The arrogance butchered Jedigai people in the past,
Now appeared on him.

Kanchorao was in a threatening manner.
Shouted like a male camel in heat.
He grasped the spear tight in the hand,
Turned his steed round and charged ahead.
Krichorao saw,
Kanchorao behaved in a vicious way,
And showed no sign of repentance.

Krichorao whipped Surkoyun steed,
Was forced to fight Kanchorao,
He reacted quickly,
Warded Kanchorao's spear off again.

Beofre Krichorao adjusted himself,
Ferocious Kanchorao reached his spear,
Hit Krichorao's waist.
Ancestors' spirits blessed,
Krichorao did not fall off the horseback.

Almanbet's son hero Krichorao,
Reluctant to show weakenss.
He showed his edge like a scorpion,
Started a courageous fight against Kanchorao.

They were well-matched in strength,
Regardless of personal danger.
Like tie the life as weak as a fly's,
Onto a hair.

The spear point stabbed on the chest protector,
Battle hammer roared over the head.
Many self-confident people saw this,
Were scared and wet their pants.
Kanchorao and Krichorao,

Fought hard and battle cries reached to the sky.
The earth under the feet of steeds,
Had clouds of dust risen,
Lakes shook and it became dark.
Many soldiers watched felt scared,
They almost fell off their horses.

Almanbet's son hero Krichorao,
Fought from strength to strength.
He grabbed the spear Kanchorao poked,
Gave a hard blow to the elbow with his hammer,
The spear bounced out of Kanchorao's hand.

Agile Krichorao,
Did not give Kanchorao a chance to turn round,
Before Kanchorao could make a sound,
He pounded him six times in a row.

Kanchorao got six hammer hits,
He saw black in front of his eyes,
"If I continue staying here,
Krichorao will not stop until he kills me.
I should turn round and leave right now,
Run back to the castle and fetch new weapons,
And fight him again,
Try my best to tear him!"
Kanchorao made up his mind,
Turned round and ran back immediately.

Hero Krichorao chased him,
Ducked down and grabbed his clothes,
Krichorao dragged in energy,
Kanchorao fell onto the ground heavily.
He had become defenseless,
He had no previous vigor at all.
Krichorao had compassion for him:
"You mount now and follow me,

If Seytek sees you now,
He will kill you mercilessly.
If Ayichulek sees you now,
She will gouge your eyes.
If they let Kanikai deal with you,
She will cut your flesh off piece by piece,
If you fall into Khan Bakay's hands,
I even do not know how will he punish you?

"You should reflect on what you do,
Plead guilty to Bakay and Kanikai and plead for leniency.
For Seytek and Chulek,
Let white-beard old man negotiate.
Kanchorao, you betrayed me heartlessly,
But I cannot bear to leave you carelessly."

Krichorao was kindhearted and flawless like a white jade,
He took Kanchorao and his steed away,
Hid in a place others did not know.

Krichorao mounted Surkoyun steed,
Galloped to the place where they gathered.
Seeing Krichorao was coming,
People swarmed up to him.
People shouted and rushed about,
Elbowed their way to the side of Krichorao.
Kirgiz people of white felt hat,
Surrounded their good boy in the center.
Men and women, the old and the young,
All shed their tears like flood.

Elder Torsoldoy at the moment,
Jumped to the front like a kid:
"Ah, my magical lion,
Your magic comes true on me.
I have been blind for years,
Suffered too many hardships.

Because you came to Talas once,
My eyes are bright again like the morning star,
I can run to you now."

Ajibayi's son Kermanbayi,
Suggested to the crowd loudly:
"Please listen to me!
Dear Kirgiz, do not cry here.
Please understand hero Seytek and Kris,
Do not waste their time here.

"You all come and gather here,
In the name of visiting the grave,
Avoid Kanchorao's monitoring.
We do not see our moon-like sister-in-law in the crowd,
She seems to go to visit respected mother Kanikai.

"Lion Krichorao and Seytek,
Ask us to mount immediately.
Whip and gallop our steeds,
Go to where elder Bakay and Kanikai live.
We choose fine steeds and send to them,
Escort them to the grave.
Worship Ayikoler's spirit together,
Then march toward Sire city.

"Ordinary people gather here,
Cannot go to Kanchorao's palace.
Do not occupy any of his stuff,
As war trophy.
Stupid woman Chachykai,
Cherishes full of tricks and evil intentions,
Do not let her burn the palace.
Setertayi, you are the steward of the palace,
You go and guard her.

"Kargalday and Obolbek,

You should stay here and wait for us.
Pick six hundred young men and mount right away,
Go to the valley between those two mountains,
Drive six thousand sheep here and butcher before the evening.
We use them to worship Manas' spirit,
Then divide the meat to people."
The crowd agreed on Kermanbayi's suggestion,
Chose six hundred young men,
Mounted and went to drive sheep in different directions.

Seytek Visited Bakay and Kanikai

Lion Krichorao and Seytek,
Led two fine steeds,
Took Kermanbayi with them,
Came to old Bakay's home together.

Let me tell you,
How they met Bakay who was herding camels,
Please listen carefully.

At the place of three shooting range from Bakay,
They dismounted and went on foot,
Walked to Bakay,
Krichorao knelt down to him,
Cried out the uncle's honorific title:
"Ah, my dear uncle,
I come specially to visit you today.

"Ordinary cannot predict,
What disaster he will suffer.
Who can achieve all his life:
Only take advantage and have no loss.
Make short of long, uncle,
I bring Seytek to you.
Seytek comes and looks for the hometown,
Looks for fellow Kirgiz of white felt hat.
We do not go to the city directly,
We come and visit you first.
Seytek wants to visit you first,
Then he will visit his grandmather Kanikai."

Hero Bakay was dull of hearing,
Sometimes he only heard the buzz.
If people did not shout loudly like quarreling,
He could not hear clearly what people said.
When Krichorao and Seytek,
Could not make Bakay hear them clearly,
They did not know what they could do,
Kris remembered one thing suddenly.

When they parted at the ridge in Talasha,
Ayichulek left words to Krichorao:
"Elder Bakay suffers hardships and is tortured,
His ears are stung and he may not hear you clearly.
If you go and talk to him,
What should you do if he cannot hear you?
Take this liquid with you,
Drop in his ears when he needs it."

Ayichulek took out Maidaiti[①] liquid medicine,
Divided some to Krichorao.
The magic medicine was collected from seven hundred and fifty rivers,
Refined and made up carefully.
Krichorao took out Maidaiti immediately,
Dropped in Bakay's ears.
Smeared to the side of his eyes,
Rubbed gently with his fingers.

The medicine dropped in ears,
Penetrated through the elder's brain nerves.
The medicine smeared on his eyelid,
Penetrated through the elder's nerves under his skin.
The elder's eyes brightened immediately,
The elder's ears became sharp right away.
Old Bakay grabbed Krichorao with one hand,

1 Maidaiti: It is a magic liquid medicine that can cure deaf and blind in Kirgiz legend.

And grabbed Seytek with the other hand,
His body slipped down suddenly.
Before the elder sat on the ground,
Four powerful hands lifted the elder,
They burned wild safflower and treated him with smoke.

After the time of one meal,
The uncle regained consciousness and raised his head:
"It seems you are Krichorao,
How you dare come and visit me, the old man?
Are not you afraid Kanchorao makes trouble for you,
Who is that beside you?
I think he looks familiar to me.
His eyes look the same like Semtay,
If he really is Semtay,
You sacrifice your uncle immediately,
Drive evil spirits out for him and pray for him."

Krichorao picked up the talk:
"My dear uncle,
Everything of yours is a treasure in the world.
Even your beard,
Deserves me to sacrifice myself!
You are a phantom of wisdom,
All your words come true.

"We can come back to Talas,
Thanks to Semtay's only son,
Seytek rises up with ardor!
You say his eyes are like Semtay's.
He is Semtay's son,
Seytek is his name.
I am your son Krichorao,
You ask who he is,
He is Ajibayi's son."

Giant Bakay could not help crying excitedly,

His throat tightened and could not say anything.
He hugged Krichorao tight,
Tears dropped like rain:
"My little guy,
You take the trouble and come,
Find me here and kneel down to me.
I worry Kanchorao will find you,
He will tie our hands and feet up,
Persecute us more severely.
I am old and weak,
I worry he will peel my skin off..."

Krichorao cried sadly:
"Your beard is white and you are of good virtue,
I would rather sacrifice everything for you.
We have knocked Kanchorao and Keyaz down,
Otherwise how can we come and pick you here.

"Semtay had his face covered with blood in the past,
Bruises covered all over his body and he disappeared.
They tortured me, a poor man,
They cut my scapula gristles off mercilessly.

"They took Ayichulek as a trophy,
Presented her to Keyaz.
She was pregnant then,
She gave birth to a boy later.
His name is Seytek,
He is as strong and brave as his father.
Keyaz and Kanchorao are two bastards,
He defeated them completely,
And he comes back and unites with our fellow people."

Bakay Khan heard he was Seytek's son,
Hugged Seytek tight:
"My only boy, please open your clothes,
I will put my head in your chest,

Get your smell.
If Ayichulek is weak minded,
If she was cheated or tempted,
He will not have Semtay's smell on him."

The elder opened the kid's clothes,
Reached his head into his chest,
Smelled the boy carefully.
When he found the smell the same as Semtay,
The old man filled with energy suddenly.
His bent waist straightened immediately,
Gave out the order loudly:
"You mount now and lead the way for me,
We go and look for Kanikai.
We should go and worship Ayikoler's spirit,
Together with queen Kanikai.
Where is Ayichulek now?
I only feel at ease when I see her."

Kanikai becomes as thin as a paper,
Her shabby clothes could not cover her body.
Her chest and belly exposed when she stood up,
Her thigh and hips exposed completely when she bent over.

Ayichulek ran to her,
Bowed and saluted her.
Poor aunt Kanikai was astonished,
She got freaked and explained:
"I did not let calves suck their mothers' milk!"
She shrank together in terror,
Her hands covered over her head.

Virtuous daughter-in-law Ayichulek,
Knelt down and held her mother-in-law's legs.
The breast once raised Semtay,
Ayichulek smelled it more than ten times.

"Let those calves go to hell!
My dear mother,
Please listen to me carefully.
I am your daughter-in-law Ayichulek,
I especially come and look for you.
How we can hide,
The Creature's blessing from you.

"Mother, I finally come back to you.
Your son's only son Seytek,
And your son Krichorao.
Kutubayi comes together with us,
He also wants to visit you."

Hearing what Ayichulek said,
Kanikai said with fear:
"Who is Seytek?
Who is Ayichulek?
Who is Krichorao?
Who is Kutubayi?

"Kanchorao is our Khan,
Chachykai is evil-hearted.
Where do you come from, woman?
You cannot deceive me.
If I let calves go and suck cow's breast,
I will be cudgeled at night."
Kanikai was still badly shaken,
Staggered and was ill at ease.

Wise Ayichulek,
Took out the magic medicine Momingjan gave her.
There were Apei and Sapei,
Ebaifu and Sebaifu in it,
There was also precious,
Maidaiti medicine in it.

Momingjan folded salt in when he made the medicine,
Balance all kinds of components with milk,
It made up with seven hundred and eighty kinds of medicine.
When Momingjan gave the medicine to Ayichulek,
Told her to let Kanikai and Bakay take it.
Ayichulek took seven pills with her,
They were very effective pills,
If one took two pills at one time,
His joints and bones would part and he would die.

Ayichulek broke one pill in two,
Then broke one piece in two again,
Put one in Kanikai's mouth carefully.
Kanikai knew nothing about it,
She just swallowed it instinctively.

After the time of one meal,
Kanikai recovered his sanity slowly.
Ayichulek gave her hints:
"My mother in deep distress,
It is me, Ayichulek, who stand in front of you,
You did not listen to my words just now,
You only cared whether calves eat milk or not.
Krichorao and Seytek,
Also come and look for you.
Come to vast hometown Talas,
Come to famous Kankoler.
Your kids send me to come first,
Let me change you a new beautiful dress."

Hearing what Ayichulek said,
Kanikai felt he was in her dream.
Her voice was hoarse:
"Your voice is like Chulek,
But I cannot see you,
Do not chatter without stop,
Can you sharpen my eyes first?

My Chulek was pregnant when we parted in the past,
It makes me perturbed for years.
If you are really Ayichulek,
Please lick my eyes with your tongue,
Then I can recognize you clearly."

Ayichulek licked her mother-in-law's eyes with her tongue,
Licked the mucus in her eyes clean.
The pill she took was effective,
Her mind became clearer.
Kanikai saw Chulek cearly,
She dare not believe her eyes,
She did not know it was the truth or the dream.
She was astonished,
Even her eyelashes stuck up one by one,
Slobber ran out of her mouth.

Kanikai concentrated and recalled,
Braced herself up and said:
"Ayichulek, Ayichulek,
Why do you come here?
Do Kanchorao and Chachykai let you go easily?
When Keyaz plundered our tribe,
You said you were pregnant.
If it was not because you were pregnant,
I would go to die at the moment.

"You asked to wait for twelve years,
I seem to have gone through two hundred years.
Ayichulek, how were you doing after that?
Is my grandkid a girl or a boy?"

Ayichulek answered immediately,
Described her sad experiences for years:
"I gave birth to a boy,
Mother, you are blessed.
In order to bring him up,

I suffered countless humiliation and hardships.
Your grandson's name is Seytek,
He is twelve years old now,
He is with Krichorao,
Look, they come here too.
For the sake of looking for Kirgiz of white felt hat,
For the sake of looking for Kankoler of spreading willow,
For the sake of looking for your and uncle Bakay."

"Where is my Kris?
He is my son I raised with my pure milk,
As long as I smell his neck,
I have no regret even I die.

"Where is my spiritual pillar Seytek?
He is the precious treasure my eagle leaves to me,
Now he has grown up,
He can be the backbone of Kirgiz of white felt hat.
My kid, lead me the way,
I will tell this to Bakay in detail."

She gave a glance to Kutubayi,
So she asked Ayichulek:
"Who is the man stands there?
I want to know his identity."

"He was Talas people,
He lives in Jetisu.
His name is Kutubayi,
He helped Krichorao,
And Seytek secretly.

"Krichorao took Keyaz's life away,
In front of numerous people.
Then he put forward Kutubayi's son Kalado,
As the leader there.
He administers Jezkanpire's seven sons,

And all people in Jetisu.

"Krichorao once returned to Talas in advance,
He connected with Kirgiz people at hometown.
Appointed the date which is today,
Gather in front of my father-in-law's grave.

"Kanchorao's sixty giants,
Your Seytek wipe them out completely,
Krichorao is fighting against Kanchorao,
We do not know the result yet.
But your Kris is in good luck now,
He must catch Kanchorao alive!"

Ayichulek explained in detail,
She washed Kanikai with perfume,
Dressed her with splendid costume,
Tied her waist with red silk belt,
Helped her mount the fine steed,
Went toward the direction of elder Bakay.

Uncle Bakay and Seytek,
Lion Krichorao and Kermanbayi,
Saw their long-awaited kinsfolk.

Krichorao shouted surprisingly:
"Aunt Kanikai is coming!
Sister-in-law leads aunt's steed,
And comes with her!"

Lion Krichorao jumped up happily,
Seytek was so excited,
They ran up and welcomed.
Ayichulek was middle-aged and hair on her temples turned grey,
But as she saw old Bakay,
She was still like a married young lady,
Walked and saluted Bakay,

Bent over like a bow sincerely.

Seeing old Bakay's figure,
Hearing the sound of the kids,
Kanikai was too excited to say anything,
She was at a loss what to do.
Her two breasts became painful and produced milk,
Her milk wetted the front of her clothes.
Krichorao and Seytek ,
Ran toward her hurriedly.

Look, God made a miracle,
Kanikai's pure milk,
They sucked on both sides.
The swelled watermelon-size breasts,
Shrank like balloon got flat.
Seytek and Krichorao,
Quenched their thirst with mother's milk happily.

Kanikai held their necks,
Kissed them affectionately.
When she kissed Seytek,
She smelled the same aroma Semtay had.

Giant Bakay strolled to them at the moment,
Bakay and Kanikai,
Kissed each other's fingertips.
The place they reunited,
Had some special things happened,
Withered willow sprouted,
Larks sang heartily on branches.

They mounted and did not delay at all,
Arrived at the hero's grave soon.
Shouted the name Manas,
Bakay burst into loud sobs for his bosom friend.

Along with Bakay's sobbing,
The door of the grace opened suddenly.
Uncle Bakay dismounted immediately,
As light and agile like a young man.
He stepped in the door of the grave,
Called Krichorao and Seytek,
The door closed by itself after they three went in.

People had witnessed it,
They worshiped Manas' spirit.
Everyone butchered one sheep,
As an offering.

The earth shook suddenly,
Loud and roaring noise came out.
The door of the grace opened again,
The light like moonlight emitted.

Seytek Mounted the Throne of Khan

Giant Bakay led Seytek and Krichorao,
Walked out of the grave.
Spring returned to the earth at once,
Flowers blossomed all over the hill,
Butterflies flew and played happily.

All birds and animals,
Came out of their nests and caves,
Welcomed the master of Talas to come back.
Even the little insects,
Rushed about telling the news joyfully.

Wild willows were like slim girls,
Hanging twigs were like girls' hair and danced in the wind.
Eagles wheeled in the air and overlooked,
It seemed they were looking for the hero.
Finches pranced happily,
Falcons spread their wings excitedly,
Crows refused to be left behind.
Like birds paying homage to the sun,
Countless birds came and gathered,
They were all excited,
Countless spreading wings covered the sky.

Bucks walked to the hill slope in groups,
Does walked to the hill slope in groups.
Male argali climbed up on cocked rocks,
Female argali were not willing to stay in hills lonely.
Wild goats stood on the high peaks and watched,

Good news came from vast Kankoler,
Gazelles were immersed into the joy.
Tigers in deep forest all felt comfortable,
Snow leopards in high mountains lived freely.
Foxes pranced happily,
Showed off their sleek fur.

Wild geese honed,
It seemed they were reporting the new sign they found.
Wild ducks and groups of mandarin ducks,
Black storks and Zhokzhok birds,
White swans led them flew in new patterns.
Fish and frogs led tadpoles,
Swam to the surface and watched around.
The master of Talas came back,
He brought the vast land new scenes.

Magpies did not whine as before,
Resumed their happy songs.
Vultures were crazy all along,
But they were too scared to come out.
Ferocious wolves restrained and dare not come out,
Pythons twirled and dare not come out of caves.
Kelaris[①] and jackals dare not expose,
But crouched in caves fearfully.
Harmful venomous snakes and fierce animals,
Dare not act rashly.

Wild geese and red-crowned cranes formed into columns,
Flew over neatly like they were strung on one rope.

Looked up, people could not control their excited feeling,
The shouting echoed on the surface of water,
Made waves of camel humps size.
Bats were frightened,

① Kelaris: It is a sizable mammal which has a mouse look.

And got down on all fours to seek shelter.
Spiders, scorpions and gadflies,
Had disappeared.
Mink and lynx,
Came out together all the time,
But you could not see them,
Coming out together again.

Groups of camels exposed their teeth,
Shook their humps,
Came and gathered in bigger crowds.

Herds of cattle in the valley had none left,
All mooed and gathered.
Sheep made low call,
Lambs called moms in high crisp voice.
The herdsmen did not need to drive sheep,
All sheep came and gathered from all direction.
Goats sneezed gently,
Billy goats pranced happily.
They were as many as stones on the river rapids,
They all came and gathered in hilly area.

Stallions neighed loudly,
Mares whinnied,
Colts responded in high pitch voice.
One year old, three years old and four years old horses,
Shook tails and galloped forward.

Slight breeze rose,
It was cool and comfortable.
Look, the fifteenth of Bashiona month is so wonderful,
All animals did not have annoyance of sweating.
Larks and nightingales,
Sang wonderfully,
Cuckoos sang to their heart's content,

They were as happy as they found their lover Zenaifu[1].
Grass and trees turned green all over the mountains and plains,
It was riot with colors,
Hundreds of flowers were in full blossom.
Sowbread was splendid,
It was like a gorgeous carpet was spreading.
White poplars stood tall and erect into the air,
Pine trees were green and fragrant.
All trees stood straight,
It seemed they compared to see which were taller with pine trees.

Cool breeze came from the river valley,
Trees and flowers waved in wind.
Prairies were like ocean,
As one fell and another rose,
Green light of waves shimmered.
Spring water spouted and rippled,
Green leaves rustled in wind.

Subay[2] snorted unceasingly,
Walked in the lake and swam.
Cats kept up their spirits,
Shared the joy with hoarse voice.
Grasshoppers flapped wings crisply,
Beautiful melody resounded through the sky.

Plains were bursting with happiness everywhere,
Mountains and peaks were in high spirits.
The sun stopped its steps to the west,
Looked back with emotion.

Girls combed their hair carefully,
Married ladies changed into festival dresses.
Young men perked up,

1 Zenaifu: It is a kind of magical bird that falls in love with Cuckoos in legend.

2 Subay: It is one kind of animal in the legend.

Mounted their steeds and whipped,
Rushed into the field of grabbing sheep.
No steed stayed there anymore,
They were all like burning flames.

Look, these galloping steeds,
They were strong and fat.
Herd of cattle wandered in swampland.
Ate windbreak grass with appetite.
Camels were so happy,
That they roared excitedly.
Bears wandered on hill slopes,
Lions held sway over the forest proudly.

Mountains splashed fermented acid,
Sorrel and horse nipple grass,
Waved their heads leisurely.
Tulips and Dioscorea cirrhosa by the river,
Nodded and smiled.
Mushrooms and windbreak grass,
Spread all over mountains and plains.
Wild garlic sprouts and fresh grass,
Waved their buds and showed off.
Ripe waxberry fruits hung heavy on the trees,
Chestnuts opened mouth and smiled.

Beardless elders danced for joy,
There were happy like children.
Little kids,
Could not help jumping and screaming.
Babies could not walk yet,
Kicked their feet like frogs.

Bear hair grass and fescue,
Arris grass and sweet wormwood,
Black reeds and wheat-head grass,
Fox beard grass and Gilterhan grass,

Were very fascinating in the sunshine.
Wild onions fragrance floated over prairies,
Orchid and Guleupsho[1],
Smiled toward the sun.
Wild Artemisia and Bozunachy[2],
Sent out the smell like fermented yogurt.
People were fascinated by,
The aroma of camellia and Mamir,
Fresh and juicy Anchusa italica fruits,
Tasted better than honey.

In Kankoler Ata and Talas,
All things recovered and there were full of life,
Great Arat mountains,
Stood lofty and firm.
Seytek was brave and courageous,
Suffering Kirgiz people stuck out their chests.
Kanikai and Ayichulek,
Stood shoulder to shoulder proudly.
They made Talas replayed brilliance,
The door of happiness reopened for them.
When seeing Krichorao,
Fellow people cheered and burst with joy.
Mountain-size giant Bakay appeared,
And attracted the sight of the world surprisingly.

Ajibayi's son Kermanbayi,
Started to talk in loud voice.
He talked fluently with his silver tongue,
Like pearls strung into a necklace.
The crowd listened carefully.
His words were as sweet as sugar:
"My fellow people come here today,
We should recognize our ancestors clearly.

1 Guleupsho: It is one plant that can blossom.

2 Bozunachy: It is one grass that can replace tea.

Seytek is our leader,
We must follow his order.
God bestows us with hero Krichorao,
He is our strong backer at anytime.

"We lost Semtay in the past,
Krichorao was forced to leave hometown.
We suffered unprecedented disaster,
We were trampled upon at will but unable to resist.

"Ayichulek can transfer into a swan and fly in the sky,
Ayichulek can transfer into running water.
Ayichulek masters seventy two changes,
Ayichulek is not ordinary.
For the sake of Arashi people's happy life,
Ayichulek gave birth to Seytek and raised him.

"Wise aunt Kanikai
Served broad-minded Manas all along,
Her exemplary conduct spreads in the world.
In Kokotoy's grand ceremony,
She got elder Koshaoyi's blessing,
Her name passed in the world since then.
Chachykai becomes mentally abnormal,
It's her end of asking to beat Kanikai cruelly!

"Venerable Bakay Khan,
Comes into us today too.
Manas' spirit in the grave,
Voiced grievance for elder Bakay angrily.
If anyone provokes Bakay into cursing,
He will not live in the world anymore.
Kanchorao abused sage Bakay so,
He will be held up by misfortune.

"Let us all set out and leave no person here,
Let's go to Sire city our ancestors left together!

It is the day of meeting tomorrow,
If you all do not have different opinion,
If aunt Kanikai and elder Bakay,
And Krichorao have no different opinion,
Let us elect the colt the heavenly steed left,
The only son the fairy raises,
As Kirgiz Khan!
Let's us listen face to face,
Our hero Khan's instruction.
Let aunt Kanikai and elder Bakay,
Pray for us.

"'Everything begins on Saturday',
We can go back home after it.
We will deliver the good news to everyone,
Deliver the good news to all livestock.
Tell them their real master is back.
Mountain, water, grass and tree here,
Every livestock on this vast prairie,
Has waited the real master for too long,
They will jump with joy as they get the good news."

Kermanbayi's suggestion,
Got consistent response.
People made preparation for setting out,
And mounted their horses.
Those people who had no mounts,
All took Napa[①] and followed.

People were in high spirits,
Marched to Sire city with great strength.

They held their heads high happily,
They were highly delighted.
Dark clouds in the sky were scattered and the sun came out,

1 Napa: It is carriage with cover over head.

The sadness in their hearts was expelled.
Elder Bakay's silver beard shined,
He led the way in the front.
Sultan[1] Krichorao rode on Surkoyun,
Marched ahead as fast as lightning.
Every place the horse hooves stepped,
Had deep hole like ground stove left.

Seytek was in majestic manner,
People dare not get close.
Krichorao walked in the front,
He opened the gate of Sire city.
Bakay led the crowd into the city,
The sleeping lake rippled gently.
Trees he planted with his own hands,
Recovered vitality with luxuriant foliage.
The former city was like a ditch got flooded,
It was brought back to life again today.

Trees in the city blossomed and bore fruits,
They welcomed their real master to come.
Fruits hung heavy on the trees,
They were waiting for their master to pick.
Ripe fruits could not wait to fly into their master's hands,
What a pity they did not have wings.
Cheers echoed to the clouds,
Talas became happy again,
Because its real master finally came back.

Those cruel and unscrupulous people,
Were scared out of their wits as they saw it,
They pretended to put smiles on their faces,
But they were frightened in the heart.

People sat in a shape of bull horn,

1 Sultan: It means King. Here it is the honorific title for Krichorao.

Began to discuss important issues.
In order to show their support and respect to Bakay,
They pleaded him to host the discussion.

Elder Bakay started to say at the moment:
"Fellows, please listen to me,
Seytek is still too young now,
I elect Almanbet's son Kris as our Khan.
When leopard Manas was alive,
I administered all his official affairs.
When Semtay was Khan,
I was in change of all his official affairs.
Today you let me make the decision,
Of the fate of Arashi people of white felt hat,
I am very grateful to you.

"As long as our Krichorao is the leader,
I will work for him at anytime,
I will be by his side..."

Before elder Bakay finished his words,
Krichorao interrupted him:
"Do you know heroic Semtay Khan,
Is my brother and we ate same mother's milk,
How can I sit on his seat?
If I take the throne and become Khan,
If I give out orders and make gestures,
I will be the same like Kanchorao!

"'Father dies and the son succeeds to the throne,
There must be no blank.'
This is the maxim our ancestors left to us.
I plead you, fellows at present,
Carry Khan's carpet to here,
Let us support Seytek mount the throne now!"

Krichorao held Seytek in his hands,

Put him on the splendid carpet,
People agreed on his suggestion,
Elected hero Seytek as their Khan.

Kirgiz people gathered happily,
Picked fat horses and butchered.
Put boiled horse bellies, horse intestines and neck fat,
And horse meat together on the tablecloth.

Old men tasted the meat of horse waist,
Old women shared sheep tail fat.
Chewed fat with appetite,
Mixed with happy voices,
Pure horse milk wine stirred with pure honey,
They drank to their heart's content.

Till Saturday morning,
People all mounted and returned to their home.

Let us put this aside,
Start from Bakay judged Kanchorao.

Kanchorao and Chachykai's Disgraceful Fate

Chachykai Went Mad and Died

Six days passed,
Kanchorao and Chachykai,
Should be escorted to the court.
Setertayi, the steward of the palace,
Came in cautiously without any noise.
Now in this city,
Kermanbayi took in charge of everything.
Setertayi reported to him:
"Hero Krichorao and Seytek Khan,
Are on the way back from the grave,
You asked me,
To keep a close watch over stupid Chachykai,
To avoid her setting fire suddenly and making trouble.
I received your order,
And went to her residence hurriedly.

"Chachykai wore her long robe,
Stood outside and looked around.
When she saw me,
She asked me impatiently.
She asked whether those people come back?
Asked where Kanchorao Khan is now?
The black-faced woman is stilling dreaming,
She still waits her Khan Kanchorao to come back.

"I replied her like this,
Chachykai, I will let you understand.
Thanks to the blessing of Manas' spirit,
The master of Talas has come back,

Lion Krihcorao has come.
The son must exceed the father,
Young hero Seytek has come back.
Chulek, as beautiful as the moon, has come back,
Kutubayi, the plundered headman,
Comes back together with them.
Bakay Khan foresees with divine accuracy,
Comes back and supports wise Khan,
Mother Kanikai comes back to the palace too.

Your so-called sixty giants,
In a blink of an eye,
Young hero Seytek, as brave as a lion,
Sent them to the other world.

"Krichorao did everything in his heart,
To Kanchorao.
He promised Kanchorao,
Leave you, the widow, to Kanchorao.
He asked Kanchorao,
To apologize to Seytek and plead for mercy.
But your husband Kanchorao,
Did not take Krichorao's suggestion at all.
They fought each other for a long time,
Kanchorao finally was put into the cell.

"When I talked to her,
Chachykai fixed her eyes on me.
As soon as I finished,
She suddenly screamed like a mad dog,
And rolled on the ground unstoppably,
Eliechek on her head flew far away.
It is the fourth day today,
She did not go back to her room since then.

"She screams like a mad dog one moment,
And laughs wildly like a loony the next,

Froth spouts out of her mouth,
She is like a mad male camel.
She turns naked sometime,
Slaps her thigh and runs.
She begs from household to household,
It is said: 'Dog is afraid to see a beggar',
Even dogs do not want to bite her.

"'Ah, Ayichulek, Ayichulek,
Oh, Kanikai, Kanikai!'
She cries out like this one moment,
The other moment she shouts: 'Where is Kanchorao?'
She says nothing else except this.

"She sometimes sits on a rock,
Claps her hands unstoppably,
Looks up to the sky and laughs loudly.
She suddenly stops laughing and becomes sad,
Bursts into tears and cries piteously.
She is with bare feet and bare head,
She wears neither a dress nor a pair of briefs,
She is naked completely.
She pulls her hair hard,
There is nothing left on her head now.

"Numerous mosquitos bite her,
Countless wasps sting her,
Black flies buzz on her body.
Lizards and fleas,
Spiders and gadflies,
All creatures that sting wrap her."
Setertayi who monitored her,
Reported the information.
Respected and prestigious leaders,
And all ordinaries had got the news.
The old and the young all came,
There were more than one thousand people.

Those who could differentiate between right and wrong,
Kermanbayi invited them all to look on.

Leather-lunged Bakay sat in the seat of honor,
Madam Kanikai sat by his side.
Ayichulek put her hands over her chest,
Saluted uncle Bakay.
Khan Seytek, Krichorao,
And Kermanbayi were on both sides.
Setertayi came in and out with his busy hands,
He was also with them,
All others stood politely below.
Krichorao shouted loudly to the crowd:
"Where is brother Torsoldoy?
Please come up here!"

Torsoldoy came to the palace,
Stepped into the threshold.
Leopard Bakay, Kanikai,
And Krichorao walked up quickly.
Those who sold their souls for the sake of glory,
Those who turned traitor and went over to the enemy,
As they were seeing the situation,
They all felt the death was coming.

Khan Bakay held Torsoldoy's hand,
Kanikai asked after his needs,
Krichorao walked shoulder to shoulder with them,
They attracted all people present.

People all admired Kermanbayi,
Setertayi and Kargalday for their good luck.
He had a completely new appraisal of Torsoldoy,
They admired him very much.
They did not know Torsoldoy, Setertayi,
And Kerman contributed for the tribal revival.
Everyone was talking about it,

They only know Ajibayi's son Kermanbayi,
Finally found a position fitted him,
Uncle Bakay and Kanikai,
Lion Krichorao, Ayichulek,
Setertayi and Kargalday,
And Obolbek, whom Kerman asked to come,
Walked with steady steps,
Into Seytek's palace.

Seytek sat in the seat of throne,
Bakay stood on his right,
Krichorao stood on his left.
Ayikoler hero's widow,
Mother Kanikai stood by the side of Bakay.
Sister-in-law Ayichulek as pretty as the moon,
Stood by the side of Krichorao.
Only Kermanbayi,
Sat in the clerk's seat.
Kutubayi and Torsoldoy,
Setertayi and Kargalday,
And Obolbek stood in a line.

Kermanbayi raised his head,
Said to Seytek:
"Your father left a gold throne,
Respected Seytek, you finally get it.
Your father's hometown Talas,
You come here ten days here,
Please do not delay,
You must finish the great revival.

"Your mother Ayichulek was forced to leave hometown in the past,
Bore disgrace and brought you up.
Subordinates loyal to your father in the past,
We all lower our heads and wander everywhere.
Sage Bakay lost his mount,
Was forced to herd camels on foot.

Aunt Kanikai was forced to guard calves,
She must get stick beat if she let calves go.
Krichorao's scapula gristles were cut off,
The wounds festered and he had full of sores.
For the sake of Kirgiz of white felt hat,
His wound cured and he returned to the hometown.

"I calculated day and night in Talas,
My moon-like sister-in-law Ayichulek,
Hid you in her belly for three years.
Cunning Keyaz began to doubt,
He tested them again and again.

"Ayashata Momingjan,
Toktorsart from Kashgar,
Sister-in-law Chulek invited them to come,
Cured Krichorao's wound.
Your mother endured hardships,
Bring you, Seytek, up healthily.
She cast spells and dealt with him cleverly,
Protect you back to Talas.

"Kanchorao and Chachykai colluded together,
Persecuted us unscrupulously,
Please think about how to punish them.

"When Kanchorao ran wild,
Obolbek was Began once.
In order to protect his people,
He was suffered beat and kick everyday,
He did not sleep for forty days in a row,
Contacted people up and down the mountains,
He devoted every effort and made good preparation.
Went to the grave and welcomed you.

"Look at Setertayi there,
He was the steward of the palace.

He was in position of influence,
He had great power in his hand,
But he did not act absurdly.
He remembered clearly in his mind,
Every word Ayichulek told him.
Great credit must go to him,
When Keyaz invaded Sire city,
He was the first one sent us the message.
He repaid the love and care of Talas,
We should evaluate according to the truth.

"Torsoldoy was unbearable to the humiliation,
Cried blind sadly.
Kargalday is young,
But he always found chances,
To look after the uncle and the aunt.
Krichorao came here,
Lived in their house for three days.

"Kutubayi was dismissed from Talas,
Went to Jetisu and became a slave.
In those rough time,
He was still with you.
He was exiled with you,
He came back to hometown with you,
He is an incomparable man.

"Kanchorao and Chachykai,
How to punish them?
Let's discuss together."
Kermanbayi made a fair comment,
Everyone praised him.

Seytek raised his head,
Expressed his idea:
"Kerman's suggestion,
Is reasonable and sincere.

If you let me make decision,
If you think it is reasonable,
If we need interrogate Kanchorao,
We should let sage grandfather Bakay,
Come out in person.
I do not nominate my grandmother,
I believe she will not get angry.
My mother will agree on my idea,
She will not compete for this power.

"I did not see my father since I was born,
My grandmother and grandfather Bakay's appearance,
I only get the chance to see today.
From my childhood till now,
I always make contact with uncle Bakay.
Uncle Krichorao,
Do you have more suggestions to me?"

Krichorao said at the moment:
"I have a few words to tell you,
If Kanchorao changes his mind,
I plead you to show mercy.
Our son Seytek Khan,
Showed his mind,
And let uncle Bakay make the final decision.
We are waiting for the aunt and sister-in-law,
Express their ideas."

People present kept silent,
Excited Kanikai to express her idea:
"Seytek's bosom words,
I appreciate very much,
Bakay now with us,
In Kirgiz full flush days,
Khan Manas had given him the power of making decision.
Do not say it is in Talas,
Even at the edge of Begin city,

Kunwuerbayi sent an envoy to make peace,
It was giant Bakay who made the final decision.
Now Bakay is in power again,
It erases my uneasiness.

"It is said: 'If babies born in the same day,
Fighting is just a game',
What Kanchorao has done,
I, Kris, take it as a game.
If the son of bitch changes his mind,
Please give him a chance of living.
If he does not want to change his mind at all,
We will try to punish him.
I heard in the battle in Begin city,
When Chuwak disappeared,
Manas cried his heart out.
Now what we are doing,
Will let Kanchorao's father Chuwak's spirit rest,
My daughter-in-law Chulek, you should control yourself."

Bakay finally started to talk:
"Thanks for giving me the power today,
Now I will offer my suggestion:
Seytek is people's backbone,
Krichorao is people's pillar,
Kirgiz people of white felt hat,
Pray and plead everyday,
Wait for Krichorao's coming for too long.
When Semtay was alive,
Krichorao's post,
Now Kermanbayi fills his post.
Ajibayi's son Kermanbayi,
Became Khan's clerk from now on,
He is in charge of the Khan's gold seal.
Obolbek and Setertayi,
Now are two Begans of Talas.
Young Kargalday,

Will be the new steward of the palace.

"Kutubayi and Torsoldoy,
Resign and go home relaxed,
Enjoy their old age in peace.
If they have some good plans,
They can come to the palace and give advice at any time.

"Arashi Kanikai and Ayichulek,
Cannot part anymore,
They will stay with Seytek all the time.
This is my initial suggestion,
If you have no different ideas,
We can make the final decision."
No one had a different voice,
Everything is decided according to Bakay's suggestion.

Kermanbayi walked out,
Announced the new appointment to the public.
The grand ceremony Seytek held lasted for two days,
To the third day,
They arranged the trial to Kanchorao.

Kanchorao and Chachykai,
Were escorted into the city.
There were about fifty thousand people,
Stood by the side and watched.

Look, Chachykai,
Staggered like a drunk woman.
Slobber ran out of her mouth,
Gnashed her teeth noisily,
Her eyes were blank.
She does not wear the scarf,
Her hair disheveled and ckustered.
She showed her tongue and laughed foolishly sometimes,
She gazed with staring eyes sometimes,

Then inclined her neck and shouted to the back:
"Pour rubbish in front of me!"
She suddenly kept silent for a while,
Made mysterious face,
Took off his dress and threw it to the side.
The shameless woman was naked,
Pulled the wounds insects stung rotten.

Bakay said as he saw this:
"Do you know the rule?
There are two kinds of people can avoid trial,
One is loony and the other is juvenile."
He asked to,
Expel Chachykai into the wilderness.

Chachykai wandered in the wilderness,
She wanted to go into reeds for a shade,
But reeds did not want to give her a shade,
Instead, stung her body with sharp points.
She had no choice but rushed to the grassland,
Green grass turned into thorn,
Poked her feet bleeding.

She was too thirsty and rushed to the river,
Surface of the water was covered with thick fog,
She could not see where the water was.
She wanted to go into the cave,
The giant rock blocked the passage of the cave.
She crawled into the cave difficultly,
Rocks fell and she ran out in panic.
She came to the Ayinla nakedly,
Dogs barked at her fiercely.

"Oh, Ayichulek, Ayichulek,
We once were embraced by the same man,
Please help me for his sake."
She sometimes shouted like this,

When Ayichulek came and helped her,
She just screamed and ran away.

She picked cow dung in summer pasture,
Rubbed into balls and dried them,
Strung them together with horse tail hair,
Put on her neck as a necklace.
Wandered and went village to village,
Mad and shameless.
One day she came up onto a cliff,
Jumped off and died in the abysmal valley.

Kanchorao Got Punishment from Tens of Thousand of People

Bakay asked to untie Kanchorao,
Gave him food and let him eat full.
Then he said angrily:
"You are such an ungrateful rat,
Your father Chuwak was a brave general,
You should feel guilty to your father's spirit.
Look at other heros' sons,
Why do you differ from them?
What did Semtay do wrong to you?
You have no reason,
To feel discontent and disappointed to him.
Semtay raised you and Krichorao,
Carefully with full of his love,
Develop you two into great heroes!
But you returned kindness with hatred,
You betrayed Ayikoler Khan Manas' spirit!

"Kanikai fed you with her milk,
But you abused her and let her guard calves.
If she let calves eat milk,
You beat her cruelly regardless of her pain.
Is this what all you have done?
How can you ask for forgiveness?

"You asked me to herd camels on foot,
You did not allow me to have a mount.
Oh, you heartless bastard,
Have I ever treated you unfairly?

"When it was in my power,
I raised you as Chuwak's only son.
Let you eat sliced horse intestines,
Never let other look at you with different eyes,
Never let you feel sad lonely!

"I dressed with splendid attire,
I let you ride on fine steed.
I called you Manas' son,
Never let others hurt you!
Since you lived in a separate house,
When did I levy your cattle?
When did I drive your horses away?
I never ruined your crops,
I never damaged any of your tree,
I never opened your white pouch,
I never wasted any of your silver coin,
I never gossiped behind you!

"Kanchorao, you are such a heartless bastard,
You persecuted me by whatever means.
You lifted the whip angrily,
Lashed me and forced me to catch up with camels on foot,
Caught the male camel and brought it to you.
You did not allow me to sleep in the room,
Locked me in the cell cruelly.
What did I do wrong to you?
You can defend yourself by presenting facts!"
Bakay finished his words.

Krichorao started to say:
"Our ancestors have instructions to us:
'As long as the sinner confesses,
The fire in hell will extinguish by itself',
This is absolutely true.

"You should speak out your hidden secrets,

Tell us every detail,
Tell us the ins and outs.
You are at the edge of the grave,
Regret before it is too late and you can save your life!
As long as you do not hide anything,
Your fellow people here,
Will not go behind your past."

Kanikai said to Kanchorao:
"When you were just born,
I was the first one who held you in arms.
When I fed you for the first time,
There was no milk but only blood came out of my breast.
I had the sufficient reason to kill you then,
But I still brought you up into a hero,
But you betrayed me,
Threw me into disaster!

"My son Semtay,
Was kind-hearted and broad-minded.
Once I told her about the blood when I fed you,
He pleaded me to forget the unlucky sign,
His kindness did not get a good reward,
Unexpectedly, you killed him!

"Almanbet and Chuwak were two lions,
Bakay is our wise advisor,
From the time of Manas till now,
No one does not know their names.

"Almanbet, Manas and Chuwak,
Shared the equal prestige in the world.
You are Chuwak's son,
Krichorao is Almanbet's son,
Does he ever hurt you?

"Tell me why did you abuse me?

Why did you abuse elder Bakay?
Why did not humiliate Krichorao so crazily?
How do you become so frenzied?

"You are a shameless rat that seek nothing but profits,
You presented Chulek, as pretty as the moon,
To the devil as a war trophy!
When Chulek was taken away forcibly,
She was pregnant.
I knew the secret,
I longed for the birth of a boy.
I waited month after month and year after year,
Placed my hope on Chulek,
I did not make light of my life for this reason.

"This world of reincarnation,
Will not stop at one spot forever.
Now you fall in retribution,
Suffering righteous people,
Will punish you by hacking process,
On this account, we can sooth people's scars."

Kanikai talked,
And took out a shining short knife,
From a felt sheath.
Krichorao grabbed her hand immediately,
Begged her not to hurry it.
Kermanbayi pressed Kanchorao's head,
Asked him to confess and admit his guilt as soon as possible.

Krichorao saw Kanchorao not speaking,
He persuaded again:
"Oh, my contemporary Kanchorao,
Once I was your bosom friend.
You must believe,
I have no evil intentions to you at all.
Do not be stubborn anymore,

Do not waste your chance to be forgiven."

Kanchorao was burning with a frenzy of rage,
He clamored viciously:
"You bunch of mad dogs,
Do not bark in front of me!
I cannot find any reason,
That I need bow to you.
Krichorao, you are good at trying sweet-talk,
You have full of tricks,
Do not give me that!

"I had the power in hand yesterday,
Bakay put me on trial today.
I only regret I was too kind,
To kill you all,
So it brings me what I have today.

"Do not be such a fuss,
Do not waste your words and time.
I do not want to resign to adversity,
Live in this world like a dog,
I would rather die,
Than drag out an ignoble existence.

"Oh, sonless Bakay and Kanikai,
Sinister woman Ayichulek,
Cunning slave Krichorao,
I do not need your mercy!
What you have said,
Is not as good as my shit..."

Hearing Kanchorao's nonsense talking,
Kermanbayi was unable to contain his anger,
When he drew his knife out,
Black mane wolf's son Seytek stopped him:
"Kermanbayi, do not do it,

It is not proper you draw out your knife!
Uncle Kris said they are brothers,
Do not you hear it?"

Suggestions and persuasion continued,
Facing it,
Kanchorao started his wild talk,
It aroused the hatred of the crowd.

People respected elder Bakay,
Did not call his name but called his honorific title:
"Sage, please let us punish him!
We will trample him fiercely,
We will cut him in slices!"

Bakay replied:
"The bastard does not take the advice,
Stubbornly resist.
Tiger-like Khan Seytek's kind heart,
He dare insult maliciously.
Hero Kris considers old affection and tries to protect him,
Since he had many achievements in wars in the past,
We also want to let him live,
But he is so crazy and act blindly,
Now that he asks for the death wholeheartedly,
Let the justice send him on the way.
If you have no different opinion,
Let Manas' spirit punish him!"

Bakay finished his words and stopped for a while,
The crowd was silent.
Bakay asked to erect an iron post,
Bring wet camel skin,
Wrap Kanchorao's four joints on two legs,
His underbelly and armpit,
And two arms and his thin neck,
Nine parts with the camel skin,

Put camel skin hood on his head,
Chain on his neck.
Connected with iron fetters.

Then Bakay announced to the crowd:
"Escort and parade him through the streets,
Let all Kirgiz people see,
This is the shameful end for the traitor.
Let people unite and live together in peace,
Do not fall out and become enemies.
Unity and happiness are twins,
As long as we unite,
Happy life will be longer and longer.

"Kanchorao is as cruel as a wolf,
He is a traitor betrayed his own people,
He is a usurper stole the throne.
You go through streets for eight days,
Then we will see how to punish him later."

Bakay finished pronouncing judgment,
Obolbek and Setertayi,
Sent people to find hot-tempered men,
They found eight young men,
Divided four into one group.
They escorted Kanchorao,
They did not rest on the way.

They escorted and paraded Kanchorao through streets,
Walked through all places their tribes lived.
One group escorted him during the day,
The other groups took turns at night.
The young men rested in turn,
They did not give Kanchorao any chance.
If counted day and night as two days,
Half months had passed.
Dogs in the village jumped on him,

Bit his muscle on legs off.
Branches and thorns in the woods,
Scratched his face.
Sharp rocks on mountain roads,
Peeled his flesh on the bottom of his feet.

Sixteen days limit was up,
His eyes sunk like black hole,
Cheeks humped high,
His ribs were clearly visible.
The camel skin turned drier and harder,
Wrapped his bones tighter and tighter.
It seemed he only had a last breath,
There was only weak light in his eyes.
To the prescribed time limit,
Kanchorao was escorted back.
When he passed Ayinla,
Kids threw stones at him,
Women thumbed with noses at him.
Old women carried short knives,
Old men carried awls,
Rushed out of doors and swarmed toward him.
If they did it to the heart's content,
They would cut Kanchorao into tiny pieces.

The young men escorted Kanchorao,
Tied him tight on the iron post.
Seytek, Bakay and Krichorao,
Had left the city for Manas' grave.

Kanchorao suffered on the iron post for one day,
Ayichulek and Kanikai sent messengers out,
Called people in one-race-distance,
Into the city.
They piled gold in the center of that place,
The gold pile was as tall as a crouched camel.

Kanikai said to the public:
"You can cut Kanchorao's felsh.
But do not cut his tongue and hurt his guts,
Otherwise he will die easily.
Put the flesh you cut on the scale,
You can get the equal weight of gold."

No men dare cut his flesh,
Women gnashed their teeth angrily,
Carried knives and daggers in hands,
Cut Kanchorao's flesh off,
Rushed to put the flesh they cut on the scale,
And got the same weight gold.

Kanchorao struggled miserably and he did not die yet.
Krichorao, Bakay and Seytek,
Came back at the moment,
They felt astonished when they saw it,
They asked to stop immediately.
A woman called Taipelan,
Rushed ahead and swung the short knife in her hand,
Aimed at Kanchorao's exposed liver,
She gave five fierce pokes,
Kanchorao died immediately.

Kanikai turned round and ordered:
"Do not discard his corpse casually.
Do not feed dogs with it,
No one can be responsible for sullying hunting dogs!
Do not discard it on the ground,
No one can be responsible for staining the earth!
Do not dig grave and bury it,
No one can be responsible for staining the dirt!
Do not let his blood drop on our pastures,
We cannot afford the responsibility of staining grass.

"Do not sprinkle his ashes on the ground,

Go to Samarkand,
There was a flat salt marsh by the side of the road.
There was a cross of thirty roads,
It directed to nine places.
Bury his ashes under the sand,
Pile stones above and put a tombstone,
Write warning words on it:
'A traitor's ashes is buried here,
It is Kanchorao's tomb.'"
Damned Kanchorao and Isolated grave,
Came down the ages till now.

Seytek was forced to leave his hometown,
Now he came back.
He made an inspection tour to all places,
He got familiar with seven valleys.
Facing his hometown, his fellow people, and his family,
He was fully satisfied and in high spirits.
He remembered Olus Khan's Gulinar suddenly,
He missed his lover so much.

Seytek told himself:
"I need go to Olus Khan,
I miss Gulinar so much,
I need welcome her into my family solemnly.
My father-in-law Olus Khan does not have a son,
I will express my regard as a kid."

Seytek made good preparation for a journey,
He asked Kargalday to be the leader,
He chose another three warriors to go together.
He invited Krichorao's wife Akbala to accompany him,
When they were ready to set out,
A little boy came and delivered a message.

When the boy saw Kermanbayi,
He told him what he saw excitedly:

"Seytek is really a great hero,
He has good luck,
He is irresistible,
He has all his wishes come true,
I saw his bride today.

"I saw on a hill today,
Looked around for the animals.
I found a crowd of people on horses suddenly,
They drove flocks of livestock.
I thought they were a bunch of robbers,
I was so scared that I did not know what to do.

"A long camel group appeared after a while,
It was like they were moving.
I looked at a nearer place,
I saw a lot of tents were pitched,
I was ready to leave,
Cavalrymen rushed toward me from all directions.
I almost wetted my pants,
I felt my end day was coming.

"I knew it was impossible for me to run away,
So I waited on the hill helplessly.
The cavalryman rushed to me,
He wore iron chest protector.
He reined his horse and asked me:
'What is the name of this place?'
I said here is Talas,
Kirgiz people live here.

"Then they asked me,
Do I know Seytek has come back to Talas.
I pretended I do not know,
Asked them who is Seytek.
They answered me like this:
'Seytek is Semtay's son,

He is our Khan's son-in-law,
He said after he returns to Talas,
He would come and pick her bride.
Our master Olus Khan,
He sends us to escort Gulinar to here.
Olus Khan calculated the days,
He made an accurate judge.
He told us,
Seytek has returned to Talas.
Kanchorao and Keyaz,
He has beaten them all to pieces.
We send Gulinar under orders,
To Seytek.'

"After I heard what they said:
'So, brothers, let me tell you the truth,
Seytek is our Khan,
We are all his subjects.
We are happy and satisfied after he comes back,
Brothers, please wait here,
Let me report the news to our Khan.'

"So I came back into the city quickly,
I want to report to Seytek Khan:
His bride is coming.
They drive more than five hundred steeds,
They bring thirty camels' load of gifts.
I saw twenty men and women are busy around,
It seems they are servants of the princess."

Hearing the boy's report,
Kermanbayi reported it to Seytek immediately:
"What you want will be fulfilled soon,
Your lover has come.
Your bride Gulinar,
Has come under the escort of Urum people.

"They drive five hundred steeds and present,
And thirty camels' load of dowry,
About twenty servants come also as dowry,
They rest and pitch tents on wide north side,
This is what the boy reported."

Seytek heard the news,
Went back to the palace and arranged to welcome.
"Why does not he go?"
People all felt surprised.

Wise Kermanbayi,
Chose forty agile cavalrymen,
Welcomed the guests with sheep snatching,
Among diligent and eloquent young married women,
He chose thirty to go together.
Akbala was Seytek's bridesmaid,
She led the group to welcome the bride.

The young men did sheep snatching excitedly,
Krigiz came from Urum were filled with thousand thoughts,
They were deeply touched with the warm welcome,
Their previous worries disappeared in a flash.
Young married women came with the bride,
Indroduced Akbala solemnly.

Gulinar bowed and saluted her,
Akbala led the horse for the bride in person.
People welcomed grandly,
Escorted Gulinar into the city.
Urum people received warm hospitality,
The seeing-off scene was more bustling.

Kanikai was smart and nimble,
She was afraid her only son Seytek would suffer disaster,
So she sent,
All servants as dowry back.

Those male and female servants,
Were overcome with unexpected joy.
For servants who did not want to go back,
They arranged houses and gave livestock to them.
The slaves got rid of the bondage,
They started their new life happily.

Let us put this aside,
Sing the story,
How prophetic Kanikai divined with Taytoru steed.

Semtay Returned to the World

Kanikai Predicted Semtay's Life and Death Through a Horse Race

One year passed,
Gifts sent to Seytek from all places,
Were in a steady flow.
Sage Koshaoyi's son Jalgezack,
Heard Seytek returned to Talas,
Talas had its new Khan,
He felt excited.

Jalgezack's father Koshaoyi had a steed,
Its name was Taytoru,
When his father was alive,
He used it to plough and thresh.
Taytoru was ninety one years old this year,
Koshaoyi's son presented it as a great gift,
With full bag of gold,
Fifteen camels carried rice.
He took six reliable companions,
Led a group of camels,
Set out from Atbash.
He marched toward Talas,
He arrived in Kankoler prairie,
He arrived in magical Sire Kurgan city,
Entered the city Manas built.

Hearing the news of tiger Jalgezack's coming,
Krichorao went to welcome in person.
Two heroes hugged each other on the horseback,
Greeted each other warmly.
Tears dropped like rain,

Wetted their collars and chest,
They felt lucky to meet each other,
They appreciated the luck God gave them.

When Jalgezack arrived,
Seytek welcomed outside of the palace,
He asked to invite Bakay immediately,
They sat in the splendid living room happily,
The tablecloth was folded up after the meal,
They accepted Jalgezack's gifts.
The presented gifts and money,
Were registered and put in the storage then and there.
They asked to tie Taytoru steed on the post,
And lifted its head high[1].

Seytek, Bakay, Jalgezack,
Hero Krichorao and Kermanbayi,
Stayed in the palace and chatted.

Kanikai came out of the room,
She saw Taytoru steed,
It attracted her attention.
She walked to the steed,
Fondled the steed's forehead lovely.

She found at the end of the horse mane,
Between its two ears,
There was a splendens-thick mark,
It was the feature of a thorough-bred steed.
With good care and proper lifting,
It would be the winner in the horserace.
She checked the horse teeth and it was ninety years old,
It was an experienced old steed,
Kanikai felt it was a pity.

1 Lift its head high: Lift the horse head high and do not feed it for a whole night before the horserace or the long journey to increase the horse's explosive force.

Krichorao came and explained:
"Ah, my respected moon-white aunt,
Why are absorbed in Taytoru?
It was Koshaoyi's mount,
It is a lavish gift Jalgezack brings to Sire city."

Karmanap lived in Betibakto,
His wife Kardhachy,
Was Bayijagurp's daughter,
Kardhachy did not give birth to any child,
But she gave birth to a son till she was sixty one years old,
His name was Kobegong.
When they were going to hold three-year-old ceremony for him,
Kanchorao rose in rebellion.
Talas was split and was torn and tattered,
People were forced to leave and flee.
Because Kardhachy's parents' family could not come,
They did not hold the ceremony that year.

Kobegong was eighteen years old this year,
Seytek returned to Talas,
Her parents' family could attend the ceremony.
Kardhachy delivered the message to them.
They would hold the ceremony in Bashiona month the year after next.
They invited all people to attend the ceremony.
Khan Seytek, Krichorao,
Uncle Bakay, aunt Kanikai,
And Ayichulek,
They all agreed on attending the ceremony.

Kanikai remembered this,
Said to Krichorao:
"My Kris, I understand,
This is my uncle's steed,
I find on its ear,
It has the mark of thorough-bred steed.

Your brother Semtay,
Was born under the sage's prayer,
He would not die an untimely death.
Someone saw he was knocked down,
But no one found his corpse,
No one buried him.

"We should take good care of Taytoru,
Take it to the horserace on your aunt's ceremony.
We use Taytoru's victory or defeat to divine our luck,
Maybe we can let your brother come back!
Maybe Kirgiz people's life will be changed from then on,
We will have happy life then!"

Kanikai and Krichorao discussed,
Krichorao was in charge of taking care of the steed,
Kanikai was in charge of inspection and analyzing,
They came to an agreement.

From that day on,
Krichorao took care of Taytoru personaly.
He fed it with milk in the morning,
Clean rice was its forage,
He brought smoked sheep tail fat,
Let the steed drink one big bowl of the fat every three days.
Let Taytoru with stiff joints relax,
Let it crouch on carpet and sleep at night,
Lifted its head high in cool place during the day,
After his good care,
To the date of the ceremony,
It set out with vigorous strides.

Because it was his grandaunt who held the ceremony,
Seytek prepared fifteen yurts.
All furniture and decorations in the yurts,
Tea and food for receiving guests were all ready.
Fifteen single-humped camels carried the yurts,

Single-humped camels and double-humped camels mixed,
So there were one hundred camels carried their packs.

Seytek's granduncle had passed away,
So his grandaunt Kardhachy hosted the ceremony,
She announced to the guests:
"Seytek is the host of the ceremony!"

Seeing Seytek coming,
All Khans were scared and dare not come up to him.

Timir Khan's son Yismayili,
Was a Khan too,
Among numerous Bukhara people,
He held the scepter of the power.
Yismayili wanted to meet Seytek,
So he rode on his horse and went through the crowd.
Suddenly he saw Kanikai was standing there,
Raised her chest high arrogantly.
Yismayili watched her carefully,
Kanikai did not have white hair at all,
There was no sign that she became old.

Seeing Kanikai's situation,
Yismayili got angry immediately.
He did not greet the sister,
He did not salute the sister,
But he blamed her:
"What are you doing here?
Do not you know you are getting old?
When my lion-like brother-in-law was alive,
You had the power to control his subjects.
In Semtay's time,
You acted on your own will,
You were the master of Arashi.

"Now Seytek becomes Khan,

You are so shameless,
You fight for the power with your son's son!
You do not care you are old,
You still make up,
You should accept your position in life and stay at home,
Do not swagger through the streets disgracefully!"

Yismayili was filled with rage,
He offended by rude remarks,
Kanikai almost committed suicide.
She remembered her only son Semtay,
Remembered she might have chance to see him again,
So she swallowed insult and made light of her life.

Yismayili met Seytek,
Greeted each other and began the talk:
"There is a saying circulates among the people:
'Let the bull lead cattle flock,
Will find grassland of luxuriant grass.
Let the cow lead cattle flock,
Will get to the edge of cliff.'
Kanikai is my sister,
Please understand my words to her.
She is your grandmother,
Why do you drag her here?
You cannot let the elder's caprice go,
You'd better let her stay at home comfortably.
Kanikai and Chulek stand together,
It is hard to distinguish them from the appearance.
On my way here for you,
She makes gestures to the cavalry."

Seytek replied politely after he heard it:
"Khan Yismayili,
Your words are the sincere advice to us.
We think my father will not die an untimely death,
Maybe we can find him.

So my grandmother takes Taytoru to the horserace,
Divine through its victory or defeat.
In order to have a good luck,
Please do not blame her.

"If we divine successfully,
If Taytoru steed wins all other steeds,
In the horserace,
We will give the credit to my grandmother.
Even I am smashed to pieces,
I will not gossip behind her back.

"Taytoru in the past,
Was Kaoshaoyi's mount.
Grandmother Kanikai, Bakay and Krichorao,
They decided together,
How can I deny it easily.
Now I need wait till the horserace finishes.
If Taytoru steed cannot get the first,
You can say anything till then."

Yismayili mounted and left after he heard it,
Hero Seytek arranged some people,
Gathered livestock as the prizes together,
Put gold, silver and jewelry as award on the table.
They counted the horses one by one,
Seytek chose nine steeds for the horserace.
Picked the riders for the race again.
Riders with yellow face and bulgy eyes,
Riders with flat face and thick lips were eliminated.
Young men with dusky but rosy faces,
Young men with firm muscles and nimble limbs,
Young men with round and black eyes were chosen,
Riders wore Mashino① long robes,
Wore riding scarves and waited on their steeds.

1 Mashino: It is one kind of tight long robe like sport suit riders wear in the horserace.

Ninety tribes applied for the race,
Each tribe chose one judge.
Krichorao administered them,
One hundred people drove their steeds,
They spent ten days and got to the starting point.
Forced their steeds on the way,
Many steeds without horseshoes,
Worn through their hooves and stopped going forward.

The steeds rested at the starting point for three days,
Let the young riders ate full,
Went to toilet and mounted again.
Racing horses one after one,
Stood on the starting line,
The race started with an Omiyin,
Racing steeds were in a mad to be the first.
Dust rose behind covered the sky,
God, do not let us meet such the scene again.

After one day and one night's running,
Those fine steeds had showed their brilliance.
Hero Krichorao watched carefully,
Seytek's nine steeds,
Did not fall behind.
If the rider gave a whip,
Surkoyun would be like having wings on,
During the rime of one meal,
It would exceed all racing horses.

Seytek's Koykuron steed ran like on wings,
Except shooting arrows,
No animals could catch up with it.

Krichorao thought:
"Can I let the horses go on their will?
Or do I let Surkoyun be in the lead by itself?
Or do I let Koykuron rush forward too?

There is one thing difficult for me:
Taytoru is for divining,
If it cannot be the first to get to the finishing point,
Even if you spread money over the earth,
It could not make people satisfied.
Expecting Semtay Khan's returning,
Is all Kirgiz people's wish.
We pray to God to let our wishes come true,
It was sage Koshaoyi's mount before he passed away,
So we let old Taytoru enter the race,
Divine the future through its victory or defeat.
If I let it fall behind,
I feel sorry for the sacred milk aunt fed me in the past."

So Kris told the riders,
Pull Surkoyun and Kuron's reins tight,
Let the nine steeds follow each other tight.

Aunt Kanikai at the moment,
Seemed to see Semtay,
She turned Yismayili's bad behavior over in her mind.
Late at night,
Outstanding aunt disguised as a man,
Coiled her long hair on her head,
Then wore a helmet,
Mounted Sutiboz[①] and set out.

When morning breeze blew,
Kanikai arrived at a place called Tashmoynok.
She dismounted and walked back and forth,
She stretched and waited for the morning to come.
The day broke before long,
Morning fog disappeared gradually,
The first light of morning broke through the mist,
Lightened the earth up.

1 Sutiboz: Kirgiz language. It means cream white.

Kanikai reached her hand in clothes,
Took the telescope she used when she was young out,
She kept it till today.
There were seven layers of lens on the telescope,
The hull was made of white shells,
The lens shined red light like fire,
It was five spans long when it was pulled out.
Kanikai lifted the telescope,
Adjusted and watched,
In Erbeni plain,
Groups of horses galloped,
Steeds were spread out,
But she did not see Taytoru.
Kanikai counted one by one,
From the front to the back.
There were eighty seven steeds,
But she could not find Taytoru.
Kanikai felt worse than go to die,
Sad tears welled up in her eyes.
She felt dizzy,
Overbalanced and sat on the ground.

She lifted the telescop again,
Felt ill at ease:
"Eighty seven horses are in the lead,
It makes me desperate.
Is it a sign,
That Semtay will leave us forever?
Does Yismayili's words,
Indicate my extinction?

"Does not my grandson Seytek,
Leave me a hope of living?
Will I be cursed like Kanchorao,
Will they say my ambition inflate when I get old?
Do the same judgment to me,

Cut me to two from my head to toe.
Do not dig grave and bury my body,
But throw by the side of the road.
Let vultures eat my corpse,
Pass down my bad reputation.
Warn all women:
'Do not be like Kanikai!'
To avoid such an end,
Let me watch with the telescope again.
Maybe I can see Krichorao,
Maybe he can give me some hope."

Kanikai was ill at ease,
Tears fell down.
Hair on her temples shook,
Sleeves were shaky,
She was nervous and sweated a cold sweat.

She lifted the telescope and watched again,
There were ninety galloping steeds,
Seytek's nine steeds,
Appeared in her sight.
Kanikai saw this,
She told herself.
She put all her hope,
On Krichorao:
"My Kris is always filial toward me,
He is good at making plans,
He is smart and agile,
Maybe he can find a shortcut!
Maybe he has gathered and divided our horses!
Maybe he has led the horse to an easy path!"

Aunt Kanikai bit her lips and opened her eyes wide,
Concentrated on the racing horses.
Outstanding fine steed Taytoru,
Bit the bits tight,

In high spirit,
Galloped its hooves excitedly.
The hooves kicked pot-size clods up,
Turned into dust in the air.

Taytoru's situation,
Made Kanikai feel relieved,
Pleaded for late heroes' blessing:
"My life-long lover lion Ayikoler,
You always have infinite faith in me.
You said to me for three times:
'Kanikai, I am satisfied with you.'
If you do not regret at your words,
I plead for your help today.

"Heavy pressure I am facing,
Even the boundless earth cannot bear it.
Two lions Aimanbet and Chuwak,
My brother-in-law general Sirak,
My brother-in-law hero Kokcher,
Eloquent Ajibayi,
All warriors lost their lives,
Plead for your help today.

"Favorite son of six generations' Khans,
Leader of one place Muzburchak,
You died under Karamark people's secret arrow,
I plead that your spirit comes back and helps me.

"Your blessing brings our fellow people happiness,
You talked about past and present reasonably,
Sage uncle Koshaoyi, please help me.

"Forty warriors led by Kergel and Serik,
You were famous in the world.
Once I made battle robe for you carefully,
You wore robes to the battlefield.

I hoped you did not die,
Enjoy the sunshine safely.
I miss you very much till now,
Can you come and help me?"

Competitive aunt Kanishi[①],
Her pressure increased.
She told herself and made the decision:
"I will let Krichorao remember all the time,
Aunt is stuck in despair,
I have no choice but do like this."

The aunt came prepared,
She brought Chuwak's Tashkelty firelock with her.
"This was the gift Almanbet presented Chuwak,
It is always useful at critical moment.
Chuwak left it later,
Let me try it today and see whether it is helpful."
Kanikai showed pleading expression on her face,
Sad tears welled up in her eyes.

She cut Sutiboz's mane off,
Wrapped on the poker and cleaned the bore,
Then cleaned with white cloth strips again and again,
Till the white cloth strips had no dust on it.
She took up the gunpowder bag,
Put gunpowder into the bore,
Wrap the cloth strip on the poker,
Pressed the gunpowder down.
Bullets made of bronze, steel and lead,
Each was of sheep head size,
She put the bullets in the bore,
Pressed with the poker.
He put the gun up on the rock,
Prayed to God first,

① Kanishi: The nickname of Kanikai.

Then prayed to Ayikoler Manas,
And heroes' spirits in heaven.

She ignited the firelock,
Tashkelty shot bullet.
Before the bullet landed,
Ayikoler Manas led those heroes and come.
Kanikai saw at this side,
Krichorao saw at that side,
Ayikoler Manas was the commander,
All spirits come.

Sage Koshaoyi in a blink of an eye,
Came up to Taytoru,
"Damned, what's wrong with you?"
Gave a whip to its bottom.
Taytoru dragged the rein and galloped,
Seytek's nine steeds followed it tight,
Exceeded thirty steeds in front of them.

Krichorao was overjoyed as he saw it,
He shouted his uncle's name.
He called the heroes' names,
One by one.
Nine steeds went shoulder to shoulder,
Clouds of dust rose under the hooves.
When Tashkelty gun was shot,
When Krichorao cheered,
When young riders shouted Manas together,
When Almanbet rode on Sariala steed,
When he grabbed Taytoru's rein,
When strong and tall Ayikoler Manas,
Rode on Ackura steed,
Led troops and marched ahead,
Hero Chuwak rode on Koktikai steed,
Went together with them and whipped courageously.

Sage Koshaoyi, Muzburchak,
Hero Sirak rode on Tilkerzil steed,
Kokcher Khan rode on Kokala steed,
Forty warriors led by Kergel,
Kept the racing horses in the middle,
Shouted and whipped the steeds.

Semtay's Tayburuler steed,
Following Ackura steed tight,
Went in front of Taytoru,
Galloped its hooves and shook its tail,
Ran forward easily.
Krichorao saw Tayburuler coming,
He thought his big brother Semtay returned to the world.

Their group exceeded the nine steeds in the front,
Left those horses far behind.
When hearing the shouting of the name Manas,
When hearing the hero's name,
Herdsmen herded sheep on Erbenie plain,
They felt excited,
They wished Kanikai's steed win the race,
They rode on male sheep immediately,
Pressed sheep belly with legs and ran forward.

Old man herded goats,
Rode on male goat,
Thought he need get to the side of the road in advance,
Whipped and galloped his beloved mount.

Herdsmen herded cattle,
Rode on muscle bull,
Went to the horserace place hurriedly.

Herdsmen herded camels,
Believed Taytoru must win,
Mounted male camel that did not shed hair,

Galloping camel roared along the way.

People who watered the land,
Carried shovels and ran.
People who harvested in the field,
Put the knife on the belt,
Rolled sleeves up and ran.

Women who was milking,
All wished Taytoru win.
Good wishes in one voice,
Showed their true feeling.

Leading horses galloped at full speed,
They almost got to the flagpole of the finishing point.
Bakay saw everything had happened,
Seytek saw Taytoru.
He remembered his grandmother Kanikai at the moment,
He admired her for her shrewd tactics.

He did not see Kanikai who dressed as a man clearly,
Turned round and said to his mother Chulek:
"Sister, go and find my grandmother,
Hold Sadaha and drive evil spirits out for her."

Taytoru led in the front,
Seytek's nine steeds followed tight behind,
It arrived first and touched the flagpole at the finishing point.
People saw it all shed happy tears,
The good news moist people's hearts.

"Thanks to Manas' blessing,
Seytek's career will flourish and grow."
People clapped and cheered,
The cheering sound of victory filled the air.
People swarmed up and asked for gifts,
Among people asked for gifts,

There was Yismayili Khan.
Aunt Kanikai,
Saw Yismayili Khan,
Vented the grudges in her heart:
"I let Taytoru enter the race for divining,
You spread tumors,
You made an arbitrary attack on me,
You said I lose your face,
If you are a hero with dignity,
In the time Kanchorao was Khan,
Semtay was killed,
Yismayili, why do not you do anything as an uncle?

"I lost my only son,
I was forced to separate with my family,
My wings were broken,
My heart was bleeding painfully,
But you stayed in Bukhara and enjoyed your life,
Did you ever think about your sister?

"Seytek has grown up,
He comes back and administers Talas,
Hope he get no hurt from evil remarks,
Your horse hooves never stepped on Talas prairie before.
I divine with horserace,
Do I damage your dignity?

"Unkempt Chachykai,
Is your beloved daughter.
If you really care about your dignity,
When she married Kanchorao,
Why did not you feel ashamed?

"Sage Bakay suffered all kinds of humiliation,
They did not give him horse to ride,
He herded camels on foot for twelve years.
They let me herd calves,

Made me cry for twelve years.
You and me are brother and sister,
Why did not you say maintain our dignity then?

"You kept a straight face yesterday,
Blamed your sister pitilessly,
Taytoru won the race today,
You want to get the benefit like insect Jilidez,
Ask your sister for gifts shamelessly,
And want to share the fruits of victory.
Let your dignity go to hell!
Let your gossip go to hell!"
She gave Sutiboz a lash on its bottom,
Reined and turned the horse round.

Ayichulek had prepared well at the moment,
She asked to bring the yellow cow of white head,
Bring beautiful new clothes,
Let Kanikai take off her dirty old clothes.
To avoid jealous eyes,
To avoid evil remarks,
They held Sadaha ceremony.
Gave Kanikai's old clothes to the crowd,
Cut the cow's meat with skin off,
Gave to people present.
Bukhara people headed by Yismayili,
Stood by the side and watched.

Right at the moment,
Messengers Olus Khan sent,
Came and asked for Taytoru steed.
Shameless Yismayili,
Sent people secretly,
To ask for Taytoru steed too.
Tajik person Timirbek,
Also wanted to get the steed.
Young hero Geodarbeshim,

Also liked the fine steed Taytoru,
For reason of same root,
Asked for the steed.

Among people came from Kangayi,
There was a leader named Janger Khan,
Also sent messengers to intercede,
He also asked for Taytoru.
Mangert person Chonsartbayi,
He had another famous name Sartbayi.
Among people lived in the west,
He was in his prime time.
He also sent people and made the request:
"You must give Taytoru to me,
Otherwise, think about the consequence."

Baghdad people and Egyptians united,
Prepared a lot of gold and silver.
They sent people to trade,
They wanted to exchange valuable gifts for Taytoru.

When Seytek saw this,
He asked Bakay and hero Krichorao,
Aunt Kanikai and Chulek,
And Kermanbayi to come and discuss.

Seytek said to them:
"People from the east, the west and the north,
Tajik people from the south,
All send their envoys.
In order to get Taytoru steed,
They compete fiercely with each other.

"Captain Janger and Sartbayi,
Timirbek from Tajik,
Spoke with their tongue in their cheek.
Especially Sartbayi,

He threatens us to think about the consequence,
He is conducting evil activity openly.
Our Taytoru steed,
Which one is the most suitable person to give it to?
Let's discuss here,
Then present the steed to that person."

Other people were struck dumb with astonishment speechlessly,
Only Krichorao expressed his opinion:
"Timir and Sartbayi from Tajik,
Their message is full of threatening,
We do not need to be scared.

"My father Almanbet's Kerljeran steed,
Had left in Bukhara long ago.
We have no reason to give them Taytoru steed.
Kangayi captain Janger,
Always cast hostile eyes,
On Kirgiz people of white felt hat.

"Ninety-one years old Taytoru steed,
Cannot enter races anymore,
In this race,
Exceeded all other steeds and showed its power.
All people cheered for it,
Envoys asked for it came more and more.

"We should present the steed to Olus Khan,
Because you marry his daughter.
Olus Khan's ancestors were Kirgiz,
He sent Gulinar to us,
Did not trouble us to go to Urum and pick her,
He also asks for Taytoru steed,
We should give it to him."
For Krichorao's suggestion,
No one had different opinion.

On the name list of asking for Taytoru,
There were names of thirty Khans.
More people know they have no chance,
So they do not say it openly.
So hero Krichorao,
Announced to envoys of thirty Khans:
"Seytek's Taytoru steed,
Rushed out and got the first place.
Do you know the steed' background,
It was giant Koshaoyi's mount in the past.
When Seytek mounted the throne,
His uncle Jalgezack,
Sent the steed to him as a gift.

"My father Almanbet's Kerljeran steed,
On mother Arukai's wedding in the past,
Presented to in-laws in Bukhara.
Olus Khan in Urum,
Is from a pure Kirgiz tribe,
He is old and weak now.
Hero Seytek makes his decision,
He will present Taytoru to Olus Khan."

Heard Taytoru's end-result,
Envoys all returned to their places.
Reported to their Khans,
What they had witnessed.

Mangert person Sartbayi,
Thought his face was inferior to a horse.
He felt embarrassed.
Because of this reason,
Sartbayi raised an army later,
Invaded Talas.
Captains Janger and Timirbek,
Thought they would clear it out one day,
They waited and wanted to see,

Whether Olus Khan could come and help.

These people grew evil intentions in their hearts,
Set out hurriedly and angrily.
Because he was jealous over his grandfather got the steed,
Geodar left without saying goodbye.
Envoys from Egypt and Baghdad,
Kept silent and returned unhappily.

Let us put this aside,
Start from how Semtay appeared in Kaypuchy fairy mountain.

Semtay was Saved by Fairies and Stayed with Fairies

One year passed,
People welcomed another new year.
Kutubayi's son Kalado,
Felt bored in Jetisu,
He went to Kaypuchy to play.

Kaypuchy,
Was wild animals' paradise.
Kalado came to this place,
Enjoyed the scenery and visited people,
Enjoyed himself to his heart's content.

He ate and slept on hills,
Hunted a lot of wild animals.
They shouted loudly and ordered the hunting eagles,
Urged their hunting dogs,
Their voices echoed in valleys.
They amused themselves greatly,
They mounted and started to return to Jetisu.

Brave and wise hero Kalado,
Stayed at the back of their group.
He asked young man Tokoy,
To stay and accompany him.
On Kaypuchy mountain ridge,
They lifted telescope,
Looked around and observed,
They found there was a group of people at the mountain foot.

"We have come to this place,
For thirty days.
We have not seen these people,
Who are they?
Are they spies come to explore the way?"

They sat down and watched carefully,
They saw forty one riders,
Among them,
There was a strong and prestigious man.

His brown steed[①],
Was outstanding among horses.
The rider on the horseback,
Was outstanding in the world.
The brown steed,
Swaggered forward,
Looked out of ordinary.
The person on the horseback,
Held an eagle on his hand,
Eagle wings shined dazzling light.
He loosed the eagle into the sky,
Circled in the air.
They beat drums loudly,
Frightened all birds into turning out,
Eagles caught them all,
None of them escaped.

Kalado saw these people's manner,
Fixed his eyes and watched carefully:
"Riders play here,
Are they human beings or fairies from the heaven?
The sun began to set to the west,
Do they dismount and pitch camps here?
Or do they go to other place?

1 Borwn steed: It refers to Semtay's Buruler steed.

I will figure out their background and movements."

Kaypuchy mountain was rolling,
Snow covered on the peaks.
Red cliff was stiff,
It was like to cut it down through a line.
Cliffs stretched to the mountain pass,
Erected at the lowland of the foot of the mountain.
Those people came along the mountain foot,
Disappeared in a while.

Kalado did not leave,
Decided to figure out these people's identity,
If they could get into cliff,
Then they must be fairies from the heaven.

Kalado took Tokoy,
Kicked the horse belly with his heels,
Came to the foot of the mountain quickly,
Followed and watched horse hooves tracks.
He saw forty one riders,
But he only found one horse's tracks,
Others all disappeared.
The places the horse stepped forward,
Hooves kicked out grass of pot lid size.
The place the horse peed,
There was one shooting range between fore and hind legs.
Every place the horse stamped on,
There were deep holes like earth stove.
The horsehead seemed to turn to the cliff,
He concluded after the careful watch.

"It will be clear tomorrow."
Kalado did not feel bored at all,
He slept on the cliff for the night.
Kalado was as huge as a mountain,
He was brave and courageous,

He had great skills and strength.
He did not sleep at all at night and waited for the morning,
Concentrated and watched carefully.
Twenty riders lined up in the morning,
They all dressed as girls.

Kalado stretched his head and looked out from the cliff,
He saw a big and strong figure.
Anyone who saw this face,
Would be swept off his feet.

His teeth were white and shining,
His face was bright like the moon.
His clothes and equipment were made of gold,
Reflected in the sunshine,
He was in a glittering light,
People dare not look up at him.
Another twenty girls came out,
Kalado thought:
"This is a mysterious scene I have ever seen!"

He mounted Jelijetibes[1] steed,
Lifted the whip and shook the rein and followed.
He galloped when they galloped,
He loosed hunting eagle when they did it,
It was getting dark,
They were on returning journey.

Came to the stiff cliff,
They got into the cliff.
Only Kalado could not get in,
He spent another night outside angrily.
He met the morning in annoyrance,
He saw those people again,

1 Jelijetibes: It is the name of a horse. It means the horse runs too fast that wind cannot catch up with it.

He began to miss Semtay.

"People all talk about it,
Semtay could not die an untimely death.
Does he conceal his name and hide in the mountain,
After he got hurt?

"Does he choose from fairies,
Forty beautiful girls?
Presented them to wise Ayichulek,
Cook for her as servants!

"He plays and looses eagle during the day,
Goes back and rest at night,
Does hero Semtay,
Enjoy his life like this?

"Once I heard,
Semtay wore white silk battle robe,
Rode on a brown fine steed.
His eagle is smart and agile long-neck eagle,
He is always with a serious face,
It seems he is suffering."

Young hero Kalado,
Heard from his father many times,
"Semtay was as brave as tiger and was invincible,
He did not show his smile easily,
No one saw him smiling.

"Semtay did not smile,
But he was kindhearted and administered justice.
The burning sight like his,
It was hard to find in the world.
His dignified appearance made people intimidated,
Giants in nowadays cannot compete with him.

"I heard he has a giant body,
We can see him clearly from a distance.

"If what my father said is correct,
This must be Semtay.
I have followed him for six days,
I have missed too many chances.

"When he comes back this evening,
I will stop his brown horse,
In order to let him speak,
I have to use some tricks."

Kalado followed his habit everyday,
Fixed his eyes and watched carefully.

Twenty girls walked in the front,
Twenty girls walked in the back,
Slowly moving people were in front of him.
Kalado dare not go ahead,
Dare not grab the steed rein either.
He ran to them hurriedly,
Blocked their way.
They went around him silently,
Kalado was so anxious that he said in loud voice:

"Ah, our uncle Semtay,
Your mother Kanikai,
Suffered all hardships.
Your wife Ayichulek,
Groaned in pain,
Your only son Seytek,
Cried sadly for you.
Your brother Krichorao suffered humiliation,
Damned Kanchoroa,
Cut his two scapula gristles off.
Pushed them to a jumping-off place,

Sage Bakay also suffered humiliation.

"Uncle, do you know these twelve years,
Damned Kanchorao was as vicious as python!
Your son Seytek has grown up,
Now he has taken Talas back."
Kalado went shoulder to shoulder with them,
And begged him very hard.

No matter how hard Kalado begged,
He did not say anything.
The cliff cracked at the moment,
Those people went in and the cliff closed again.
"I heard uncle is a careless person,
He probably did not pay attention to me.
I will wait till tomorrow morning,
When he comes out of the cliff again,
I will grab his steed rein,
Even if he cuts my head off,
I will let it off..."

Kalado thought over and over,
He did not sleep the whole night.
Kalado was a brave and smart hero,
He wore an armor and helmet,
He encouraged himself,
"When I see them tomorrow morning,
I will stop them and do not step back at all."

The sun rose and lit the earth,
It was almost noon,
The cliff opened,
Those girls walked out,
Beautifully and shiningly.

Uncle came out without looking back,
He had already one shooting range far.

Hero Kalado skipped and ran,
Shook his sleeves and kept pace with him.
Grabbed the rein of the brown steed,
Cried and poured his heart out.

That person began to say:
"My ears sometimes can hear,
Sometimes can hear nothing,
Sometimes I can talk,
Sometimes my tongue is out of control.
My eyes sometimes are bright,
Sometimes are like evening.
When I cannot see clearly,
The earth during the day becomes blurred.

"My name is Semtay,
I only hear Krichorao's name,
Other words you said,
I did not hear clearly..."
Many of his words Kalado did not hear clearly either.

Forty girls swarmed up,
Sorrounded Semtay,
Dragged him back to the cliff and closed it.
Excited hero Kalado,
Shouted to the cliff:

"Let my uncle hero Semtay,
Come out immediately!
Kanikai and Bakay suffered without him,
Hero Krichorao is always in low mood.
Sister-in-law Ayichulek had a drawn face,
She misses you very much.
Seytek always cries and fusses,
He wants to meet his father.
Now he returns to Talas,
He makes scattered fellow people united again.

"Every time uncle's name is mentioned,
Well-off family praises him,
Krigiz people of white felt hat,
Expect uncle to come back all the time.
You damned mountain,
Force my uncle to stay here.
If I give up so easily,
How I can be worthy of salt Seytek provides to me[1]!"

Kalado plucked up his courage,
Lifted his huge battle hammer.
His hammer was made of cast iron,
The hammer head was as big as a giant yurt.
His face clouded,
Swung his hammer angrily,
Pounded at the cliff fiercely.
Along with the cracking sound,
Dust flew in the air,
Giant rocks fell to the front of the mountain,
The towering peaks,
Were almost leveled to the ground.

Day and night,
Kalado pounded the mountain to vent his hatred.
The yurt-size hammer head,
Had been worn to the handle.
The iron handle,
Became thinner and thinner.
His palm was rubbed out bleeding blisters,
The blood he shed,
Could feed many vultures.
Layers of rocks were smashed to powder,
Kalado ached all over and felt exhausted.

† It is a common expression in Kirgiz language. Provide salt, refers to not only food but also all living sources. It also refers to get more benefits and care.

He closed his eyes and soothed from panting,
Bit his lips and opened his eyes with difficulty,
Seeing the mountain became taller than before,
Kalado felt surprised,
He turned round and looked,
He found Semtay was loosing eagle in the wilderness.
Poor Kalado was struck astonished,
He felt sorrowful for the strange result:

"Damned cliff,
Does not return my uncle to the world!
I will tell Ayichulek and Krichorao,
They know what to do.
I will tell Kanikai and Bakay,
They can unravel the mystery.

"Lion Seytek will come,
Seeing his own son,
Will the uncle leave?"

Kalado thought like this,
Turned round and told young Tokoy:
"Tokoy, you are a brave hero,
You are my capable assistant.

"My mount is Chanchykbas[1],
Even gallops on soft road,
It will have no dust rises behind it.
You ride it and scout the enemy situation,
No sentry will notice his action.
Now ride on Chanchykbas and set out,
Deliver news to Khan of Talas.

"Tell him Kutubayi's son Kalado,

1 Chanchykbas: The name of a horse. It refers to the horse walk with light pace and does not kick any dust up.

Came to the mountain in Kaypuchy.
Satisfied Kalado,
Found Semtay on the mountain.
Followed him and begged,
Expected him to open his mouth for two days.
Semtay did not pay any attention to him,
He kept a straight face.
There were forty beautiful girls around him,
Twenty girls led the way in the front,
Twenty girls protected in the back.
At night,
They went into the seamless cliff.

"Semtay rides on the brown steed,
Wears white silk long robe.
Kalado grabbed the rein of his steed,
He then stated to say:
'My ears sometimes can hear clearly,
Sometimes cannot hear clearly.
My eyes sometimes can see clearly,
Sometimes are blurred.
I have lived here for years,
My name is Semtay,
This is the information you can get.'

"He finished his words,
And went into the cliff without looking back.
Kalado was very anxious,
He poured his heart out to the mountain.

"The merciless mountain has no reflection at all,
Kalado was so angry that he pounded the mountain,
He wanted to pick the uncle back to the human world.

"He smashed layers of rocks to powder,
Towering peaks were leveled to ground.
Yurt-size hammer,

Was worn down to it handle.

"The bone and flesh in his palm separated,
His bone exposed and bled hard.
The blood he shed,
Fed many crows and vultures full.

"But the mountain became higher than before,
It reached up into the sky.

"Kalado felt hopeless,
And fell into despair.
He asked me to ride his mount,
Come and deliver the news quickly."

Kalado warned Tokoy again and again:
"Ayichulek and Krichorao are of the same age,
Lion Seytek is young and aggressive,
Old Bakay and Kanikai are of high prestige,
Anyone of them five,
You can send the message.
To anyone except them,
You cannot say anything to leak the news.

"It is a long journey,
Do not be slow and in low mood on your way,
You must come back in ten days."

Accepted the order from the giant Khan,
How Tokoy could refuse to go.
He mounted Chanchykbas steed,
He was so excited,
He galloped toward Talas.

Cute Tokoy was with strong will,
He went on the journey day and night,
Whipped the steed unceasingly.

Left numerous towering mountains behind,
Left numerous plain prairies behind,
Left numerous rivers behind,
Left numerous rolling ridges behind.

Left numerous rolling peaks behind,
Left numerous boundless pastures behind,
Left numerous lakes behind,
Left numerous dry wastelands behind,
Left numerous pebble wilderness behind,
Left numerous soft saline lands behind.

Galloped a long journey,
Not a far distance left to the front,
Young Tokoy whipped Chanchykbas,
Climbed up Kalabula, Chatkarl[1] highland.

Let's turn to people here,
Talk about their interesting things.

A man called Muzoykalcha,
At the vast upstream of Arpa,
On the stiff cliff of Zonko mountain,
In the nest of eagles,
Caught a baby eagle named Akyiyin[2].
Jalgezack got the news,
He sent people for the baby eagle.

Muzoykalcha was a prophet,
To the envoy came to him,
He replied:
"My baby eagle is with white wings,

1 Kalabula, Chatkarl: Place names. Kalabula means black male camel. Chatkarl means bushes.

2 Akyiyin: Kirgiz language. Ak means white. Yiyin means shoulder. It means white-shouldered eagle. It is an eagle with white eyes, thick eyelids, white feather on shoulders and strong legs.

Once it meets its prey,
It never let them off.
Look at its appearance,
It is worthy of its name Chubar[①],
Look at its feather from its back,
It is glittering like bird Tinar[②],
It predicts its luck in the future,
Will lead the way like Maybos[③].

"Look at the shape of its wings carefully,
It is called bird Jafukanat[④].
Look at its glowing eyes,
It is like bird Kertiboz[⑤].
We can expect its reproductive ability,
Will be called bird Yibikz[⑥].
These characters of rare birds,
Are all in the baby eagle.

"Jalgezack sends you for it,
If I present him the eagle,
What can he give me as a reward?
If he really wants the baby eagle,
Let Jalgezack come and ask for it in person."

The envoy went back,
Reported to Jalgezack accurately,

1 Chubar: It is one god bird.

2 Tinar: It is one eagle. It has white eyes, colorful feather, short and strong talons and it is a giant among eagles.

3 Maybos: It is one eagle. Its head is like snake head. It has high nose bridge, yellow eyes. It can hunt bear, wolf, fox and argali.

4 Jafukanart: It is one eagle. It has slim and long body. Its wings are like quail's wings. It has long tail and feather on its shoulders is needle-like and covers its shoulders.

5 Kertiboz: It is one eagle. It has a perfectly round body, short tail, grey feather and red eyes.

6 Yibikz: It is one eagle. It has pretty appearance, small head, blue eyes, black and blue feather and black spotted tail.

Got the news of the baby eagle,
How could Jalgezack have a good sleep anymore?
He mounted and set out from Atbash,
Climbed over Mazhayili ridge,
In order to meet Muzoykalcha earlier,
He whipped and galloped all the way.

Heard the news of Jalgezack's coming,
People of Kalcha tribe discussed:
"Muzoykalcha, your luck has run out,
You did not give the eagle to the hero,
You trouble him to make a special trip to come,
You are gone too far this time.

"Koshaoyi's son Jalgezack,
Is not that kind of person does not know the rule,
He must give you reward if you present the eagle.
Under the protection of Kirgiz,
There are forty households of our Kalcha tribe.
If you reach a deadlock with Jalgezack,
What shall we do?"
Kalcha people were haunted with fear,
They were dissatisfied with Muzoy.
Muzoykalcha felt uneasy at the moment,
He was like pushing the panic button.

Jalgezack galloped on the plain,
Ayinla in the front appeared in his sight.
He saw people there were feared,
He went directly to Muzoykalcha's home and dismounted.

Muzoykalcha was still young,
Forty households of Kalcha people lived there,
He was the captain of these Kalcha people.

They came in a hurry,
Lowered their heads and bowed and held the guest's rein,

Butchered fat mare,
Prepared a feast to welcome the guest,
Muzoykalcha carried the baby eagle the next day,
Headed people of Kalcha tribe,
Came and stood in a row in front of Jalgezack.
Let him have a taste of the baby eagle's bearing.

Sage father Koshaoyi,
Always used eagles in the battle,
He was used to evaluate eagles.
Jalgezack learned from his father,
He knew how to evaluate birds.
Jalgezack watched carefully,
He found the baby eagle's twelve characters.
On shoulders of the eaglem
There were two pinches of white hair waved.

Feather on its two wings,
Was whiter than bird Kajir[①].
It could not fly when it was hungry,
It caught preys with full of its strength when it was full,
It had a nature of piggish eater.
It was like bird Mayibos,
It left a puddle of oil wherever it rested.
If it spread its wings and flew,
No birds could compete with it.

It had Kockamuchy[②]'s power,
It had feather like bird Chubar on its chest,
It had texture like bird Tinar on its back.
It was the best among eagles,
It was noble bird Dordok[③]'s offspring.

1 Kajir: It is a kind of ferocious bird. It is similar to vulture, but its feather is white.

2 Kockamuchy: It is an eagle. It has thick eyelids, straight tail, a blue tube-like bone from its back to its tail and tassel-shaped feather on its tail.

3 Dordok: It is one kind of noble eagle.

Its appearance was as pretty as Yibikz,
It was hard to find such an eagle in the world.
Prey under its chasing was impossible to escape,
Prey under its talons was bleeding hard.
It was normal at first sight,
It was like yellow Eji[1].

Jalgezack looked at it carefully:
"The eagle finds its food between Jetisu,
It is as agile as bird Sirak[2],
Find such an outstanding wagle,
You are so lucky, Muzoykal.
When your grandfather Kubat was alive,
On the cliff of Zonko mountain,
At where eagles nested and hatched nestlings,
He found a white baby eagle,
He presented it to lion Ayikoler.

"In Jayik, the upstream place of Arpa,
On the stiff cliff,
The white eagle hatched a baby eagle,
It landed by the side of lion Ayikoler.
The lyrics singers sing now,
Were passed down from then on.
According to our information,
From then on till now,
There was no any other god bird appeared.

"Its mother is Japukanat,
Its father is magical golden eagle.
With their braveness and courage,
They came and hatched here.

1 Yellow Eji: It is one kind of eagle. It does not have a big body, but it is heavy. It has strong talons, yellow feather and blue eyes. It has a steady temper.

2 Sirak: It is one kind of eagle. It is red with red eyes. Its bones are larger than other eagles.

"Muzoybayi, if you think it is acceptable,
Please give this eagle to me!
I will compensate you,
With three hundred horses, five hundred sheep,
Forty camels and fifty cows.
And my precious Deylida[1] costume,
Which cost me four hundred gold coins."

He asked the young man accompanied him,
Put the robe on Muzoy.

"Do not think I take the eagle away without paying,
I will let you administer Kurtka city.
If you are still dissatisfied,
Tell me and do not hide anything from me.
If you want more livestock,
I am willing to give you."

Hearing Jalgezack's generous words,
Kalcha people felt anxious.
They all thought Jalgezack meant opposite to what he said,
They firmly believed it was Muzoy who caused the trouble.
"We cannot make Jalgezack dissatisfied anymore,
Let's leave for Atbash immediately,
Obey his every order,"

Muzoykalcha was frozen with terror,
His tongue became stiff and he could say nothing.

Seeing these frightened people,
Jalgezack said again:
"Fellow people, do not panic!
There is a saying:
'Beautiful girl and thorough-bred steed,
Alert hunting dog and eagle,

1 Deylida: It is the name of one valuable silk.

They are all priceless treasures.'
'There is no bone in a tongue,
Exchanging does not fear of high rank officials.'
These two sayings of 'No',
Pass down from generation to generation."

After the time of almost one meal,
People were still kept silent.
Seeing them not daring to drive livestock,
Jalgezack waited there for three days.
He still did not see anyone coming,
He had to ask to drive the livestock,
To them as he promised.
Forty households of poor people of Kalcha tribe,
They were overjoyed.

Hero Jalgezack got the eagle,
Till it molted for three times and he loosed it.
Every beast of sharp teeth met it,
Wild beast, wolf and fox were all caught.

As it saw wolverine, silver fox and wildcat,
It could catch them at anytime.

Lynx, mink and jackal,
Weasel and Madili,
Could not escape from its talons either.

It hunted male argali and female argali,
It hunted wild male goats and female goats,
Antelope, roe deer and gazelle,
None of them could escape,
The games it hunted piled up like a hill.
It wore hard steel cones on its talons,
It cut its prey's belly open as it caught the prey.

It never attacked sheepdogs in Ayinla,

Even naughty kids provoked it deliberately,
Dragged its feather,
It pretended to fall asleep and did not open its eyes.
It was smarter than an ordinary person,
It was a smart and alert creature.

Krichorao heard the news of the eagle,
He sent people to come and borrow it:
"Please lend me it for three months,
Then I will return it perfectly,
I will thank you with a high price."
Krichorao made an exact returning time.

One day hero Krichorao had got the eagle,
He played in Chatkarl of Kalabula.
A man with a horse,
Galloped toward him from afar in high speed.
Alert Krichorao recognized immediately,
The man rode on Kalado's steed Chanchykbas,
Then, who was the man on the horseback?

Tokoy run wildly forward,
He saw Krichorao suddenly,
He dismounted immediately,
Went to Krichorao on foot and saluted.
Hero Krichorao accepted his greetings:
"You ride on Chanchykbas and come hurriedly,
What make you in such a hurry?
Jezkanpire's seven children,
And Jedigair people in Jetisu, are they alright?"

Young Tokoy loosened his tongue,
Vividly and orderly,
What he had witnessed,
What Kalado suffered,
From the beginning to the end,
He described in detail.

Tiger-like hero Krichorao,
Heard Semtay's information,
His eyes welled up with exciting tears.
He took the eyeshade off the eagle's eyes,
Tied a letter over the eagle's neck:
"My cute Akyiyin,
You really bring us good luck,
Now the exact news comes to us,
We know where black mane wolf semtay is now!
You fly to Sire city as soon as possible,
Land by the side of Seytek and Kanikai,
Bakay and Chulek,
You must deliver them the letter!"

The eagle's eyeshade and holding frame,
The leather glove used to hold the eagle,
He took them off,
Hid in a secret place in giant Berita's house.
Krichorao believed Acyiyin could deliver the news,
Others would gallop their steeds after they got the news.
He did not let Tokoy rest,
Took him and stepped on the returning journey.
Krichorao's saddle was beset with silver,
It shined under the sunshine.

Krichorao had traveled this area many times,
He turned onto a shortcut he was familiar.
He whipped Surkoyun steed and galloped,
Like a running wild goat.
Hero Krichorao talked to Surkoyun steed secretly:
"Miserable days are always around me,
Beautiful days are ahead of me.

"I have got the news that my brother is still alive,
I give you two days,
Take me to Kaypuchy mountain.
It is my wish to see my brother earlier,

You are also happy to meet Tayburuler."
Surkoyun steed had the heart connection with its master,
It galloped its hooves at top speed.

Young Tokoy whipped Chanchykbas,
Galloped shoulder to shoulder with Suekoyun for a meal-time.
Surkoyun galloped faster and faster,
It left Chanchykbas far behind.
Krichorao whipped his steed,
After two days and two nights,
They finally arrived at Kaypuchy mountain.

When Krichorao arrived,
Strong Kalado was standing there,
Blood stained his arms and palms red.
Sweat ran down along his legs,
Like spouting spring water.

Seeing Krichorao coming,
Kalado felt excited.
Before they greeted each other,
Forty girls appeared in front of them,
They escorted Semtay and came.

Krichorao whipped Surkoyun steed,
Got close to Semtay courageously,
Greeted him in loud voice.
Semtay did not look at him at all,
Did not show his smile face life before.
He sat on the back of the brown steed steadily,
Went straight forward without saying anything,
The white eagle was on his arm proudly.

Krichorao thought as he saw it,
"In the last fourteen years,
We have suffered too many hardships,
Brother did not get any news,

Maybe he is complaining about us.

"Oh, my dear brother,
We were helpless at that time,
You have no reason to blame us,
We have expected for fourteen years,
We have no way to find out where you are!"
Krichorao flowed on without stopping.

Right at the moment,
The cliff opened with a crack,
Hero Krichorao was afraid they entered the cliff,
He worried but did not know what to do.
No matter how anxious he was,
Girls and Semtay,
Were still disappeared in the mountain.

Krichorao and Kalado,
Pitched their camp right at that place,
They hunted fat deer,
Prepared delicious meat.
When the sun set and the evening was coming,
Tokoy came and joined them,
Tasted the fresh deer meat together.

Till next late morning,
Girls and Semtay,
Came out in a wild geese formation,
Went to the plain at the foot of the mountain.

Seeing they were leaving,
Brave Krichorao chased them up,
He followed Semtay tight,
Poured his heart to Semtay.
The big brother still kept silent,
He even did not make any sound.
When he turned his steed round,

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Grasped Tayburuler's rein suddenly,
Raised a series of questions to the steed:
"I, Krichorao, recognize you, Buruler,
You once were presented to Kazakh people,
Where do you come to meet us?
I also recognize you, the white eagle,
When big brother disappeared,
Ayichulek loosed your rope,
Where do you come today to meet us?"

And he said to Semtay,
"It has been fourteen years I did not see the big brother,
I always feel depressed.

"When I was as little as an aphid,
You put me in your pouch and tied behind the saddle,
You took care of me and raised me.
Now you completely ignore me,
What have I done make you disappointed about me?
I have followed you for two days,
You even do not turn round and look at me.

"Aunt Kanikai brought you up,
With her pure milk,
Watched you day and night.
How hard she is expecting for your coming back,
Have you forgotten her?

"Giant Bakay herded Camels,
In the wilderness for twelve years.
He did not have a mount and herded on foot,
He missed at all times,
He cried his eyes swelled as big as a fist,
Unstopping tears welled up his eyes all the time.

"Ayichulek was forced to move to Jetisu,

As a trophy.
She gave birth to your son Seytek there,
Now he has grown into a giant steed cannot bear.
Your wife Ayichulek,
Suffered too much for you and hair on her temples turns white.
Fellow Krigiz of white felt hat,
They are eager to see you, brother."

Krichorao's voice,
Semtay could hear sometimes and could not sometimes.
He opened his mouth with difficulty,
Said to him in low voice:
"My ears cannot hear clearly,
What you have said,
I cannot hear them all clearly.
My eyes cannot see clearly,
Everything in front of me is blurring.
Kanikai, Bakay, and Chulek you mentioned,
I seem to hear,
You are Krichorao,
I have figured out."

Krichorao wore a shirt,
Which could transfer him.
Those mysterious girls,
Were afraid he would transfer suddenly,
And take Semtay and flee away.
So they swarmed up,
Surrounded them in the center.
They pulled Krichorao's sleeves at the same time,
Grasped the rein of the brown steed tight,
Urged Semtay to go back quickly.
They could not separate Krichorao and Semtay,
They were so surprised about magical Krichorao!

Let me explain by the way,
The background of those girls:

In the old days,
There was a man called Kaypuchal.
Although he lived in the human world,
He married a fairy.

The fairy got pregnant every year,
Gave birth to a beautiful baby girl each year.
When their first daughter was three years old,
Giant Shukshurdo captured her,
When their second daughter was one year old,
The giant captured her.
Their rest baby girls,
When they were less than forty days old,
The giant captured them one after one.

They had one each year and lost one each year,
Kaypuchal and his wife,
Wailed painfully like wolves.
When the wife got pregnant for the seventh baby,
The couple began to worry.
When the time of delivering approached,
Kaypuchal thought up a plan.
He found a pregnant dog,
Fed it full with dish-water everyday,
Kept it under the strict watch.

One day the wife was in labor,
She gave birth to a girl,
The girl had the dress of white swan on her.
Kaypuchal saw it,
He rushed to the dog.
The dog gave birth to a little puppy,
Kaypuchal held the puppy up in a hurry,
Took it to his wife,
Told his wife:
"You have given birth to six girls,
They were all captured by giant Shukshurdo.

We lost our beloved daughters,
We are lost in endless sorrow.
Today you give birth to our seventh daughter,
My dear wife, please sit up,
Pretend to cry sadly toward the puppy.
I will take the baby away,
Put her in a proper place."

Kaypuchal,
Discussed with his wife like this,
To avoid the trouble in the future.

Deft-handed Kaypuchal,
Wrapped the girl with the swan dress,
Came to Yurgunchy,
Came to where Keyiba people lived,
He then put the baby on the ground.
A female argali baaed coming,
Began to feed the baby girl.

Akun Khan hunted at that time there,
He took the girl back home,
Named her Ayichulek,
And raised her carefully.
Chinkogeo, Toltoy and Semtay,
Fought hard for winning her,
The earth was dyed red with blood.

"Akun Khan's daughter Ayichulek,
Always caused wars."
The saying was spreading in the world.
Before Kaypuchal came back home,
Shukshurdo came first.

As he went into the room,
He saw Kaypuchal's wife,
Crying toward a puppy sadly.

Shukshurdo was greatly frightened,
Searched inside and outside,
Of Kaypuchal's house carefully.
He firmly believed She gave birth to a dog this time,
So he never stepped in Kaypuchal's threshold again,
Kaypuchal and his wife lived a peaceful life since then.

His wife then did not get pregnant for years,
Many years later she gave birth to another girl.
They named her Kokmenchok[1],
She was beautiful out of ordinary.

She knew what had happened in the past,
From Kaypuchal,
She also knew exactly,
Akun Khan's daughter Chulek,
Was her sister.

But who married Chulek,
Kokmenchok did not know it yet,
Kaypuchal's daughter Kokmenchok,
Mastered all magics.
She always wore the pigeon dress,
Led forty maidservants,
Between the heaven and the human world,
Toured and played freely.
In every Bashiona month,
She came and played at Tort lake[2] in Kankoler.
She came when there was no one there,
And she left when there was no one there.
She took off the feather dress and transferred into a girl,
Played in the lake happily.

She flew over Kankoler this year again,

1 Kokmenchok: Kirgiz language. It means blue pearl.

2 Tort lake: Kirgiz language. It means four lakes.

There were full of people around the lake,
It was not empty like previous years.
Kokmenchok did not return,
She circled in the air,
Wanted to see what was happening there.

Right at the moment,
Unscrupulous Kanchorao,
Poked toward Semtay!
Then another man came,
Cut and hurt Semtay's temple.

Semtay crouched with his hands on the ground,
His helmet was lifted,
His face glowed the earth.
Kokmanchok thought as she saw this:
"In the heaven and in the human world,
There is no place I have not been,
But I have never met a man like him."

Semtay confronted a catastrophe,
He was like to be covered with roaring flames.

Kokmenchok cast a magic,
She made Semtay disappeared.
It is spread widely since then:
"Semtay was born after the prayer,
He would not die an untimely death.
No one witnessed his death,
No one dug the grave and buried him."

Kokmenchok saved him and kept him in the mountain,
Did not let others know his identity,
Took good care of him and cured his wounds.

Semtay's head got injured from the axe,
His lungs were pierced with spears.

Kokmenchok treated him carefully,
He finally recovered mostly to the currant situation.
His head was cut injured,
Blood clotted and could not flow through,
So his tongue is stiff and could not talk.
Kokmenchok tried all ways she knew,
And all medicines she could find.

She cured his purulent wounds,
But his injured nerves were not cured.
Because of these reasons,
Semtay's tongue did not work well,
He spoke with a lisp like a baby.
His ears were blocked,
He could not hear the sound clearly,
There was no sunshine in the cave,
So turbid spots spread all over his eyes.

One day, his white eagle,
Sceamed and flew to Kaypuchy.
As it saw Semtay,
It landed on his arm happily.
The other day, his brown steed,
Came to him with its saddle on.

Semtay became dumb who could not say,
Became deaf who could not hear,
Kokmenchok let Semtay,
Ride on the brown steed,
Loosed eagle and hunted during the daytime,
Caught a lot of birds.
He amused himself like this,
Whole three month namely ninety days passed.

In order to take Semtay back,
The girls swarmed up.
In order to drag Semtay's mount back,

They pulled the horse rein,
The rein was too big to hold with their hands,
And too big to hold with their arms too.
They drove the steed from its back,
But the rein was still in Krihcoroa's hands,
Buruler steed did not move at all like a mountain.

Kalado and Tokoy stood by the side,
Fixed their eyes and watched.
Krichorao stood with the big brother,
Valiant and heroic in bearing.
Let the warriors stay here temporarily,
Let's see other people's information.

Jalgezack's Ackanat[①],
Spread its wings and flew.
Even bird Japukanat with a sparrow-shoulder,
Could not catch up with it.

This smart creature,
Skyrocketed against the cool breeze,
Its wings splashed with sparkles,
Along with the long roaring,
Its tail spouted smoke,
Rose in high sky.
It folded its wings sometimes,
Oversaw where Sire city was.

Dived sharply like an arrow,
Numerous poor houses and walls,
Could not bear its rushing force,
Shook one after one.
All residents in the city,
No matter they stayed inside,
Or walked outside,

1 Ackanat: It means bird or eagle with white wings. It refers to Akyiyin here.

Everyone heard the deafening noise.

The earth was shaking,
Houses were shaking too.
People thought it was an earthquake,
They ran out of the houses in great panic.
Akyiyin brought the letter,
Landed on the edge of the city wall.
Before it could stand still,
It began to scream.

Akyiyin flew to them,
Seytek was the first one who saw it:

"Why does my uncle,
Fly Akyiyin back to the city?
Uncle let Akyiyin come back,
He must have his reason."

Before he could figure it out,
His grandmother Kanikai had come to him.
Khan Bakay with trembled legs,
Waddled close him,
Each of his long beard,
Waved in wind.
Ayichulek walked with a light pace,
Also came in a hurry.

Kanikai started to say:
"My Arashi Bakay,
I had a dream last night,
I dreamed of a lucky thing.

"In hero Khan Manas' Sire city,
Its city gate collapses suddenly.
Almanbet has been in the other world,
Comes immediately and restores it as it was before.

Only the connection part of the gate header,
Looks not the same like before,
You, Arashi Bakay, reassemble it,
When the staple could not be pulled out,
I fix it personally.
Then we find the iron of the lock,
Has no eye left to be locked.
It is uncle Koshaoyi,
Who makes the eyes in person,
When the eyes cannot align,
It is my Chulek who cast a spell and makes them align.

"A black camel's saddle pad drops on the ground,
It is my Krihcorao who put it back onto the camel back.
In my Seytek's room,
There is a gold bed.
A magical bird Alpu,
Sits on Seytek's head.

"I estimate according to my dream,
Krichorao has Semtay's information.
If Akyiyin is tied outside,
It would be starved to death,
Maybe this is the reason Krichorao let it come back.
Cute Akyiyin,
Once rested at the sage's home,
It spent three molting periods there.
Maybe it flies back,
To send us the news!
Maybe my explanation,
Isn't just a pure guess.

"If my dream last night comes true,
Let us inquire about the information.
Lucky Krichoroa,
Maybe will deliver us Semtay's good news.
I ponder my dream last night over and over,

I also calculate the months and dates carefully,
Taytoru steed entered the horserace,
Will come back to Seytek in eleven days.
Maybe the day Taytoru comes back,
Is also the day Semtay returns."

Seytek continued the talk:
"My noble grandmother's wisdom,
Is nothing less than human being's mother Ava.
Grandmother's judgment,
Is always correct.
Grandmother's suggestion,
Is always the best.

"I will mount Koykuron steed,
Follow uncle Kris' trace.
No matter where he goes,
I will go,
And report you the exact news."

Bakay continued to talk at the moment:
"One day two months ago,
I had the same prediction.
Khan Seytek,
Kanikai and Ayichulek,
I always want to discuss with you over it.

"I dreamed I had a green coat,
But there were no sleeves and half of the collar was missing,
My beard was half shorter than it was as usual.

"When I felt annoyed about it,
Kris asked to shake the coat down and wear it,
Asked me to stroke my beard and look at its length again.
I shook the coat and it became a good coat,
I stroked my beard and it was the same like before.

"So I had a prediction from then on:
With smart Krichorao's great effort,
Our great hero Semtay,
We must have chance to meet him again."
Ayichulek encouraged by the side:
"Let's go, mother, let's go together,
I dreamed of the moon last night,
It came to my arms,
I held the moon in my hands,
Is it not a sign of me and Semtay will meet soon?

"If we cannot arrive in time,
Your son's heart will be covered with shadow."

Seeing them wasting time talking,
Cute creature Akyiyin,
Flapped its wings toward the sun,
Bobbed its tail to the ground.
It looked up to the direction of Kaypuchy,
It seemed it was ready to fly into the sky.

Ayichulek at the moment,
Instructed Seytek:
"Order your servants now,
Ask them to saddle Akjal and Sutiboz,
Bring them and let your grandparents ride.
I have wings,
So I can fly there.

"If I fly in the front,
Leave the elders on horses behind,
It will break Kirgiz rules.
I, Ayichulek,
The whole world will mock at me.
So, my kid,
I will fly slowly behind you.

"My kid, when you see your father,
Do not rush to the front recklessly,
Do not fix your eyes on your father.

"Your father Semtay,
His face is like glowing like gold,
He is out of ordinary.
His brilliant light shines over the world,
Like pearls spread.

"He is afraid of others seeing his face,
He never takes his veil off.
He is afraid others would get hurt from his eyes,
He never takes his eyeshades off.
If you rush ahead to his front,
You will bring troubles for yourself."

Akyiyin stretched its neck at the moment,
Its feather was clean like it was just washed.
Showed the letter,
On its neck to them.

Seytek reached his hand to the letter,
Opened and read:
"It is said, Kalado finds my missing brother,
In Kaypuchy mounitan.
He asked Tokoy to deliver the news to me,
As I got the news,
I have no time to go back but come here.
Wise uncle and aunt,
Sister-in-law Ayichulek and nephew Seytek,
You four come and follow me as soon as possible.
Before we figure it out,
Do not let others know it."

Semtay Left the Fairy Mountain and Returned to the Human World

After they read the letter,
They mounted and set out without hesitation,
Uncle Bakay rode on Akjal,
Aunt Kanikai rode on Sutiboz,
Seytek rode on Koykuron,
Ayichulek transferred into a swan,
They rushed forward day and night,
They finally arrived at Kaypuchy mountain.

Lion Krihcorao looked up,
Uncle Bakay wagged from side to side on the horseback,
His silver beard glittered in the sunshine.
Aunt Kanikai whipped her mount,
Milk had spouted out of her breasts.
Nephew Seytek rode on Koykuron steed,
Whipped and galloped ahead.
Sister-in-law Chulek transferred into a swan,
Silver wings flapped under the sun,
The sky was glowing with it.

Big brother hero Semtay,
Did not care them at all,
He said to Krichorao:
"If magical water Sufuta[①] drops in my ear,
Maybe my ears can recover.
If the magical water drops in my eyes,
Maybe my eyes can recover.

1 Sufutar: It is a magical spring in the legend.

I always miss mother Kanikai's milk,
Her milk is much better than magical water Sufutar.

"If scrape my tongue with Koymalik[1],
Maybe my tongue can become soft.
If I can find glossy Ganodorma Suysal[2],
Maybe I can recover with full of energy.

I guess from your voice,
It seems you are my Krichoao..."

Krichorao heard what he said,
He was very excited and said:
"Big brother, look, giant Bakay comes,
Aunt Kanikai comes,
Your queen Ayichulek comes,
Your son Seytek comes.
Brother, you should see them,
You should shake hands with them."

What Krichorao had said,
Semtay did not hear clearly,
He just told Krichorao again and again:
"Krichorao, go back soon,
Tell Kanikai and elder Bakay,
Collect and prepare for me,
The medicine can cure me."

"Ok, big brother,
I will go now and do it."

Right at that moment,
Bakay and Kanikai walked in the front,
Chulek and Seytek followed them,

1 Koymalik: It is one of the medicine used in scraping in the legend.

2 Suysal: It is said she was a female miracle doctor.

They came to the front of Semtay together.
Krichorao consoled old Bakay:
"Do not be sad, my uncle.
Be strong, do not cry,
Let me tell you what happened here."
Hero Kris told them,
What Semtay said word to word.

Old Bakay spoke loudly,
His voice was like bronze-made Kumuz:
"Oh, my Arashi Kanikai,
You have the ability to divine the unknown,
The things will happen in the future,
And the time when the things happen,
You can foresee accurately.

"I estimate you still keep your milk,
Put it on his eyes now.

"The leopard hero requires,
To scrape his tongue with Koymalik,
Maybe his tongue can become nimble.
But where can we find Koymalik?"

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Was kindhearted and wise.
No difficult problem could beat him,
He said sincerely:
"Dear uncle Bakay,
Each of your beard,
Works as good as Koymalik,
For that glossy Ganoderma Suysal,
In my opinion,
Sister-in-law Ayichulek is much better than it!

"Once my big brother embraces Seytek,
He will be encouraged and with full of energy.

My sister-in-law and Seytek,
Are better than Suysal."

Kanikai said at the moment:
"When I fed Kanchorao in the past,
He sucked blood out.
My breast had no milk anymore.
I felt my breasts swell just now,
The left nipple Kanchorao sucked blood out,
White milk will spout soon."

Krichorao urged immediately:
"Dear aunt, if it is like you said,
Please squeeze your milk into my brother's ears,
Sister-in-law, hold the milk with your hands,
Smear it onto my brother's eyes."

Dear sister-in-law Ayichulek,
Kept Momingjan's magical medicine.
As long as the person is not at death's door from his illness,
It could cure it.
Tumor of thirty years,
Would be removed as the medicine was used.
Rusted silver for forty years,
Smeared the medicine on it,
It would shine again.

Ayichulek took the medicine out,
Mixed up with the milk.
Put it in Semtay's ears first,
Then smeared on his eyes.
She took out handkerchief Sulumsur[①],
Wiped gently again and again.

Uncle Bakay,

① Sulumsur: It is a handkerchief which is soft and can sterilize in the legend.

Stroked his beard with his fingers,
When he finished,
There was one beard on his finger.
He asked Ayichulek to take the beard,
And scraped Semtay's tongue with it.

Ayichulek dare not accept it rashly,
She bowed and stepped back,
Then knelt on the ground.

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Accepted Bakay's beard,
He shed happy tears.
Krichorao shouted loudly:
"I find Koymalik,
My brother, please stick your tongue out."

Semtay stuck out his tongue,
Krichorao used that silver beard,
Scraped his red tongue seven times.

Semtay felt at the moment,
The stream bubbled by his ears.
Suddenly it became buzzing sound,
It was like insects flew by his ears.

His eye sockets were sore,
The root of his tongue was itchy,
He was refreshed,
He felt comfortable all over.

His eyes became as bright as the morning star,
His hearing recovered completely.
He winked eyes and looked up to the sky,
He opened his eyes wide and looked down to the earth.
He called the uncle's name,
Hugged giant Bakay tight.

Uncle Bakay broke into loud sobs,
The mountain was shocked and rocks fell.
"When I was as prestigious as diamond,
When I could carry forty-span long arrow bag,
When lion Manas was alive,
It was so good if I died gracefully then!
When you were alive safely and healthily,
It was so good if I died gracefully then!
I fell in damned Kanchorao's hands,
I suffered all unprecedented hardships!"

Semtay consoled him:
"My uncle, do not cry,
Do not torture your noble life,
It is not like your brave character,
Your son has come back safely,
You do not need to cry like this."

Semtay always missed,
His mother Kanikai very much.
He threw himself in his mother's arms,
He felt comfortable immediately,
He napped and opened his eyes.

Ayichulek took a look at giant Bakay,
Hid behind Kanikai primly,
Reached her head and watched from time to time.

Semtay pointed at Seytek,
Asked who he was.
Krichorao replied him:
"Big brother, you disappeared from the world that year,
I was cut off my scapula gristles.
My sister-in-law was pregnant at that time,
You know it clearly.

"The boy was born after hardships,

He did not have his name till he was three years old,
Sage Hezir gave him a name,
This is your son Seytek.

"When he grew to twelve years old,
He went back to hometown Talas.
He made scattered Kirgiz people,
Return to Talas and live happily."

Semtay hugged his son tight in his arms,
Krichorao was afraid of Semtay's evil spirit in his eyes,
So he covered Semtay's eyes with a towel.
Semtay felt the warmness come back to his body,
He sweated all over.

The chilliness accumulated in his body for years,
Excreted in the sweat.
His energy had lost for years,
Fully came back suddenly,

He let his son go,
Fixed his eyes on Ayichulek.
Ayichulek's eyes welled up with tears,
She gazed at Semtay lovingly.
Semtay and Chulek,
Stood there and cherished a deep feeling.

The sky was touched and rain dropped,
It was sultry and with no wind,
The earth was hot like a stove.
Semtay was absorbed in watching her,
He forgot to move a step.
Khan Bakay made himself scarced,
Ayichulek showed a big smile.

Comfortable breeze blew,
Dispelled dark clouds.

The rainy sky,
Turned sunny and warm suddenly.

All creatures could not help themselves,
Cheering and being joyful.
Reeds and grass shook their heads,
Trees in woods rustled.
Mountains echoed joyful sounds,
Like girls were playing Kumuz.

The ice froze by the riverside,
Melted under the sun.
Although it was winter,
The earth turned green already.
All dormant insects,
Turned out.
Loose rocks on hill slopes,
Rolled downward.

Semtay turned round,
Gave Krichorao a big hug.
Bean-size tears welled up,
He said to Krichorao:
"We were not born by the same mother,
But we had the milk from the same breast.
You never fail to live up to mother Knaikai's divine milk,
You never reply me defiantly.
Once I made you risk your life,
You did not hesitate to press forward.

"When you were less than twelve years old,
Just about eleven and half years old,
You went to scout the enemy situation in Yurkainychy River.
You knocked Toltoy down,
You killed Chinkogeo.
Kokcher's son Wumaitoy,
Talked wildly and went against me,

You cut his head off.

"When you were over forty years old,
You endured twelve-year hardships.
Kunwuerbayi invaded Talas,
He brought thirty two giants.
You did not fear and did not run away,
You cut Kunwuerbayi's head off.
Numerous our Boks[1] died in Begin city,
You avenged them.

"Your father and my father had the same mother's milk,
You and I had the same mother's milk too.
Brothers have the same mother's milk,
Will never part with each other."

Semtay and Krichorao,
Hugged each other,
Tears ran down their cheeks.

"I finally see you all today.
From that time till now,
I only remember I fell on the ground then.
What had happened between these years,
I have forgotten all of them.

"It seemed I dreamed of it:
I rode on Tayburuler.
Held the white eagle on my arm,
A girl stood by my side,
It looked like Ayichulek was with me."

When Semtay was talking,
Kokmenchok who was watching secretly,

1 Bok: It is the old local official name. Mostly captains or chiefs of the tribes hold the position.

Figured out these people's identity:
"This is Manas' son Semtay,
That is my sister Ayichulek.
What my father Kaypuchal told me,
Comes true here today.

"I always act in good faith,
Girls, let's leave now.
Do not let others laugh at me,
Do not let others think I fight my sister for a man."

They did not let Ayichulek notice,
They did not let others notice either,
They entered the cliff secretly.

Semtay did not notice it at all,
He still hugged Krichorao,
Warmly like burning flames:
"I succeeded in every expedition,
Because you are more powerful than a hundred thousand troops.
You are my brother and we had the same mother's milk,
You are my magical colt helps me win in the field,
You are my warrior fights enemy for me,
You are my invincible hero.
You are powerful and majestic,
You are my brave and strong lion.
You are loyal to Kirgiz people of white felt hat,
Your contribution exceeds my achievements.

"Take the opportunity when we mount and wear laurel,
Take the opportunity when we are still alive,
Let Seytek listen carefully,
Let giant Bakay witness it,
I will turn the power of administration over to you.
My hero, if you act wisely,
I will be very happy for you.
If you make a mistake,

I will not blame you.

"All powers belong to you,
Let Seytek support you.
Please tell me now,
Damned Kanchorao's whereabouts.
His father is lion Chuwak,
Who was on an equal footing with my father.
Just like you and me,
They grew up together."

Before Semtay finished his words,
Hero Bakay interrupted:
"Ok, Semtay,
Do not talk anymore, my kid,
Do not let us see him again!
When you returned from Timir Khan that year,
You did not listen to your mother's advice,
You got a secret shot from Koboshi.
Look, I and your mother Kanikai,
Your wife Chulek are with you.
We all persuaded you not to go to the grave,
You did not take our advice.
Now you finally know,
All what had happened.

"My kids,
You all do not forget,
'If the young do not listen to the old's advice,
They will not grow up strongly'.
This is a lesson paid for with blood,
This is also the lesson ancestors left.

"Semtay, I am sure,
That my bosom friend, leopard hero Manas,
He is waiting for your blessing.
Let us set out quickly,

Our fellow people cannot get the news at home,
They will look for us anxiously,
They will rush recklessly."

They stopped talking,
Took Kalado with them,
Whipped and galloped toward Talas.
They galloped forward shoulder to shoulder,
Went fast toward Kankoler.

People did not see for days,
Seytek, Krichorao,
Kanikai, Bakay and Chulek,
They did not know where they went.
They looked at each other,
But did not know what to say,
They were out of their wits.

Bakay had expected what would happen,
So they sent young Tokoy,
Galloped to the city first,
Told people the good news of Semtay's return,
Then led all fellow people,
Went to lion Ayikoler's grave to pray.

Tokoy took the good news to the fellow people,
They were overjoyed with the good news,
In order to welcome Khan Semtay's return,
People went to lion Manas' grave in massive columns.

Rich people dare not fold their arms and look on,
They held horseracing ceremony.
All riders rode on three-year-old male colts,
Shouted the name Manas loudly,
Went and welcomed Semtay's return.

All Kirgiz people came,

They were as many and thick as ants.

They came to the grave and prayed,
Picked pure white mares,
Pressed them down on the ground and cut their throats,
Cut their belly open like cutting a melon.

Dug many earth stoves,
Put up big pots.
Boiled the fat in pots,
A thick layer of horse fat was on the surface.

Molodo recited the mourning words loudly,
Their reciting continued.
More people were in groups of three and four,
Sat together and talked.

Kanikai, Bakay, Semtay,
Khan Seytek and Krichorao,
They five came to the grave,
They sat in front of the gate in a row.

Sister-in-law Ayichulek sat there,
Her pure gold earrings,
Shined by her ears.
Twelve long hair decorations,
Hung shiningly on her plait on her back.
The gem buttons on her coat,
Were delicate and brilliant.

Kirgiz people of white felt hat,
Stood in a shape of bull horn and watched.
Young married women and girls talked and giggled,
Their laughter was like a silver bell.
Young men showed excessive attention to girls,
And they surrounded girls.

Fish swan in water freely,
Shined glittering light.
Otter showed off their splendid fur,
Swam along the riverbank.
Wild geese sang happily in the sky,
Wild ducks and water birds played and raised waves.

Leading by magical bird Alpuhala,
All birds turned out,
Countless wings covered the sky.

Camels on hills felt proud,
Argali in valley felt proud.
Deer walked out of the forest one after one,
Shook their antlers happily.

Rolling mountains came back in high spirit,
Animals in valley skipped and jumped happily.

All creatures recovered,
Even leaves did not want to be left behind,
Waved gently in breeze.

Pine trees on the north side,
Reached out and watched.
Wild willow and poplar stood side by side with pine trees,
Dressed themselves beautifully.

Sorbus ruper and thorn,
Put on red dress,
Yellow grass swung in wind.
Kankoler Ata, vast Talas,
Recovered its original scenery,
Mountains and rivers were blessed,
Recovered its past glory.

The hero's grave passed good news out,

They returned to the palace.
From where horses could go,
People came in big crowds,
Visited Semtay,
Saluted him,
There was no exception.

Kirgiz people were like in the past,
Lived a happy and peaceful life.

Let us put his aside,
Start from how Sartbayi,
Could not get Taytoru and bear grudges,
And plot to invade Krigiz.

Sartbayi Invaded Kirgiz

Sartbayi Invaded and Kalado Fought Enemies by Himself

Many years had passed,
Because he did not get Taytoru steed,
Sartbayi harbored resentment in his heart,
Look, what had he done?
Please be patient,
Let me tell you the story slowly,
Let me tell you the background of Sartbayi first.

Mangert and Menwul were brothers,
Mangert people took over the control of,
Kalakalpak people and Turkmen people.
Mangert person brought out Badikoler,
Descended disaster to people in all these places.
Khurasan, Keyiba, Jedigair,
Egypt, Baghdad, and Urum,
He drove and plundered all livestock of these places.
In the west, and in further south,
They robbed all beautiful girls there.

Badikoler felt it was not enough for what he had done,
He robbed everyday once,
Ayikoler Manas' brother-in-law,
Kalakalpak person Karmanap.
Kalcha people, Jurjut people, Juda people,
Tajik people and Turkmen people,
Were all descended to his slave.
People could not endure the humiliation,
Cried and asked Manas for help.

Badikoler did not want to make peace,
He was arrogant and made enemy with Manas since then,
Manas sent him to the other world.
Badikoler's wife was pregnant at that moment,
She gave birth to a one-eyed son later,
She hoped her son could become a hero in the future,
So she named him Mardkuler.

Mardkuler grew up,
And he really became a giant.
He was more ferocious than his father,
He swallowed everything in everywhere he went.
He had a huge body,
He could not find a woman to fit him,
So he had no wife.

Who else had seen such a brutal guy before,
He said Karmanap's wife Kardhachy,
Fitted him in size.
He sent someone to require Karmanap,
To give up his wife.

Karmanap was huge like a hill,
But he was still not as strong as Mardkuler,
His younger brother giant Kalado,
Was also Mardkuler's defeated opponent,
Kardhachy ran to Talas for help,
Asked her nephew Semtay for help.
Semtay went from Talas,
Knocked Mardkuler down.
He rescued Karmanap,
He rescued two tribes Baran and Shankay,
Which were under Mangert people's slavery.

Mardkuler's wife gave birth to a boy before long,
Named him Sartbayi.
He grew up into a strong man,

He was even more ferocious than his ancestors.

In the west and south,
He killed all people who resisted,
No one dare resist him again,
His own people called him Sartbayi,
People of other tribes called him Kuturgur[1].
His two names,
Spread wide in the world.

He asked for the Taytoru steed,
Seytek did not agree.
He harbored resentment in his heart,
He always kept an eye on their information.
He got the news of Semtay's returning,
He wanted to kill the father and the son at one time.
He gathered seventy thousand troops,
Marched toward Talas crazily.

Kutubayi's son Kalado,
Had become Khan of Jedigair.
He patrolled in the direction of southwest,
In the Gobi desert of Janjurbe[2],
He found the invading troops.

Kutubayi's son Kalado,
Had young Tokoy accompany him,
They climbed up a hill,
Kalado lifted his telescope,
Fixed his eyes to the south.
The abandoned Jurjanbes,
The Gobi desert was in the front.
Oh! God blessed,
The black earth would suffer the disaster!

1 Kuturgur: It means war Maniac.

2 Janjurbes: It is the name of a place. It means pathless place.

Seeing dust rose in the wilderness,
Covered the earth and the sky,
Spreading troops like flood appeared in his sight.
The leading hero rode a grey steed,
Did not wear helmet and leather hat,
Did not wear an armor but wore a normal coat,
Came ferociously,
Like to turn the world over.

Sartbayi commanded seventy thousand troops,
Seventy flags waved in wind.
Where did they come from?
Where would they go?
Kalado opened his eyes wide and watched.
"There should be such massive troops come,
Only Kangayi captain Janger has the power,
Only he dare start the war.

"Their clothes and appearances are different,
They are not like Kangayi people.
Their mounts and battle gowns are different,
They choose a different way from Janjurbes.
Maybe there is a disaster,
Going to descend over our heads.

"No matter who they are,
Friends or enemies,
I will go and welcome them.
If they are friends come and visit,
I will meet and greet them,
If they are enemies come and invade,
I will fight them bravely.
I will throw them to death on the rock,
I cannot fear of the death."
So Kalado said to Tokoy:
"My good fellow Tokoy,

You are with me at any time.
Kaypuchy is a lucky place,
We hunted there,
And met Khan Semtay.

"Today I come here,
I meet so many troops,
If they are friends,
We will be overjoyed!
If they are invading enemies,
I will go to the battle alone without any burden!

"The coming person looks not ordinary,
He is aggressive and proud,
Like a peak that cannot climb over,
Like surging flood,
Like fierce wind that can blow a yurt down.

"In Yindistan, Afghanistan and Spain,
No one dare gaze at us,
For Egypt and Baghdad,
I still have some doubts.
Olus Khan becomes our relatives through daughter's marriage,
So no one will come and invade from the west.

"Mardkuler's son Sartbayi,
Asked for Taytoru steed.
Semtay did not agree at that moment,
Does he gather troops,
And invade our frontier?
They invade Jedigair first,
Then to whole Kirgiz.

"Tokoy, look, do not be afraid,
Go and take action with me.
If you leave me,
You will lose your life."

Hero Kalado mounted and set out,
Whipped his Chanchykbas steed.
The steed under Kalado,
Galloped its hooves forward.
Kalado marched ahead bravely,
He got closer and closer to the troops.
Super brave Kalado,
Was going to face the massive troops,
He saw a man left the troops.
Walked toward him.

He had broad shoulders and long legs,
And muscular arms.
His mouth was flat and eyelids draped,
His forehead bulged and his chin was short,
He was as tall as a baby who just learned to walk.
His neck was extremely strong,
Which was like two-year-old calf's neck.

He did not wear armor,
You could not tell he came for the battle.
Silver saddle and gold pommel,
He rode a mountain-size grey steed.

He met Kalado,
Reined his steed immediately.

Kalado stared at him up and down,
His eyes were splashing flames,
He questioned loudly before he could stand steady:
"You come alone and so brave,
Who are you?
You come along the edge of Janjurbes,
Who are you?
You are so leisurely and carefree,
Who are you?"

Kalado got angry,
He asked in reply with a gruff voice:
"The frontier of Janjurbes,
Has been under Kirgiz guard,
I went to mountains in Kaypuchy,
I am on the way back from my hunting!

"Who are you?
Where do you come from?
What is your name?
Which tribe do you belong to?
You should tell me clearly!"

"How you dare ask my name?
I am hero Sartbayi.
No people dare call my name directly,
They all call me Sartbayi to show their respect.

"People in the west compete against me,
Those guys rise in the world,
Have been thrown to death on the rocks.
Numerous people encouraged themselves and fought me,
Numerous people try to be brave in front of me,
I killed them all,
They all lost their life.

"I have heard from the rumors,
Kirgiz have hero Manas.
He took Talas by force,
From Karamark people's hands.
He killed my grandfather,
He made my grandmother become a widow.

"My father is Mardkuler,
He is a famous one-eyed man.
Manas' son Semtay,

Took my father's life away.

"On ceremony Kardhachy held,
I sent an envoy to ask for Taytoru,
Seytek did not do me the favor.
Kirgiz people act ferociously and outrageously,
I come and clear out with them!

"Kirgiz people are like venomous snakes,
Do harm cruelly to other tribes.
I do not want to make things difficult for other places,
But I must level Talas to the ground!

"Manas' offsprings,
His relatives,
And all people have relations with him,
I will wipe them all out.
I will stamp his city out,
Let Kirgiz people flee for their life.
I will capture their wives and girls,
Let their kids cry for their daddy,
Drive all people and livestock away.
Pick their babies especially,
Tie them on a willow twig.
For those old guys of no teeth,
Cut them with knife one by one,
Descend disaster to Talas.

"Let Talas people have no pure horse milk to drink,
Give Talas people unforgettable lesson.
I will turn Talas yurts' poles into fire sticks,
I will throw Talas people's flour as ash,
I will make Talas people lose their dignity and glory,
I only can get rid of the hatred through this!
I will separate Talas people's mares and colts,
Capture their horses,
I only feel comfortable by doing so!"

Sartbayi barked like a mad dog,
Like flood roared down,
He gnashed his teeth and spluttered terribly.
Talked wildly and angrily,
Nerves on his neck bulged,
Like long and thick wood poles.
He stamped with rage like wild beasts,
His ferocity made the earth shaken.

Kalado heard his wild talk,
He could not bear and replied:
"You are such a vicious ruffian!
You think you are an unrivalled hero,
Talk rubbish and blaspheme gods.

"Do not think Kirgiz has no one to protect,
Kirgiz has hero Seytek.
Even if all bandits in the world come and invade,
Hero Seytek will not fear and shrink back.

"Our Semtay and Krichorao,
You are unworthy to be mentioned,
Even Kunwuerbayi and Niskara,
They were sent into hell!

"Your grandfather and father invaded Talas,
Two generations were killed by Kirgiz.
If you dare invade us,
Your blood will run like water!

"I was born in a Kirgiz tribe,
I am a fighter among Kirgiz people.
Let me tell you, my name is Kalado,
I am a tribe captain.
Jedigair people in Jetisu,
Are under my administration.

"The Death leads you here,
I will not let you arrive in Talas.
I will make an end of journey here,
Return your corpse to the black earth.
Capture your countless troops,
Report the good news to my Khan."

Kalado roared with rage,
Sartbayi did not wait at all,
He pricked his spear toward Kalado.
Agile hero Kalado,
Drew his spear out and whipped his steed immediately,
Swung the long spear in his hand,
Poked to the rival's belly suddenly.

The spear point was rebounded,
It was like knocking on the rock.
Sartbayi and his grey steed,
Did not move and did not shake.
The spear Kalado poked out,
Was not as itchy as a flea sting.
Sartbayi should get God's punishment,
He considered the rival lower than his trouser legs.

As Kalado saw this,
Became angry from shame.
With a determined effort like a scorpion,
Did not care his short life,
Like hanging his life on a thread,
Whipped his steed and started a fierce fight.

Kalado thought over and over again,
And made up his mind,
He drew the crescent axe out,
The axe made of steel,
The back of the axe was thick and the edge was sharp.

Kalado held the crescent axe tight and thought:
"Kuturgur, if you can dodge the axe,
That means my skills are not good,
If the axe fall on your head,
I will drink all your blood,
Then bury you with black dirt.
Take your grey steed as a trophy,
Present it to Seytek and get a reward."

Kalado shouted the name of the hero loudly,
Rushed to the front of Sartbayi,
Stepped on the stirrups and stood up.
Bit his lip and exerted all his strength,
Lifted the sharp crescent axe,
Cut toward Sartbayi's head.

With a loud cracking sound,
The head of the axe flew far away,
Only left the handle in his hand.
Sartbayi even did not touch his head,
It was hard to see such a vicious warrior in this world.

Kalado had a battle hammer,
Its head was made of lead and bronze,
Like a big pot upside down.
When he lifted the hammer and pounded down,
Numerous hills and cliffs would be smashed.

Brilliant hero Kalado,
Exerted all his strength again,
Lifted the hammer with both his hands,
Pounded toward Sartbayi fiercely.

The hammer fell on the rival's head,
His body shook a little.
He bit his lip and gazed his eyes,

Like a hungry wolf watched the sheep,
Looked left and right ferociously,
Stuck his tongue out and licked his nose like a bull.

Received successive attacks from the rival,
Sartbayi was filled with rage,
Launched fierce attacks toward Kalado.
He pricked Kalado,
Like picking a pigeon,
Picked him on the spear point and threw out.

When Kalado was picked up from his horseback,
And thrown to the ground like a felt hat,
Sartbayi pulled him up,
Gazed at him and abused angrily:
"Get up, mount your steed again,
I will let you die with regret,
If you have more skills,
Continue fighting me!
If I cannot pick you up on the spear point again,
Take you to Seytek,
I am unworthy of the name Kuturgur!"

Kalado was a fearless hero,
He whipped Chanchykbas steed,
Launched another fierce attack.
Sartbayi had his Achilles' heel,
All his joints connected.
When he rushed around,
His body could not turn freely.
Only when he turned round with his mount together,
He could adjust and poke his spear out.

Kalado noticed it,
Kalado acted agilely like an eagle,
Advanced and retreated freely,
Lifted his hammer and pounded at his head,

Like beat wool with a stick.
Swung his spear and poked to the rival's ribs,
Hope to break his ribs.

Two heroes fought fiercely,
Retreated back to their camp after dark,
Sartbayi was hard to smooth his anger,
He went to sleep without eating anything.

Kalado went back to the camp,
Said to Tokoy:
"I am Kalado, you are Tokoy,
We need discuss carefully.
You have seen,
I have done all in my power,
But I cannot knock Sartbayi down.
Your mount is Kerjek steed,
You understand its nature the best,
You need mount and set out immediately,
Gallop to Talas as quickly as you can,
To black mane wolf hero Seytek,
Report him everything happened here.

"Tell him that Mardkuler's son Sartbayi,
Has come to Janjurbes.
He has plotted for a long time,
He wants to occupy Talas.
If the ambitious and frantic guy succeeds,
Kirgiz people will be split.

"Tell him that Kutubayi's son Kalado,
Fought against him bravely,
With full of his strength and skills,
But could not knock the rival down.
Tell him that the rival's body is as hard as rock,
Sharp sword cannot cut and spear cannot pierce through,
Axe cannot cut him apart and hammer is useless on him.

"I have known his mount's habit clearly,
If he goes into hilly areas,
I will fight him bravely again,
I will block his way by shooting him,
I will try my best to stop him.

"You have seen enemies whipped their steeds,
Marched ahead vigorously.
If they pass here,
They will advance into Talas directly,
For people live leisurely there,
For elders,
For spreading livestock over mountains,
They will create deep misery.

"All what I have told you,
You must report to Seytek.
My Tokoy, do you know,
You need cross desert where there is no water,
You need cross lakes where there is no way,
You need climb over ridges where works horses to death,
You need cross forest where there is no roads,
You need deliver the news as soon as possible,
And return in eight days."
Kalado saw Tokoy off,
Thought he need prepare well for a eight-day fight.

Tokoy got Kalado's order,
Mounted Kerjek and set out.
He did not sleep at night and did not rest during the day,
He arrived at Kankoler Ata on the fifth day.

Tokoy went into the city,
Reported to Krichorao first.
Because Seytek was out,
He went to Urum with Gulinar.

Krichorao led Tokoy,
Came to Semtay's house.

What Kalado had told him,
Tokoy reported word to word.
Sartbayi's situation,
He reported without hiding anything.
He neither exaggerated nor belittled,
The enemy information he reported was reliable.

Semtay spoke at the moment:
"Kutubayi's son Kalado,
Is a hero serves for people of one mind.
He is brave and skillful in battle,
His thought is wise,
His suggestion is thorough.

"If Sartbayi comes here,
He will scourge our people,
He will destroy our homeland.

"Krichorao, we need mount and go for the battle,
Wipe the invading enemies out."
Krichorao said with a smile:
"Brother, you stay and rest at home,
Let me go and fight.
Seytek will come back in ten days,
If I cannot return with victory,
Please send Seytek to help me."

Semtay did not agree on his idea:
"My dear Krichorao,
Since I know enemies are bearing down in force,
How can I rest here at ease?
I will fail to live up to Kirgiz salt,
How can I be good luck?
My father's spirit in heaven will punish me,

How can I establish myself in the world?"

Brother Semtay did not agree to stay,
He mounted Buruler steed vigorously,
His stalwart body was like Obol mountain,
Held Sire spear tight in his hand,
Wore Akolbok battle gown,
Carried Ackelty firelock on his shoulder,
Hung Achyalbars sword on his waist,
Carried sharp crescent axe,
Tied an iron-made belt,
He was cold on face and had full of hatred in his heart.

"Damned Sartbayi,
How dare you follow Kunwuerbayi's footsteps?
How dare you command troops and invade Talas!
Wait and see how Kirgiz of white felt hat beat you!"
Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Mounted Surkoyun steed proudly,
Majestic and mighty,
Like lofty snow mountain.
Every of his beard stuck up,
His anger showed on his face.
He took apple-head firelock and green sword,
His axe could cut the hardest rock in two.
Sparrow-eyed net iron clothes,
He wore three of them.
He wore a green helmet,
Sheath and crescent axe hung on both sides of his waist.
The long spear shined in his hand,
Khitan-style red battle drum,
Even made sound in wind.

Karamark-style gold saddle was under his bottom,
Nine billet straps fastened on the horseback.
He carried a steel pole,
Followed Semtay tight on the journey.

Tayburuler and Sur steeds,
Galloped forward shoulder to shoulder.

Horse mane waved and horsetail swung,
Alert eyes were bright.
Bits in their mouth made big nosie,
Hooves kicked out deep holes on the ground,
Dust flew up along the hoof clops.

Two heroes were in a great hurry,
Whipped their steeds,
Did not spare their hoses' energy at all.
They did not give the steeds night grass,
They did not eat and sleep either,
They galloped ahead and forgot the tiredness.
They came to the edge of Janjurbes,
Where Kalado and Sartbayi fought.

Two lions climbed over the ridge,
Went around the pass and came to the battlefield,
They saw respectful hero Kalado,
Rushing around with his injured body,
Two pieces of his clothes waved in wind,
The armor on him was fragmented,
Like rag strips hung on him.

The brilliant hero went along the foot of the mountain,
He drew the bow and shot arrows one moment,
He lit and shot the gun the next,
He used his tricks and circled around the enemies.
Semtay's coming,
Sartbayi did not notice,
But Kalado saw him first,
He thought "I have no regret even if I die now".
He turned round suddenly,
Ran to Semtay and Krichorao.

Sartbayi saw him doing this,
He thought Kalado took the advantage of the steed speed,
And tried to flee away along the mountain path.
He urged Tosur steed and chased in a hurry,
"I must catch the slave,
Tie his arms on his back,
And go to see his support Seytek."
Sartbayi chased him along the path,
He also went into the pass.
Sartbayi looked ahead,
Kalado was alone by himself before,
But now he became three strong men.
"Kalado ran away alone,
Even if he becomes three now,
I will catch them all."
Arrogant Sartbayi,
Rushed ahead fiercely.

Sartbayi Committed Crimes in Talas

Hero Krichorao held the spear tight in his hand,
Stood out in the front majestically.
Numerous heroes in the past,
Met hero Krichorao suddenly,
Would be scared out of their wits.
Only Sartbayi,
He was extremely audacious and fearless,
He held hero Krichorao cheap.

Sartbayi came in a threatening manner,
Reined his grey steed,
Questioned Krichorao angrily:
"Who are you? Where are you from?
What relationship do we have?
How you dare block my way!
If you go against me,
You only have one road that leads to death!
Tell me your name now,
Otherwise I will send you to the hell now!"

Hero Krichorao said,
With reason and justice:
"My name is Krichorao,
I am Almanbet's son.
I do everything for my people,
Who dare hurt Krigiz people,
I will send him to a road of no return!

"The person there is Semtay,

He is broad-minded Manas' only son,
He inherited Krigiz people's great cause,
He turned mountain-size enemies over.
Numerous enemies invaded Krigiz,
None of them ran away safely.

"Who are you?
What are you doing here?
Leave your name before you die!
Otherwise, after you die,
No one will know who you are!"

Hearing what Krichorao had said,
Damned Sartbayi,
Stamped with rage like a mad dog,
Shouted like a beast:
"What's good to show off as Almanbet's son,
You are just a slave with neck tied!
You said you work for Kirgiz people,
That is what you inherited from your father!
You say that man is Semtay,
Everyone knows Semtay died in the wilderness,
He even did not have chance to see his family again.
His son Seytek,
Dare not come and fight!

"My grandfather is Badikoler,
Your Manas killed him.
My father is Mardkuler,
Semtay killed him,
Allocated slaves under my father's administration,
To three places and made them live miserably.

"He let Kalakalpak people and Turkmen people,
Occupied the area of Chambili ridge.
Let Shankay people and Baran people,
Administer themselves and live freely.

Karamark, Tajik and Jurjut people,
Were allocated to Badashan.

"I come to Talas today,
For the purpose of descending disaster to Arashi.
I will give half of Arashi,
To Kangayi and Khitan people.
The other half of Arashi,
Will be under Khurasan and Spanish people's administration.
To Egyptians, Baghdad people and Iranians,
I also need give them a little.

"I will force Kirgiz to leave home,
I will erase the name Kirgiz.
Let Afghanistan people,
Administrate Jedigair and Keyba.
If I cannot achieve what I say now,
I cannot live in the world proudly!
If you dare act against me,
I will send you to the other world,
You will die before your timely death comes!"
Sartbayi shouted crazily,
Swung the spear in his hand.

Krichorao was brave and with high skills,
He did not have Sartbayi's shouting in his mind,
He pricked to the rival's waist.
Sartbayi's spear post,
Was broken in two.

Seeing his spear was broken in two,
Sartbayi got angry from shame,
He picked another spear,
Launched an attack more ferociously.
His face was dark and scary,
Like the dark clouds covered the sky.
Krichorao and Sartbayi,

Clanged their spears together hard,
Did not yield and did not fear.
Swung the spear,
Attacked with full strength,
Battle gowns were poked in holes,
Fought desperately,
Scratches on their faces were more and more.

Krichorao wore the armor,
Sartbayi did not,
His body was as hard as a rock.
Both day and night,
They fought for two days.

Sartbayi went back to his camp,
Wore two layers of armors,
Launched a fierce attack again.
How Krichorao would shrink back,
He went head-on and struck back bravely.
The spear point and the shield knocked,
And the axe fell on the helmet.

In the life-or-death battle,
The shouting from the heroes,
Echoed in the mountains.

The fight continued for another two days,
Krichorao staggered,
He could not hold himself up anymore.
Surkoyun steed also walked disorderly,
Shook its tail.
But in the past it could go on a six-month journey,
And fight for three months unstoppably and did not feel tired.

Kutubayi's son Kalado,
Saw it and suggested:
"Dear uncle,

We did not expect the rival is so powerful!
Hero Krichorao is as brave as a tiger,
No one ever could defeat him.
But today, warrior Krichorao,
And his mount,
Both have been exhausted.
Uncle, please think of something,
To avoid the damned rival,
From knocking hero Krichorao down.

"I am exhausted and limp,
I cannot go and fight.
I want to brace up,
Go and fight the damned beast,
But I hate myself of having no energy now.
Only lion Seytek can defeat the ferocious rival,
But he is not with us."

Khan Semtay thought over and over again,
What Kalado said was true.
Krichorao had been exhausted,
He could not continue fighting anymore,
Seeing the battle came to such a situation,
Semtay was worried:
"Since I, Semtay, grew up,
Since Krichorao began to go to the battlefield,
Nothing like this had ever happened before.

"Khan Dajal of Kechyli,
Cunning slave Kunwuerbayi,
Both did not escape from Krichorao's hands.
One-eyed Majili,
Lost his life in Krichorao's hands.
Wushan's third brother Lebatay,
Muradler's son Kalatay,
Oronko who took an elephant as his mount,
Krichorao killed them all.

Black-beard giant Toltoy,
Colluded with Chinkogeo and made trouble together,
Krichorao sent them to the hell.
Keyaz hid his life through magic,
Krichorao took his life away too.

"I never expected,
Krichorao will sweat and be tight,
When he fights Sartbayi today.
If we lose Krichorao,
Kirgiz people will achieve nothing!"

Semtay made up his mind,
He pulled the rein and turned Tayburuler round,
Held Sire spear tight in his hand,
Shouted the name Manas loudly,
Rushed to the battlefield like a tiger.
His drive was like the wind in winter,
His passion was like the sun in summer,
His power was like the rushing tiger,
He was like magic bird Alpu dived to the ground.

Hearing the name Manas,
Sartbayi felt panic-stricken,
Seeing hero Semtay,
He left hero Krichorao,
Roared and rushed toward him.

Like a widow was wailing,
Sartbayi came aggressively.
His eyes looked ferocious,
If he fought Rustanmu and Dastan,
Sartbayi would not yield too.

Sartbayi was like a mad dog,
He did not fear death at all.
He rushed to a flat place,

Prepared to fight hero Semtay.

Hero Semtay poked his spear out,
Sartbayi did not resist at all.
He gave Semtay two opportunities bravely,
Let the spear pok on his body.

When Semtay attacked for the second time,
He could not bear the charge of the spear,
Tosur steed stumbled suddenly,
Sartbayi felt desperate,
He almost fell off the horse.

Semtay stopped for a while hesitately,
He calculated in his mind:
"Sartbayi showed his courage,
He gave me two opportunities to attack,
If I do not give him the equal chance,
It will damage our ancestors' fame."
So Semtay braced himself up,
Gave the rival chance to attack him.

Sartbayi was of fat and round body,
His neck was as thick as a bull.
"Semtay does what I do,
Gives me two times of attacking chance.
I will give him a severe poke,
I must kill Semtay."

Sartbayi spat on his palm,
Exerted full of his strength,
Whipped his mount hard,
Urged Tosur steed to march ahead.
Sartbayi shouted the name Mardkuler loudly,
The deafening shouting,
Made the earth cracked,
Underground water spouted out.

Tosur steed kicked dust up in the air,
With its huge hooves.
Relied on Tosur steed's pushfulness,
Sartbayi rushed ahead aggressively,
Toward the upper place of Semtay's belly,
Aimed at his liver,
Sartbayi pricked his spear fiercely.

Kangkoer's son Semtay,
Remained unmoved peacefully.
Manas' spirit blessed him,
Semtay's strong body,
Was superior to Obol mountain.

The spear Sartbayi pricked,
Was rebounded from Semtay's body,
And it fell out of Sartbayi's hand.
It broke in thirty seven pieces,
There was no need to mention the wood post,
Even the spear point broke in six pieces.
Tosur steed under Sartbayi,
Turned round immediately and pranced forward.

A rare thing happened at the moment,
Sartbayi lifted his hammer,
Pounded at Semtay's head fiercely,
Sparkles splashed everywhere,
Smoke rose up and covered the sun.
Damned Sartbayi stared with wide-open eyes,
Waited for the smoke to disperse.

Semtay rushed out of the smoke unexpectedly,
Whipped his steed and sprang at him,
Aimed at the unprepared beast's scapula,
Gave a fierce prick.
The beast's feet left the stirrups,

His bottom leaned to one side of the saddle,
He almost fell off the horse.
He adjusted immediately and gathered his energy,
His nickname Kuturgur,
Was equal to his reputation.

Semtay was a hero,
Unfortunately he was in his fifties' downgrade age,
His spine had bent forward.

"I am thirty five years old,
I must be more bold and powerful than him,
Krichorao beside Semtay,
Is really a wise and brave hero.
He is brave and skillful in battle,
He dare fight in high spirits.

"After his scapula recovered,
He should rest for three years.
But he rushed to the battlefield,
His scapula had become tired,
This is the only flaw he has.

"I have figured their situation out,
I will attack with my spear successively,
I will let them die together with Kalado."

Sartbayi calculated in his mind,
He became more rampant.
It was getting dark,
None of them was willing to stop and rest.

One round after another,
Places they stepped on,
Had countless cracks appeared.
Semtay and Sartbayi,
Tayburuler and Tosur steeds,

Were all drenched in sweat.

The sun hid behind the mountain,
They separated with each other,
And returned to their camps.
None of them rested well the whole night,
Groaned painfully.

When the day was breaking next day,
The sun rose and shined,
Look at Sartbayi,
He was refreshed like yesterday.

Seeing the damned guy's figure,
Kalado said:
"Khan Semtay, hero Kris,
Look at his manner today,
Sartbayi will descend disaster to us.

"We seem to have been exhausted,
We do not have enough energy to knock him down.
We did not sleep last night,
We groaned and felt painful the whole night.
Our brave general Seytek,
Have not come from Kankoler.

"If we fight him one by one,
What should we do if we cannot defeat him?
If you think it is reasonable,
I suggest we move to Talas.
There is a saying 'War depends on homeland',
We should rely on all our people's energy to resist."

Before Semtay could declare his decision,
Before Krichorao could express his opinion,
Sartbayi shouted,
Gave orders to his troops and generals:

"Those three people,
I will knock them down one by one now!
You all mount your horses,
Whip your horses and do not need to line up,
March toward Talas!

"You surround those three people,
Sandwich them,
Put lassos on their necks,
Drag them to Talas like dragging dogs!"
Sartbayi's deafening shouting,
Cracked rocks around.
More than seventy thousand troops marched together.

Look at the guy's imposing manner,
Look at the plot what he made,
Look at his domineering influence,
Krichorao said:
"We cannot run away in a panic,
Cannot let our edges of clothes wave in wind,
Cannot shake our legs on horses.
Do not try to be brave,
Do not kill the innocent at will.
We fight and look for the chance at the same time,
Retreat cautiously,
Try to organize a counterattack,
What Kalado said is reasonable,
We will go back to Talas and resist enemies."

"Since it is like this, Krichorao,
There is no need to resist!
We do not fight back,
Do not fight bravely.
Let's set out separately,
Go back to Kankoler people.
Raise our flag high and assemble troops,
Fight against invading enemies."

Uncle Semtay suggested,
Asked the other two heroes' opinions.

Kris gave a different opinion at the moment:
"Dear brother, we cannot act like that,
If we run back directly,
Those massive troops,
Will invade Talas without any fighting,
They will plunder our people of everything,
They will break your spine in two!

"We should block the way and resist at five to six places,
Do not let them climb over the ridge.
Seize the fighting advantage,
Attack decisively and wet the sword with blood.
And send the news to our people,
Let them make good preparations.

"If enemies do not kill us,
Or we do not kill enemies,
Instead, run away in the front,
Enemies chase us proudly,
Kirgiz people of white felt hat,
Will suffer unprecedented disaster!"

Semtay and Kalado,
Thought what Krichorao said was reasonable,
They agreed to follow his suggestion.
Right at the critical moment,
Seventy thousand massive troops,
Swarmed up like flood.
Krichorao lifted his apple-head firelock,
Shot the bullets.
Galloping steeds,

Stopped their marching hooves suddenly.
Krichorao's one shot,

Killed and injured about three hundred enemy soldiers.
Countless troops dare not act recklessly,
Divided into many groups and acted separately.

Semtay and Kalado,
Resited with spears one moment,
And rushed into enemies the next,
Waved their knives and cut.
And climbed onto the hillside,
Shot enemies fiercely.
Numerous brave generals,
Were knocked down to the ground.

Soldiers rushed in the front of troops,
Were shot dead,
Under Almanbet's son Krichorao's arrow.
Heroes dealt with enemies bravely,
They delayed the enemies for fifteen days.
Heroes and invading enemies detoured,
Cheated enemies to climb over Kapuka mountain,
Came to Sarkodi plain.

Seytek got the news and arrived,
Prepared in the plain for the battle.
The red battle flag with golden tassel Ayikoler Manas left,
Waved in wind in front of their camp.
Sartbayi came to Sarkodi plain,
Pitched camps and rested.

Five Heroes Fought Against Sartbayi

Two armies maintained their ground for three days,
Uncle Bakay, Semtay,
Lion Krichorao and Seytek,
And Kutubayi's son Kalado,
Galloped their steeds to the battlefield.
They five stood under the flag,
They were ready to fight.

Kalado volunteered,
To be the first to fight,
Kalado and Sartbayi,
Fought each other fiercely,
They fought two dayd and one night
The vicious beast,
Cut one of Kalado's arms off.

How Seytek looked on and did nothing,
He held tasseled spear and went to the battle.
He swung his spear like dragon sprang out of the water,
The earth shook under the power of the spear.
Seytek whipped and galloped his steed,
Koykuron steed galloped ahead at its top speed.
The lion's only son, young hero Seytek,
Made little of Sartbayi.

Sartbayi calculated in his mind,
He thought he was strong than Seytek.
He roared like thunder,
Urged Tosur steed and rushed ahead.

Sartbayi held the spear and pricked to the hero,
Seytek warded the spear off.
Brushed past and turned the steed round,
Let the head of the horses Koykuron,
Bite the bit tight and chase at its top speed.
Aimed at Sartbayi's bottom,
Poked his spear out.
Sartbayi fell off his steed,
Before Seytek could turn round,
He mounted again in a hurry.

They were stalemated,
Spears knocked and clanged,
Axes cut and pounded.
Heroes' shouting echoed in the air,
Hoof clops made the earth shaken,
Places the hooves stepped on were cracked,
Dust rose and filled in the air.

They fought for three days,
Countless holes stamped out of the earth.
Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Whipped his steed to them:
"Lion Seytek and Sartbayi,
You have fought for three days,
Regardless of tiredness.
We watch and have an opinion,
If you two agree,
Please leave the battlefield,
Return to your camp and rest.
Rebuild your energy, eat and relax,
Come back again and fight tomorrow."

Hearing the suggestion from Krichorao,
Seytek and Sartbayi,
Both felt it was a good idea.

So they went back to their own camp,
Lifted the horseheads high and rested.

The hero mounted and went to the battlefield the next morning,
A new round began.
Two heroes disregarded their safety,
Like they tied their poor life,
On a thin yarn.

Numerous knives broke,
Shining debris fell on the ground.
Numerous long spears broke,
And fell under steed hooves.

Numerous axes were split,
The fight became white hot.
The heroes fought from morning till night,
Returned to their camp at night.

Krichorao was too impatient to wait,
He mounted and went to the battlefield next morning.
Seeing Krihcorao coming,
Sartbayi was ready to fight.

The ferocious guy,
Wore a yellow cloak,
That was his sign of ever-victory.
There was no exception,
His rivals were all defeated,
Bodies rotted underground.

Sartbayi wore a yellow cloak,
Tied a black belt,
Wore a red wrister,
The grey steed under his bottom was restless.
Onto Tosur steed's thigh,
He gave a hard whip,

His roaring was like a bull,
His arrogance was like the Death.

He rolled his sleeves to the elbows,
It seemed he was going to sigh butter with his hand.
His mount Tosur steed,
Ran in a streamlining pace.
Dust rose behind him,
Rolled up like morning mist.
The earth was torn under the steed hooves,
People all felt scared as they saw it,
Numerous generals thought,
Krichorao had no chance to keep his life.

Krichorao was like bright sunshine,
His words were like sweet candy.
He was unique in the world,
There would not be another hero like him anymore.
He talked straightly and did things justice,
He was handsome.
Facing ferocious Sartbayi,
They did not know what his fate would be!
Generals all worried for him.

Sartbayi and Krichorao fought,
Did not let him draw his spear out,
And did not let him ward the knife off,
But poked on his waist suddenly.

Hero Krichorao's three layers of iron chest protectors,
And one layer of sparrow-eyed net iron coat,
Could not bear the hard blow,
Broke in pieces and flew away,
Surkoyun steed staggered under the blow,
It almost fell to the ground.
Blood spouted out of hero Krichorao's waist,
Semtay arrived soon as he saw it.

Let Almanbet's son Krichorao leave the battlefield,
And move to a safe place.

Semtay lead Krichorao's steed out of the battlefield,
He turned Buruler steed round.
His face was gloomy and his heart was tragic:
"I defeated his father in the past,
I will defeat him today,
I will shout the name Manas loudly,
Concentrate and launch an attack,
Make him scared out of his wits."
Strong and agile leopard Semtay,
Launched a fierce attack toward the strong enemy.

Sartbayi was somewhat rash,
He carried a long spear,
Rode on Tosur steed proudly.
Because he did not kill Krichorao,
He stamped with rage.
The guy's angry face,
Was like having measles,
Red and green bumps and pits appeared on it.

He rushed to Semtay quickly,
Like countless previous battles,
He pricked the spear out fiercely,
Wanted to hit Semtay in one blow.

High skilled Semtay,
Bent over quickly and agilely,
Leaned to one side and got close to the horse belly.
Kuturgur did not get him,
Failed and had ran too far.

Took the advantage of Kuturgur not turning round in time,
Hero Semtay adjusted his steed quickly.
Toward Obol mountain-size beast,

Aimed at his kidney and poked the spear.
Sharp Sire spear,
Pricked Sartbayi's waist split,
Blood spouted out.

The beast turned round,
Said to Semtay:
"You are Semtay, and I am Sartbayi,
Let us negotiate peacefully!
I am thirty-five years old this year,
I have never been injured by spear before,
I have never shed any of my blood before.
Since I was called Kuturgur,
I never wear any iron-made armor.

"In the wilderness of Janjurbes,
Krichorao made me wear the iron armor for the first time,
Today it is you, Semtay,
You prick my waist and make me shed blood.

"If you are not scared of me,
Let me return to my camp.
Allow me to rest for two days,
And then come back to this battlefield again,
I will descend the disaster on your head then!
As long as I am still alive,
I will let you taste the pain of being defeated!"

Heard Sartbayi's suggestion,
Foresighted tiger Semtay calculated:
"If I do not agree,
Everyone in the world will laugh at me.
The wild beast will say I have no courage."

Semtay agreed on his condition,
Sartbayi went back to his camp,
Semtay went back to the camp too.

Two days just passed,
Sartbayi cried out on the battlefield as expected,
Semtay mounted his steed,
Whipped Tayburuler majestically,
Accepted the maniac's challenge.

Sartbayi behaved with arrogance,
What he said was more frantic:
"My wound has recovered and I am full of strength now,
Semtay, you must die today.
Call your uncles, cousins and nephews,
Both from your father and mother's sides in,
Call your people,
In city and in prairies in,
I alone can kill them all!"

He whipped Tosur steed and charged ahead,
Swung the hammer in his hand,
Toward the top of Semtay's head,
Pounded fiercely.

Semtay's crescent axe,
Was of the size of a door plank.
The axe head and handle connected together,
And was made of pure steel.

When the hammer was falling,
Semtay lifted his crescent axe,
The yurt-size hammer,
Got a heavy counterattack,
It got off his hand as fast as the lightning,
And fell into Sartbayi's soldiers,
Those soldiers did not dodge in time,
Forty to fifty of them died under the hammer.

Semtay was protecting his homeland,

His wise and powerful counterattack,
Made arrogant Sartbayi,
Feel too surprised to defend himself.

Unparalleled hero Semtay,
Stepped on stirrups and stood up,
Aimed at the top of Sartbayi's head,
Gave him a heavy cut with his axe.

The damned guy should get God's punishment,
His body was like making of cast iron,
The axe fell on the top of his head,
He neither cared nor moved.
Black mane wolf Semtay,
Was considered as his trouser legs.

Semtay was a nimble warrior,
He did not give the rival chance to open his eyes,
He cut him twelve times in a row.
Tosur steed under Sartbayi's bottom,
Could not bear the heavy blows,
It's legs were stuck deeply in the black dirt.

Sartbayi calculated in his mind,
He endured Semtay's successive attacks,
He was in a very passive situation.
Sartbayi fixed his eyes and looked for the attacking target,
When Semtay cut him again,
He counterattacked toward Semtay's elbow fiercely,
The hero's elbow broke immediately.

Seytek and Kalado,
Came in a hurry,
Kalado led Semtay's mount,
Retreated from the battlefield and returned to the camp.

Sartbayi threw out a proposal,

To Seytek like before:
"Oh, Seytek, Seytek,
You have three people, but I am only myself,
I fight you three alone.
Remember, I am Sartbayi,
I never fear of anyone!
You return to your camp today,
Let's fight it out tomorrow."

Sartbayi finished his words,
Beore hero Seytek could reply,
He gave a sharp whip to the steed leg,
Swaggered off without looking back.
Seytek did not get entangled with him,
He followed the rule of fair fight strictly.

Another two days passed,
Sartbayi gave the order,
Asked all his troops to turn out and fight:
"I will descend the disaster,
To Krigiz of white felt hat!
Anyone who dare resist me,
I will cut his head off,
Rip his heart and liver out!
Kirgiz killed my grandfather and my father,
I will avenge them!

"If I cannot let Kirgiz pay back the blood debt,
How do I, Sartbayi, live in this world?
When I kill Seytek with my spear,
When I capture arm-broken Semtay alive in his palace,
When I cut Krichorao's belly open,
You should take the chance and plunder their villages!

"Semtay, Krichorao, Seytek,
After they three are killed,
No one will avenge Kirgiz people,

Even no one dare bury their corpses!
As long as I, Sartbayi, am alive,
I must deliver my promise,
I will die without regret then!
No one dare stare at me then,
No one dare fight me then!"

Sartbayi clamored frenziedly,
Fiercely and aggressively.
His troops,
Feared of hero Seytek,
Although it was in hot summer,
Many soldiers could not stop shivering,
Like they were in cold winter.
Sartbayi turned Tosur steed round,
Came and stood in the center of the battlefield.

Seytek's eyes flashed like lightning,
Whipped Koykuron steed and accepted the battle.
Raised his noble head high,
Faced the challenge of the death bravely.
Seytek attacked with his spear,
Started the fierce fight with Sartbayi.

They fought for two days,
Spears in their hands fell,
Their battle axes lost,
Their knives dropped.
Such a cruel and breathtaking fight,
Had never happened in the world before.

On vast Kirgiz land,
Flames of war burned ragingly.

Hammers in heroes' hands had been smashed,
Heroes had no energy to lift hammers again.
Heroes in battle at that time,

Were so magical.

They whipped steeds and chased each other,
Reined the steed and blocked the rival's way.
Pulled the rival's clothes hard,
Crossed it through the belt of the saddle,
Twisted tight on the pommel,
Put the foot against the saddle and pulled hard,
Made the steed stagger.

The hero on the horseback panted and got thirsty,
Stretched his tongue way out.
Lifted the whip and lashed the steed on its leg,
Cut and warded along the foot of the mountain,
Competed for the commanding height when going upward,
Wrestled on horseback,
Wanted to drag the rival over,
And put on the saddle and take away,
But neither of them dragged the other one down the horseback.

The battle continued for another two days,
Heroes tied their steeds and fought with bare hands,
Grabbed the rival's belt tight,
Bent over and grasped the rival's clothes bottom,
Exerted their energy and dragged backward.
One pulled hard and almost fell,
One resisted hard and tried to get away,
Grassland was stepped into deep ditch,
Low hills were stepped into a flat,
Grassland waved in wind,
Was stepped into a wasteland.
Two days passed in such a stalemate,
Six days and six nights,
The cruel battle did not stop at all.

Sartbayi said such words,
To Seytek:

"I am Sartbayi,
You are Seytek,
You and me are balance in power,
You are really a lion in the world, Seytek!
I have seen numerous warriors,
But I never see a hero like you,
You are an outstanding lion in the world, Seytek!
You are a hero outdo your father, Seytek!

"When I asked for Taytoru steed in the past,
You did not agree,
Because you believe in your power.
No one is like you till now,
Who can challenge me with equal strength.
Well, no one is like me too,
Fight against Semtay and Krichorao.

"When Kunwuerbayi invaded Talas in the past,
He wanted to revenge wholeheartedly,
But he was utterly routed,
Threw away everything and fled pell-mell.

"Krichorao was about your age then,
Semtay was about my age then,
Who dare fight them!
Now look at them,
One is over fifty years old,
The other is over forty-five years old,
Their hair was black like otter hair,
Now they are silver-haired.

"Both our steeds are exhausted,
We are exhausted too.
Let's call a nine-day truce from tomorrow.
Let the steeds rest,
Let us restore our energy,
Let's fight in nine days,

Let's see who is luckier then."

Sartbayi's proposal,
Lion Seytek agreed on it,
They went back to their own camp.
But Sartbayi did not go back to his camp,
He went directly to Sariartu hillside,
Lifted Tosur steed's head,
Shackled its forelegs and tied its hind legs with heel rope,
Took the saddle off,
Put the saddle pad as his bedding,
Used the Menwuer-style saddle as his pillow,
Then ordered his guard:

"Cook for me,
But do not wake me up,
I will wake up and eat by myself,
Do not feed Tosur steed,
I will feed it after I wake up."

Let us put this aside,
Start from how Kuyale killed Sartbayi.

Girl Kuyale Defeated Sartbayi

Ayichulek Invited Fairy Kuyale to Help

Ayichulek stayed at the frontline for half day,
Her only son Seytek lay in the bed,
Tossed and groaned painfully,
He could not go to sleep peacefully.

Ayichulek saw it,
She wanted to ask someone to help:
"Kaypudan's daughter Kuyale,
I saw her once when she was eight years old,
Now she is eighteen years old.
No one ever pulls her off from steed till now,
She is a heroine."

Ayichulek proposed a good plan to defeat enemies,
To Semtay and Krichorao.
But she did not mention to them,
That she invited fairy Kuyale to help them.
"Kalado stays here,
So we do not know what is the situation of Jedigair.
Geodar is isolated and helpless,
So we do not know what is the situation,
Of Kashgar, Yarkant, Hotan and Lop Nur!

"Olus Khan in Urum,
Is of the same origin with Kirgiz,
We are relatives through marriage.
He is old and weak now,
What is the situation in Urum now?

"Senchybek is afflicted with a lingering desease,
We do not know what is the situation,
In Andijan, Kokand, Tashkent, Samarkand and Namagan?
We do not know what is the situation of Kirgiz people,
In Badak, Balk, Turkmen?

"Yenisai is our ancestors' homeland,
We do not know how are Kirgiz people doing there?

"Kirgiz in Yuchukarlak, Alma Ata,
Yili, Terks, Kunes,
Altay, Choychok, Alalito,
Barkol, Beshbalk,
Turpan and Hami,
How are they doing?

"Janger is the leader of Kangayi,
What is he doing?

"Semtay, please tell me,
Should I go and look around in all these places?"

Ayichulek asked,
Semtay did not reply yet,
Krichorao started to say first:
"I make a decision now as Khan,
Because my brother give me the power of Khan,
In mountains of Kaypuchy.
I agree that you go and look around.
To see those people live peacefully,
Is there anyone going to destroy their happy life?

"Respected sister-in-law, your words are full of wisdom,
Please bring us good news,
If it is in your power,
Please find us solutions."

Got Khan's approval,
Ayichulek put her swan dress on.
She spread her wings in the air,
Left Talas,
Toward the direction of sunset,
Flew at her top speed.

She saw people in Urum,
She saw all places of Yenisai.
She circled round wind and clouds,
She flew along Arat mountains,
To prairie of Altay,
Flew over the heavenly lake,
Passed Parkol, Hami and Turpan.

She circled in the sky over Beshbalk and Manas,
Toward the direction of Jilder.
She circled in the sky over Kashgar,
She flew past Andijan,
Passed Tashkant, Balk,
And Badak.
She saw those places were peaceful,
She knew people there lived a happy life.

Ayichulek left happily,
She flew to the city where Kuyale lived,
She asked for Kuyale's information,
She flew toward the red desert of Janjurbes.

It was a boundless and dense forest at the edge of the desert,
It was the hometown of numerous wild animals.
Kuyale headed seventy thousand troops and came here,
Interrupted wild animals' life there.

She hunted lions and tigers,
Hunted wild camels with crooked necks,
Hunted grey wolves and jackals,

She hunted too many wild animals everyday,
She enjoyed her hunting trip very much.

When Kuyale was twelve years old,
She went on the road of ruling the roost.
She never offended others,
But anyone who dare invade her,
She would knock them down mercilessly.

Sartbayi came once,
He did not have any pleasant words,
It seemed he came to explore the actual situation.
Not long ago,
Sartbayi sent a messenger to deliver his words:
"I will go on an expediton,
Wait for my triumph return,
I must marry you then,
You'd better make good preparation.

"If you shut me out,
I will plunder your city,
Take you as a war trophy.
You should turn this over in your mind,
Consider about the result."

Kuyale heard his words,
She was filled with anger immediately:
"If he dare invade,
I will challenge him alone.
If my death is on the way,
I would rather accept it.
If it is not my time to die,
I will free the forty cities in the west,
From his administration.

"This heartless guy,
Had a name Sartbayi when he was born,

He pointed his spearhead to the west,
Made families there ruined and people died.
He invaded the south at the same time,
He killed all people who resisted.
He thought it was not enough,
He reaches his claws to my territory.
What is more abominable,
How he dare hit on me!

"His original name is forgotten,
The name Kuturgur is notorious.
His rampage makes him gain advantage,
I will put his rampage and advantage he gained together,
And clear them out,
I will skin him,
And dry it on a rock and use as a cushion.
I will wait on the way he must pass,
Burn the time through hunting."
Kuyale told herself,
In order to wipe Kuturgur out,
She led troops to the desert.

The desert was not a normal one,
It had no roads and no people.
It connected with cities of Machin on east,
And stretched to the west.
The lifeless desert,
Made people's brain burn when it got hot.

At the edge of this desert,
Kuyale pitched massive troops,
She only took seventy warriors with her,
Went and hunted animals.

They hunted almost a hundred lions,
Hunted eighty tigers,
Shot numerous ostriches down,

They set foot on the return journey in the afternoon.

Ayichulek saw everything that happened,
She played an appearance Kuyale saw when she was eight,
Waited by the side of the road with a distressed expression.

Kuyale's mount was Jelijetibes steed,
She went in the front of the group,
Her hat beset with gemstones,
It was shining in the sunset glow.
Kuyale met Chulek face to face,
She thought Chulek looked kind in face,
She seemed to have seen her somewhere,
So she greeted her actively.

"Ah, my friend, how are you doing?
Maybe you have forgotten,
Your friend Chulek comes to see you.
When we attended Bayitatan's wedding that year,
You were only eight years old,
I was much older than you,
But we felt like old friends at the first meeting,
We became good friends despite great difference in age.
After we parted then,
We have not seen each other for years.

"Now you have grown into an invincible hero,
Have you ever missed me, an old friend?
I am facing with imminent disaster,
I have no power to get rid of it.

"My homeland Kankoler,
Is suffering Sartbayi's invading,
He has at least seventy thousand troops.
Semtay and Krichorao,
Kutubayi's son Kalado,
They are all great heroes in the world,

They cannot defeat him.
Seytek fought him,
Day and night for twelve days.

"Sartbayi refused to bow down,
He proposed a nine-day truce.
He went on a hill,
Lifted the exhausted steed's head up,
He went to sleep in a second.
In order to defeat the devil,
I ask for your help."

Heard Ayichulek's purpose of coming,
Got Sartbayi's news,
Kuyale calculated in her mind:
"Kuturgur invades Talas,
Avenge his father.
After he takes revenge on Manas' offspring,
He must come and challenge me.

"When I was eight years old,
Ayichulek became my good friend.
Now she is in big trouble,
If it is still in her power,
She will not specially come and ask for my help.
If I do not agree to go to Talas,
How can I be worthy of my old friend?"

Kuyale thought for a while,
Replied Ayichulek frankly:
"Ferocious Sartbayi,
Talks wildly and dreams fondly,
He once sent a messenger and threatened me.
I have made good preparation,
I am ready to fight him here.
If I go to Talas now,
Do I leave an excuse to him?

Will he say because I am scared of his coming,
And hide in Talas?

"Let us return to the camp first,
Please enjoy yourself as a guest tonight,
We will set out from there tomorrow.
I do not know how many days we need,
To arrive in Talas?"

Ayichulek chipped in at the moment:
"I do not have the mood,
To be a guest and enjoy it freely.
I am worried and in a hurry,
I do not know what will happen next.
If you agree to go and help,
Please pick your crack troops,
Set out now and do not delay at all.

"Your mount is Jelijetibes,
If you go day and night without resting,
You can get there in about fifteen days.

"Your troops will not be like you,
Even if they go day and night and do not rest,
They still need forty-five days.
My friend, let's set out immediately,
We cannot waste time here."

Kuyale had seventy warriors with her,
They were chosen carefully.
No matter when and where,
They were her capable assistants.
Kuyale knew them very well,
She chose twelve out of them.

She asked others to return,
And tell the news to her father.

Tell him that Sartbayi invades Talas,
Ayichulek comes and asks for help.
Your daughter decides to go to the battle,
Father, please stay at home at ease,
Pray for your daughter.

She headed twelve warriors,
Whipped and galloped on the journey.
Ayichulek put on her swan dress,
Led the way for them in the sky.

She flew in the front,
Wings shined in the sunshine,
She flew in the moonlight,
Like a lit candle,
She flew out some distance,
Waited for the group to catch up.
Jelijetibes steed,
Galloped and followed tight.
After four days and four nights journey,
Twelve warriors' steeds,
Could not go shoulder to shoulder with Jelijetibes,
Tails and ears drooped,
Their speed slowed down gradually.

Kuyale saw it,
For those battle-seasoned heroes,
And warriors came with her,
Expressed her understanding:
"Do not wear your steeds to death,
Let them go out of the damned desert,
I will not let your steeds,
Leave a bad fame to the later generations.

"Warriors, do not worry,
Slow down.
Jelijetibes hoof tracks,

Will not disappear in one month.
You rest and eat on the way,
Herd your steeds and push on your journey steadily,
As long as you follow its traces,
You can find the way forward."

Kuyale finished his words,
Gave a lash to Jelijetibes,
Jelijetibes galloped freely.
It was really an outstanding steed,
Ayichulek flew in the sky,
Jelijetibes went together with her on the ground.

Ayichulek flew two days when she came,
It had been six days she went with Kuyale,
Since Chulek set out from Talas,
It had been eight days.

Ayichulek headed Kuyale,
Through the upstream of Alma road,
Went toward Manas' grave.
She flew forward and thought:
"I am afraid Kuyale is young and naive,
If she passes the grave without stopping,
She will offend unconsciously,
The hero's spirit in heaven!"

Clear water rippled,
Blossomed flowers smiled.
Green willow twigs were like girl's hair,
Waved with wind.
Gentle breeze kissed the earth,
Emitted delicate fragrance.
Skylarks sang heartily,
Ripe apples,
Fell on the grass,
All kinds of fruit trees spread over mountains,

It was hard to see the edge.

Kuyale did not know where she was,
She stopped Chulek curiously.
Ayichulek transferred into a woman and landed,
Kuyale reined her steed:

"Oh, my friend, my sister,
In the west and south,
There is no place I have not been to.
But I have never seen a place,
As beautiful as here.
Please tell me how far it is to Talas?
Where are we now?

"Please take me to the grave,
I will worship the broad-minded lion,
Worship and pray to his spirit first.
My father Kaypudan once said,
Manas' grave is our sacred place.
Sage giant Koshaoyi,
Almanbet, Chuwak and hero Sirak,
Brave Kokcher, Muzburchak,
Eloquent and incomparable Ajibayi,
All their images,
Are on the wall inside of the grave vividly.
If I do not visit the grave,
Raise my hands and pray to them,
I will not go smoothly on what I do."

Heard what Kuyale said,
Ayichulek gave her a big smile:
"Here is broad Kankoler,
It is my father-in-law's Sire city not far,
How can I refuse to take you to my father-in-law's grave?
I worried you do not worship and pray when you get there,
I worried you pass it when you get there,

The spirits of those heroes you mentioned,
Will feel detested about your discourtesy.
Now I give up the doubts,
I am taking you to the grave now."

Ayichulek led the way in the front,
Climbed up the hill of Kalabula,
Pointed at the famous city and grave.
They went for the time of a meal,
They saw the respected grave by the side of the road.

Respectable heroine,
Dismounted and looked at the grave,
Knelt down.
Bent over and saluted,
Burst into tears:
"It was you,
Let Arashi get rid of Karamark's ruling.
It was you,
Make sixty tribes Arashi prosperous and famous.

"Since Adam descended to the world,
Human beings multiply in the world,
Kakanchin people appeared,
And built cities on the ground.

"Kakanchin had large population,
Bakburchin was their king.
From surging Red Sea,
To the intermediate region here,
These are all places Chinmachin once administered,
Whose horse hooves ever stepped on those lands?
Who else ever occupied that place except you?
Who lese has his name spread forever except you?

"Ayichulek makes a special trip to ask for my help,
She believes in my power,

If I do not have your, the lion's support,
I, a poor girl, will have not much chance to win."

Kuyale mumbled,
Tears ran down unstoppably.

She did not go fast to it,
At the place one race range from the grave,
She stood still and looped up with reverence.

Ayichulek was moved by all sorts of feelings:
"Hero father-in-law Ayikoler,
Ayashata Almanbet,
Please bless us in heaven!"
Her eyes welled up in tears,
Looked at the grave with her begging eyes.

If God was willing to arrange,
If God took pity on someone,
Then his matter would have a favorable turn.

It was cloudy at the moment,
Like a straight face.
The sky was covered with dark clouds,
It seemed a storm would come soon.

Wind rose from the west suddenly,
Blew clouds to the east.

Lion Ayikoler's Sire spear,
Rose up in the air over the grave immediately.
Seeing the magical scene,
Ayichulek thought:
"My father's magical spear,
Is it not in Semtay's hands?
How does it come to the grave?"
She felt the magical scene,

Showed that Kuyale could only defeat Sartbayi,
If she used Sire spear.
Sartbayi must be defeated,
Kuyale would stay forever.

Upright Sire spear,
Moved in front of Kuyale.
It seemed to hint her,
That Sire spear was waiting for her.

Upright Sire spear,
Suddenly disappeared,
Strong Seytek appeared,
At where Sire spear was.

Kuyale and Ayichulek,
Passed the grave on foot.
Kuyale led Jelijetibes,
Walked till she could not see the grave anymore.

They came to a place they could mount again,
Kuyale asked Ayichulek:
"Ah, my friend,
The young man holds the spear in his hand,
He is about twenty-two years old,
Do you know who he is?"

Ayichulek replied:
"My friend, please listen carefully,
The long spear appeared just now,
Is Sire spear my father-in-law used when he was alive.
Semtay always takes it with him,
I do not know why it appeared here.
Maybe it wants to tell us:
If we want to defeat Sartbayi,
We must use Sire spear.

"The young man appeared in front of us,
Is your friend, my eyeball,
Is my only son,
His name is Seytek."

Ayichulek urged Kuyale to mount,
Galloped toward Kapuka mountain.
They arrived at the mountain foot of Yuchy Koshaoyi's,
Entered their village.
She dare not take Kuyale,
To see Semtay.
She dare not report,
The news to Seytek either.

Behind their back,
Ayichulek came to Krichorao secretly:
"Brother, listen to me,
I did not discuss with you when I went,
Now I have made it done,
I invite fairy Kuyale for you.

"Please ask for your brother's forgiveness for me,
For Seytek,
Please go and explain for me.

"Kuyale is wise and super brave,
Please arrange her to fight Sartbayi.
If she defeats the enemy,
If she lives up to our expectation,
We will persuade her to become our family member,
She is a girl and she has not engaged to anyone.

"My brother, the reason I tell you,
Is because I know how things stand.
When I prepared to patrol those places,
You asked me to find solutions.
What you said to me then,

I believe you will not forget."

Krichorao bursted into laughter,
Exposed his jade-white teeth:
"Dear sister-in-law,
I admire your wisdom,
I just do not know,
Does this heroine worship Ayikoler's spirit?"

Ayichulek answered him:
"I led her onto the branch road deliberately,
Climbed up high along Alma road.
She asked me how to get to the grave at the moment,
So I took her to the sacred grave.

"I did not ask her to dismount and salute,
She saw the grave in a distance,
She dismounted and walked ahead respectfully.
There is another thing she did touched me,
She did not call my father-in-law's name directly,
She called him lion Ayikoler.
For my Ayashata, namely your father,
She did not call his name directly either,
She worshiped them with tears,
It seems she is a virtuous girl with good etiquette.

"The clouds in the sky dispersed immediately,
My father's Sire spear,
Stood upright in front of the white grave door magically.
Sire spear leaned gently to Kuyale,
It seemed it greeted her.
Then Seytek held Sire spear tight in his hand,
Appeared in front of our eyes.
She asked me what did that mean,
I explained to her one by one.

"I have let her rest at my home,

I will decide how to treat her.
Smart Kris,
It seems you have fully understood what I mean."

Seytek and Sartbayi Fought Against Each Other for the Second Time

Heard what Ayichulek said,
Hero Krichorao could not control himself,
He was too excited and impatient to wait,
He came to Semtay's room immediately.

Uncle Bakay, aunt Kanikai,
And Semtay were together,
Krichorao walked up and saluted them.

Smart Krichorao,
Had sent Kargalday,
To invite Seytek to come to the palace,
Hero Krichorao asked Seytek,
To send Kalado to scout enemy situation:
"Nine days has passed,
It is time to battle Sartbayi.
Let Kalado scout the information first,
We need comprehend the changes at any moment.
If Sartbayi mounts and goes to battlefield,
We need mount and fight back."

They asked Kargalday to deliver the order,
All generals and soldiers prepared and waited.

Kalado received the order,
He mounted and set out happily.
"I am a person they trust,
They always need me."
He could not hold his eager feeling of fighting.

Young men guarded the palace,
Followed orders and rushed around.
Those married young women,
Felt lazy to talk but smiled.

They walked to the side of the young men,
Turned round and gave a glance,
Surprised Young men,
Repaid with warm smile.
Married young ladies swung their waists and left,
Played at flirtation.

Men and women flirted with each other,
It was a habit ancient people passed down.
Someone would be refused,
Someone would become lovers.

People came and gathered from all places,
Hero Krichorao expressed directly:
"Hero Ayikoler was more powerful than my father,
I have a mother fed me with her pure milk,
I have a brother we had the same mother's milk,
And I have my lovely nephew,
And I have a good sister-in-law Ayichulek.
I hope I do not say wrong,
Now Kirigz people,
Are rich and do not lack anything.

"Kaypudan's daughter Kuyale,
Came on a special trip to help us.
When my sister-in-law went to patrol,
I told her first.
Asked her to find a solution,
Uncle Bakay did not stop me then.
But big brother, mother and Seytek,
You three did not hear it.

"The appointed deadline has arrived,
The day of final battle is coming.
Arrogant Sartbayi,
Wants to fight it out with us wholeheartedly.

"He casts his greedy eyes on Arashi,
He besieges us with massive troops,
Makes us fall in hot water.
Now he invades Talas openly,
He inherited Kunwuerbayi's will,
He wants to wipe Burut out completely.

"Sartbayi has high skills and great strength,
He is powerful and ferocious,
Who can fight against him alone?
We four fought him,
But we four all failed to knock him down.

"If Sartbayi comes and challenges again,
Seytek, you should go and fight bravely,
I guess Kuyale wants to fight for the first credit,
But if we let woman go and fight first,
Kirgiz will leave a bad reputation,
Later generations will laugh at us."
Krichorao also told those people,
About what Ayichulek had told him,
And the sign showed in the hero's grave.

Right at the moment,
Kalado walked in hurriedly,
Ayichulek let him take a seat,
Brought him horse milk wine to steady his nerves.

Kalado tossed off the cup and said:
"There is a low hill,
Opposite Sartbayi's camp.

I sat there and watched with my telescope.
It gets to noon,
Sartbayi wakes up and got up.

"His Tosur steed,
Has been lifted up for nine days.
It gets rid of its tiredness in the gentle breeze,
It shakes the body and wants to free itself from the bridle.

"He unties the rope,
Takes the fetters and heel ropes off,
Then takes Tosur's bridle off,
Let it go to the pasture and eat.

"Valleys in Jetimtai has luxuriant grass,
It can hold numerous at the same time.
In a blink of an eye,
Tosur eats all grass there,
The valley becomes a wasteland with rising dust.
Sartbayi is arrogant,
And his mount is crazy and arrogant too.
Ten ferocious-looking giants,
Especially feed his mount.

"There are many soldiers in the wilderness,
They dig five big earth stoves.
Put up five big pots on the stoves,
Boiled the meat in.
They took thirty basins of meat,
To Sartbayi.
The huge-belly giant,
Even does not wash his hands,
Grabs the meat and devours like a wolf,
He finishes all meat with nothing left.

"They carry five big vats,
I do not know they are meat soup or some kind of liquid,

He has one vat in one gulp,
He finishes five vats in an instant.
It seems he is not satisfied,
He runs to the river and continue to drink,
He makes the downstream dry up completely.

"Then he stands up and strolls freely,
Like a pregnant woman.
He asks to saddle his mount,
I guess he is on the way now.
I saw the devil starts to act,
So I come back and report quickly."

Hearing the information Kalado scouted,
Generals and soldiers mounted and set out.
All these news,
Passed to the heroine's ears.
The heroine decided to visit all heroes,
Uncle Bakay, aunt Kanikai,
Lion Semtay, Seytek,
Hero Krichorao and Kalado,
The heroine met them all on the way.

Heroine Kuyale measured with her eyes:
"Uncle Bakay is a respectable elder,
Among Kirgiz of white felt hat,
He is a vastly superior intellect.
Look at madam Kanikai,
She simply is mother Wumay[①].
Look at Semtay,
He looks like the full moon.
It is said Jusurp is a very good looking man,
Semtay looks like him.

"Look at Krichorao,

1 Wumay: It refers to the Holy Mother in Kirgiz legend.

His words are sweeter than honey.
He is kindhearted and broadminded,
His appearance and bearing is out of ordinary.

"Seytek is twenty-two years old,
He is at life's full flowering.
He looks exactly the same like Semtay,
It is like the father's head is on the son's head.

"When he gets twenty-fives years old,
He will be a giant the steed cannot bear.
Unfortunately, he cannot find a suitable steed,
So he has to stay at home and cannot go out.

"Ayikoler's offspring,
His son and his grandson,
His widow and his daughter-in-law,
His capable assistants,
They all have impressive appearances.
Kirgiz people are so lucky,
To have these elites."

The heroine told herself like this,
Bowed and saluted them.
Except Seytek,
She did not shake hands with anyone.

Lion Krichorao,
Looked up and down at the heroine:
"She is really a heroine,
Her heart is as pure as cream.
If she marries a perfectly matched man,
She must bear an invincible son in the future.

"She wins in every battle,
If those arrogant guys meet her,
They must remeasure themselves.

As long as she reaches her hands out,
She can control this misty world."

They met in the wilderness,
Then they divided in two groups.
Right at the moment,
Sartbayi appeared in the battlefield.

Khan Semtay,
Hero Krichorao,
Lion Seytek and Kalado,
Four heroes were ready to fight,
While the heroine asked for a battle assignment.
Hearing her request,
Lion Seytek refused her.

Sartbayi roared as loud as a thunder,
Soldiers who heard felt nervous,
Those timid soldiers,
Were scared out of their pants.
Even animals dare not run in the wilderness,
They hid in caves in a panic.

Sartbayi splashed like a piece of burning steel,
Soldiers could not open their eyes.
He rested for nine days,
He enjoyed the delicious food to his content.
He restored the strength and refreshed,
Came back and fought to the end.

Sartbayi held the huge hammer in his hand,
Carried his crescent axe,
And sharp sword,
Long spear and heavy iron stick.
Though he had so many weapons,
He did not forget his shovel and short sword.
Kolonshak firelock was loaded,

Carried the bow and arrows on his shoulders.

Sartbayi put on solid armor,
Held the strong shield on his back.
Leggings and knee pads,
Shook below his knees.
Iron-made seven-layer chest protector,
Shined in the sunshine.
Nine-layer solid helmet,
Buckled tight on his head.
Delicate belt tied on his waist,
He was swollen with inordinate arrogance.

He was confident he could defeat the rival in front of him,
And he could defeat the captain with power in hand.
He could clear his way ahead,
And finally he could occupy Talas and plunder to his content.

He clamored wildly,
That he would cut Khan Semtay, Krichorao,
Lion Seytek and Kalado's heads off,
And tie behind his saddle to show off.
He would take Ayicuhlek as a trophy.

He would smash the white grave,
Dig the lion's bones out,
Throw into fire and burn into ash.
He would push wall of Sire city over,
He would level the city to the ground.

He would capture girls and married young women,
Drive countless livestock.
For men, no matter the old or the young,
Kill them all.

The arrogant guy,
Cherished a conquering heart and came to challenge.

If he occupied Talas,
He would descend disaster to Arashi people.

Drunk man would tell the truth,
Sartbayi was still drunk when he mounted.
He acted at his pleasure,
He talked all his frenzied plans.

Lion Seytek whipped Koykuron,
Rushed to the battlefield and said:
"Ten days ago, right here,
You begged me to extend the time.
Now you are arrogant and talking rubbish,
Do you know your way back has been cut off?
You have no way to return to your home alive.

"I suggest you,
To call your counselor and trusted followers,
And generals and soldiers loyal to you,
To your side as soon as possible.
You'd better leave your will early,
It is good for delivering to your wife and children.

"I will cut your head off and tie it on the saddle,
I will cut your belly open and take your gall out.
I will not hurt the innocent like you did,
I will not make trouble to anyone except you.

"We are the offspring of Ayikoler Manas,
Not only people, even dogs,
We will not offend deliberately.
But anyone invades our sacred land,
We must make him reap what he has sown.
If you change your mind,
I will let you go alive today.

"The ancient said: you should have wings if you fly,

You need a tail to land.
If you are a hero,
Think carefully about your result."

Heard what Seytek said,
Sartbayi stamped with rage:
"Do you come to beg me,
Or come you ruin your life?
Your begging words,
Are penniless to me!"

Seytek felt distressed as he heart it,
He had known Sartbayi was hopeless,
He only told him to not forget his ancestors' lessons:
"Do you remember you grandfather and father?
They were arrogant and courted their own doom!
Do you want to step into the shoes of them?
Go to hell earlier!"

Sartbayi was filled with rage,
Black smoke spouted out of his mouth,
Flames splashed out of his eyes.
He swung the grey and white long spear,
Whipped Tosur steed severely,
Swung the spear at Seytek.

Seytek urged Koykuron steed,
Galloped and met head-on to the battle bravely.
He warded the spear poked to him off,
Both their spears broke in several pieces.

The heroes drew their axes out,
Cut toward each other fiercely.
Axes were not strong enough,
The crack on the back was bigger and bigger,
It broke in two finally.
The edge of axe curled up,

The handle had come loose and the head flew out far away.

The heroes drew their knives out,
The knives came out of sheaths with cold light,
One cut and one warded without yielding.
Edges curled up and backs cracked,
Broken pieces of fell onto the ground.
Hammers clanged and smashed,
Like dust flew in the air.

The heroes all ribs and joints,
Injured badly and painfully,
They fixed eyes at each other,
Gnashed their teeth and fought fiercely.

The heroes felt dizzy for a while,
Like drunk men.
They seemed to lose consciousness for the next,
Stopped with no action.
They recovered their sanity then,
Galloped their steeds toward each other.

The heroes' helmets had lost,
Their bald heads like melons shook back and forth.
Blood covered both of their faces,
Their heads swelled like a big barrel.

A layer of skin and flesh was removed from their hands,
Injured neck was bleeding,
The blood ran down to the chest along their necks,
Passed their waists and legs,
Finally dyed the earth red.

Their wounds congealed into clots
Small ones were like wooden bowls and big ones were like basins.
Fell off the wounds from time to time,
And rolled on the ground.

People saw such a pitiful sight,
They were astonished out of their wits.

Sartbayi's Tosur steed,
Seemed to have endless energy,
It still galloped like wind,
Its hooves galloped sometimes faster than the lightning.

Seytek's Surkoron steed,
Had the wolf's patience and agility,
Had tiger's strength and ferocity,
Had deer's flexibility and speed,
It ran faster and faster and fought stronger and stronger.

Both of their armors were torn into pieces,
And could not cover their bodies anymore.
Sartbayi thought over and over,
Had a plot ready in his mind:
"It gets dark today,
Let's go back and have a rest.
At the appointed time tomorrow,
Let's fight it out."
He informed his troops,
"Get ready and wait for my news,
Once I defeat Seytek,
You all turn out,
Stamp the land of white felt hat flat."

The sun hid to its room,
The dark kissed the earth,
Seytek agreed to stop and have a rest,
Sartbayi went back to his camp.

People helped Seytek dismount,
Took his battle gown off,
He was injured all over his body.

Kuyale carried painkillers with her,
She let Seytek drink it.
Then mixed the female tiger's urine,
With fresh horse milk,
Washed all his wounds.

Kuyale crushed dandelion and made ointment with it,
Smeared on the wounds gently,
Sucked all thin blood on the wounds.
Mixed Apu① and Sapu②,
Ebaipu③ and Sebaipu④,
And Medaiti⑤ with Nush⑥,
Melted red Kerma,
Let him swallow carefully.
His wounds recovered soon,
Seytek relieved from pain overnight completely.

①②③④⑤⑥ Kirgiz language. They are all names of medicine.

Fairy Kuyale Stabbed Sartbayi with a Spear

Early next morning,
Sartbayi was impatient to rush into the battlefield.
The steed Tokzler[1] under his bottom,
Galloped at its top speed.
Troops behind Sartbayi,
Blew the horn,
Swarmed up with him.
Drums were beat deafeningly.
Countless spears and knives,
Shined in the hands of generals and soldiers.

It did not happen in the previous days,
Krichorao told his heroes:
"Sartbayi insists on fighting it out,
He calls massive troops out,
No matter he wins or fails,
Before this noon,
His troops will invade our village.

"Kalado, you go and resist on the left side,
My big brother Semtay,
Please go and resist on the right side,
Of course, I will stay in the front,
Let Seytek fight him alone."

Right at the moment,
Ayichulek came to them:

1 Tokzler: Kirgiz language. It is the nickname of Sartbayi's mount. It means the steed is like a red mountain.

"Kuyale let me ask a battle assignment for her,
If she fights alone,
Her spear will break in pieces,
She asks us to provide a spear.
She does not want to touch Sartbayi's body,
She wants us to understand her."

"Let Kuyale go if she wants to,
If she needs a long spear,
Let's give her Sire spear,
Father passed down."
Krichorao replied like this,
Ayichulek turned round and reported.

Kuyale was as big as a mountain,
He mounted Jelijetibes and went to the battlefield.
Kuyale was in good shape,
From warrior's skills,
To girl's needlework skills,
She was a master of all.

Heroes mounted and held their guns to support Kuyale,
Kuyale mounted Jelijetibes,
Like a pine tree grew in high mountains freely,
Straight and lofty.

Seeing Kuyale coming to fight,
Sartbayi said to her:
"Kuyale, do you know,
I dare do anything.
You want to hide from me,
So you come to Seytek for help.

"You come to me today,
I will help you out,
I have my way to defeat you.
I will let Semtay, Krichorao and Seytek,

All these man you rely on to die,
I will conquer all places you rely on!

"Ayichulek has a good looking,
I will take her as a trophy.
I will take you as a servant and concubine,
Let you cook and wash dishes everyday!

"If you do not come and offend me,
I planed to marry you,
Among my wives,
Let you be queen.

"You'd better take my advice,
Change your mind and retreat from the battlefield,
You only can keep your reputation this way!"

Kuyale retorted upon Sartbayi:
"I am Kuyale,
And you are Sartbayi,
But you talk to me shamelessly!
Do not say let me marry you,
I even do not want to pee on you!
Sartbayi, do not be afraid,
Play your best card!"

Sartbayi became angry from embarrassment,
He could not wait to prick his spear.
Kuyale let him attack first deliberately,
She wanted to test how his skills was.

Seeing the sharp spear point coming,
Kuyale did not move at all,
Sartbayi's long spear,
Rebounded from her body,
Broke in sixty pieces.
"Sartbayi, I have given you a chance,

Now it is my time to attack,
My spear will smash you."
Damned Sartbayi,
Gave Kuyale the chance to attack.

Kuyale exerted all her strength,
Pricked her spear out fiercely,
Sartbayi did not care at all,
But Tosur steed could not bear the blow,
Stumbled but it stood up quickly again.

They gave up attacking in turn,
Started ferocious fighting.

Sartbayi lifted his yurt-size hammer,
Pounded toward Kuyale.
Kuyale had sharp eyes and agile hands,
She pinched his arm,
Sartbayi could not bear the pain,
The hammer fell off his hand.

Kuyale did not use her hammer,
She lifted the sharp axe up.
Before the axe fell over his head,
Sartbayi warded it off with his axe.
Two axes clanged together and the back cracked,
They could not cut each other anymore.

One female lion and one male dog,
Fought in the battlefield,
Dragged each other's collar,
Tore each other's battle gown,
Pierced each other's armor,
Pulled each other's sleeves apart.

Right at the moment,
Stared his angry eyes,

Unkempt beard and moustache,
Stuck up one by one.
He spat on his palm,
Tried to grab Kuyale's wrist,
Dragged hard together with her steed,
Dragged her off the saddle.

The heroine was a little worried,
She looked around expectedly.
She reached her hand and hinted them,
Seemed to ask them to give her the spear,
Agile Seytek,
Remembered what hero Krichorao said in the morning:
"If she needs the long spear,
Let's give her Sire spear."
He thought the time was coming,
He asked Kalado to give her the spear.

Kutubayi's son Kalado,
Put Sire spear across the spear,
He could not balance the weight of the spear,
He did not know what to do on the horseback.

Seytek saw it,
Went and took the spear over.
The spear in his hand was like a girl reached her neck,
He put it in Kuyale's hand.

The heroine took the spear over,
She was fully relieved.
Her worry and doubt,
Disappeared immediately.

The spear point changed ninety nine times,
It made a sound like silver bell one moment,
Made people feel pleasant.
It made a sound that shocked people the next,

Made people encouraged.

Kuyale held the spear tight,
She was at ease.
She was fearless with redoubled confidence,
Showed her heroic courage.

Kuyale gave a hard lash,
To Jelijetibes.
Sartbayi who wanted to grab her arm,
But he failed and fanned the air.

Kuyale roared again angrily,
Shouted the name Manas loudly,
Made deafening roaring.
Sartbayi was very anxious,
His grey and white spear was across the saddle,
He grabbed it in his hand tight,
He whipped his mount,
Wanted to resist Kuyale's charging momentum.

Sartbayi was very powerful,
But he lost his courage and strength after the long-time battle.
Kuyale was agile,
Did not give Sartbayi any chance to fight back,
Pricked hard toward the side of his waist.

Sartbayi's steed Tosur could not bear it,
Its fore legs stumbled and it stood up again.
Kuyale turned round quickly,
Aimed at the other side of Sartbayi's waist and pricked,
Tosur steed could not bear the fierce blow,
Its fore legs bowed and fell to the ground.

Kuyale changed her position,
Jelijetibes steed galloped at its top speed,
Sartbayi's troops all had a feeling,

Their master's fail could not retrieve.
Kuyale lifted the spear at his back and pricked,
The sharp spear point went into his neck,
Sartbayi and his steed both threw off their feet.

Kuyale turned her steed round,
Turned Sartbayi over,
Aimed at the middle of his chest,
She pricked her spear fiercely.

The sharp spear point went in his chest,
The whole spear point to where the tassel went in.
Kuyale picked huge Sartbayi on the spear point,
Jelijetibes could not bear the weight,
It could not step forward.

Kuyale noticed at the moment,
Sartbayi's Tosur steed,
Its neck was broken and its legs twitched.
She put the spear post on Tosur's saddle,
She watched the time to cook a meal.
Sartbayi came round again gradually,
He opened his dazed eyes.

Sartbayi was really as hard as rocks,
Although the spear was stabbed in his chest,
He still said arrogantly:
"Are you Kuyale?
Do you love me?
So you lift me over your head.
I know you are afraid of me.
In order to flatter me,
You lift me over your head!
You are such a loathsome female dog,
Wait for me to clear out with you!"
Hearing Sartbayi's abusive words,
Kuyale replied calmly:

"Mardkuler's son Sartbayi,
Do you know where you are?
There are thousands of roads for warriors,
But you only choose the east and the west,
You want to be the law, Sartbayi!
Every person you meet,
You must bully, Sartbayi!
You have such an end today,
You may never think of it, Sartbayi!
Everyone glanced sideways at you,
You did not let any of them off, Sartbayi!
I will cut your belly open,
You never think of it, Sartbayi!"

The heroine finished her words,
Sartbayi on her spear point,
She moved to the black rock Kapuka,
Swung the spear and span it in circles.
She threw Sartbayi at sharp peaks,
She made the earth shook and peaks collapsed.

Self-confident Sartbayi,
Was smashed to pieces,
And he went to the hell finally.

Kuyale asked to escort his troops,
To her quickly.
She did not ask for any trophy,
She let them go back home.

Let us put this aside,
Tell about how hero Seytek,
And fairy Kuyale,
Got married.

Seytek Married Fairy Kuyale

The Magical Adventure on the Way of Marriage

Kuyale stayed there for five days,
Twelve giants were with her all the time.
She was ready to go back five days later,
Ayichulek said to her:
"'Sage makes ties for friends,
God makes ties for marriage.'
The saying spreads wide in the folks.
You and I are good friends,
Maybe it is the tie sage makes for us.
Kuyale, if you agree,
Let's turn our friendship into marriage relations.

"If we propose the marriage for Semtay,
Even I feel embarrassed.
Semtay is over fifty years old,
But you are just a flocky chick.

"If we propose the marriage for Krichorao,
I also feel embarrassed.

"My friend, please forgive me,
I do not let my husband and son shun deliberately.
Because we are bosom friends,
I want to tell you my secret.

"I have a swan dress,
I can fly freely in the sky.
But I am also a woman,
So I have to marry a man,

Let me tell you the truth,
I chose to elope in the past.

"You are eighteen years old now,
You thirst for man's love.
I will not say anything else,
You can understand what I mean."

Smart Kuyale,
Stood there silently.
People of eighteen thousand places,
She scanned them all in her mind.

"My friend Ayichulek,
You spoke your mind to me.
You invited me and I come under your invitation,
But my purpose to come here,
Is not for marrying someone.

"There are full of creatures in the world,
Include human, animals and insects.
Every species has male and female,
Every species is in pair.

"You said Semtay and Kris are old,
It is not surprising.
But you said you ran off with someone,
And persuaded me to stay,
I cannot understand what you mean?"

Ayichulek had her front teeth exposed,
Said to Kuyale:
"The beauty of woman depends on man's foil,
The greatness of hero depends on territory's foil,
The goodliness of the rich depends on property's foil,
The reputation of warrior depends on people's spreading.

"I did not point it out clearly,
I just give a suggestion and let you think about it,
Among people in the worldm
There are countless successful people,
But none of them could compare with my father-in-law.

"Your friend Ayichulek,
Never dislike her own family.
If you agree on my suggestion,
Let my son Seytek,
Be your husband."

Kuyale kept silent and pondered over,
She made up her mind:
"Wherever a woman goes,
She finally will marry someone.
Seytek's ancestors had great reputation,
He is a young lion.

"He is about twenty-two years old,
He is only a few years older than me.
Seytek is a suitable choice for me,
Here will be my home.

"My friend, you persuade me to stay again and again,
I can accept your advice.
But I come out and marry without asking my father,
How can I go back and see him?

"Your son Seytek,
Has a wife,
I do not know clearly about his wife's information.
If I marry Seytek,
Will his wife be jealous?
If I marry a man who has already had a wife,
I will suffer everyday after I get married."
Ayichulek tried to straighten her out:

"Whether a woman can win a man's heart,
It depends on the woman.
Whether wife and concubine can live peacefully together,
It depends on whether you are reasonable and fair.

"Your sister[1] is Olus Khan's daughter,
She is the youngest one among the twelve daughters,
Khan loves her the most.

"Kuyale, where is your father?
I will visit him personally,
I will go and explain to him personally.

"We will send you off first to your hometown,
In about three to five days,
Seytek and Krichorao,
Your father-in-law and I,
We four will catch up with you."

Made a decision on the marriage,
Kuyale mounted and set out.
People stayed prayed and blessed,
Sent her off reluctantly.

Five days passed,
Ayichulek reported in detail,
To her mother-in-law Kanikai.
Kanikai and Bakay,
Considered and discussed carefully.
Then they called Semtay and Krichorao,
Seytek and Ayichulek in.

Kanikai said to them:
"Kaypudan's daughter Kuyale,
Her mother is a fairy in heaven.

1 It refers to Seytek's wife Gulinar.

She is smart and virtuous and skillful,
She has killed powerful enemy Sartbayi.
She is a girl in her right age to marry,
I want her to be Seytek's wife.
Each household sends a representative,
Go to his father and propose the marriage,
To show the respect from Manas' family.
For the sake of Manas' spirit,
I am sure he will not refuse.

"Semtay and Chulek, you go together!
Seytek and Kris, you go together!
You four make this trip,
Must welcome Kuyale to our family!"

They followed Kanikai's arrangement,
Got ready to step on the long journey.
There were full of gold, silver and jewelry in their pouches,
They got Bakay's blessing before they went.
They remembered the route clearly,
Set out from Talas.
They galloped their steeds,
Toward southwest.

Black dust the horse hooves kicked up,
Rose in air and turned into mist.

Seytek's Koykuron,
Semtay's Tayburuler,
Hero Krichorao's Surkoyun,
Galloped in the boundless desert,
Sweat ran down and surging rivers.

No one drop of water,
No one grass,
In hero Semtay's whole life,
He had never seen such a desert before.

Their steeds,
Did not thirst to death in the desert.
After fifteen days,
They finally got to the edge of the desert.

The dismounted and unsaddled.
Ate and slept in the open for one night,
The heroes went to pick the bride,
Met another trouble!

There is a tribe called Terwot,
They lived in the place of sunset.
In Terwot tribe,
A new hero sprang out,
His name was Salamart.

Salamart was young and aggressive,
He headed seventy thousand troops,
And eighty giants,
Went on an expedition to heroine Kuyale,
He aimed to take the beautiful girl over in his hand.

In his temporary camp,
He suddenly saw young Seytek's figure.
He sent a spy,
To scout their information:
"Who are those people?
Lost in this desert,
Who are they?
Where are they from?
What are they doing here?
Go and get me the detailed information."

The spy came to the heroes,
When he saw Tayburuler,
Surkoyun and Koykuron,
He was astonished.

Seeing Semtay, Krichorao and Seytek,
Their dignified bearing made him scared.
Seeing moon-like sister-in-law Chulek,
Her beauty made him fanciful and fickle.
Her face was white touched with red,
Made him aim at the moon.

The spy asked them:
"Three riders and one woman on foot,
March in the boundless desert,
I do not know who you are?

"My captain is Salamart,
In order to know who you are,
He sends me to you to check out.

"You are all energetic-looking,
Your eyes are bright life flames,
Your grand figures are like mountains,
You all have the majesty like tigers.

"Your clothing and your equipment,
Are valuable and rare.
Please tell me the truth, do not hide anything,
I will report to young hero Salamart."

Seytek replied him:
"You comment from head to feet as you come here,
You babble on and on and make us feel annoyed.
Who is Salamart you mentioned just now?
We never hear about this hero.
Three people here,
Have the same ancestor.

"We come from Talas,
We are on the way to welcome the bride Kuyale,
She is my bride.

"We have numerous fellow people,
They are called Kirgiz Arashi.
Our hometown is vast in terrene,
It is called Kankoler, Talas.
Our ancestor was broadminded,
People called him lion Manas.
This madam is Ayichulek,
This is what I can tell you.

"Can I ask your hero Salamart,
Why does he head his troops and get under way?"

"Kaypudan's daughter Kuyale,
Is invincible and famous.
Salamart goes on an expedition,
To plunder her city,
And rob of her to be his wife.

"You come a long way to here,
For the sake of picking Kuyale,
I persuade you not to mention this again,
By the time he does not know this yet,
You return to your hometown quietly."

Seytek said:
"You are just a spy,
Go back and tell your captain,
What you have seen here,
Tell him in detail,
He has no way to take Kuyale as his war trophy.

"I come a long way from Talas,
For the sake of marrying the heroine.
As long as I am still alive,
How I can let others rob of her!

If I do not marry her,
I do not need to come such a long way to here!

"Kirgiz people of white felt hat are behind me,
My name is Seytek,
I have the power to destroy the world.
My father Semtay,
My uncle Krichorao,
And my mother Chulek are with me.
Kuyale and I have engaged,
No one can stop me!"

Hearing these four people's names,
Hearing four heroes' harsh response,
The spy felt nervous and flustered,
He turned his steed round hurriedly,
Ran back to his camp.
He reported to Salamart,
What he had heard and seen in detail:

"Salamart, Please look before you leap,
You are still young now,
You can find beautiful grils anywhere.
People come here are Mans' offspring,
Their reputation spread wide in the world,
If we offend them deliberately,
We cannot spare our life.

"Karamark and Khitan people,
And numerous Kangayi people in the east,
Afghanistan and Khurasan people in the west,
Kirigz hidden traitors and degenerates,
Anyone dare go against Manas,
He defeated them all with no exception.
If you take my advice,
We just return and avoid crossing swords with them.

"I observed their mounts carefully,
I was carried away with them.
I watched their bearing carefully,
Those three warriors are not ordinary.
My hero, please think carefully,
Sartbayi once ruled the west,
He swallowed all warriors who dare resist him.
But he invaded Talas rashly,
He was knocked down and never stood up again."

Salamart shouted crazily:
"I will stamp the place Kuyale lives flat,
I will rob of her into my hand.
If I cannot do it,
It will damage my reputation.
I will not be worthy of a warrior with rein in hand,
I will have no face to see my fellow people again!

"I do not care whom I will meet,
I will march in Kuyale's place anyway."

Salamart waved his flag,
Ordered his troops to march ahead.
The massive troops advanced forward,
Dust rolled all over the sky.

Seytek saw it,
He could not control his anger.
Seytek roared as loud as a thunder,
He grasped his spear and blocked the way bravely,
Shouted the name Manas.
Salamart asked his troops to stop,
He walked out of the massive troops alone.

Seytek was twenty-two years old,
He was Khan of his people,
He had an distinguished appearance,

He was a handsome hero.

"You shout the name of Manas,
But you block the way of the massive troops unreasonably.
You are so courageous,
Who are you?"
Salamart questioned Seytek.

Seytek replied:
"My father is famous around the world with his achievements,
Even Khitan people respect him very much.
You are aggressive and arrogant,
How you dare head troops and rob me of my fiancee,
I come out and stop your outrageous behavior,
Can you say you are reasonable and I am not?

"You head massive troops,
Go and plunder Kuyale,
Did she rob your people?
Did she rob your livestock in pasture?
Did she humiliate your people?
Did she invade your territory?"

Salamart gave a more funny answer:
"That female giant Kuyale,
She was born a bad girl,
Otherwise, why did she go to you,
And want to be your wife?

"I will teach Kuyale a lesson,
I will occupy her city.
If I am satisfied with her appearance,
I will marry her.
If I am not satisfied,
I will only take her for one night as a trophy,
Then I will go back home the next day.

"It is said Kirgiz girls are beautiful,
I will go around and search.
Once I find a pretty girl,
No matter she is willing or not,
I will rob of her!

"As long as I can marry the girl I like,
I am happy to be defeated.
Even let me propose humbly,
I will not feel ashamed.

"I heard there are three beautiful girls in the world,
I will choose one of them to marry,
Giant Keyal,
Is one of them.
One is in Afghanistan,
And another Kirgiz girl is in Talas.

"As long as I take a fancy to a pretty girl,
I will not stop if I do not marry her.
Seytek, rein your horse now,
Do not block my way."

"You ask me to turn the horse round,
Are you superior to me?
She is my fiancee,
How can I let you rob me of her!"

Seytek stamped with rage,
Salamart became more aggressive.
Two young heroes were both angry,
They roared like thunder and fought bravely.

They waved their spears,
The roaring of spears made mountains collapsed.
The flash of knives and swords cut across the sky,
Tassels of knife handles waved in air.

Merciless whip fell on horse bottom continually,
Urged the steeds to gallop ahead.
The galloping steeds were like birds,
Rushed ahead like shot arrows.

Horse hooves stamped rocks in tiny pieces,
Roared to the sky.

Long spears pricked each other,
Axes cut and axe backs broke.
Two heroes fought with rage,
Battle gowns were torn.
Faces were badly bruised,
Blood shed and soaked collars.

They were regardless of danger,
Fought each other fiercely,
They fought each other for one day.
Till the evening came,
They went back to their own camp and rested.

When the next morning came,
The morning light shined the earth,
Two rivals in love got up hurriedly,
Put on their invulnerable battle gowns,
Put on their sparrow-eye net iron clothes,
Mounted and got ready for the battle.
Salamart's massive troops,
Set out together and followed him.

Lion Seytek and Salamart,
Fought fiercely with sharp spears,
White foams spat out of their mouths,
They exerted all their energy and skills.

Ferocious Salamart,

Launched a more fierce attack.
Lion Seytek did not panic at all,
He was calm when he faced strong enemy:
"Self-confident Salamart,
I will give you one more chance to attack.
If you can prick me down,
I will not regret at all."

Remarkable Seytek,
Did not move and care at all.
He considered self-confident Salamart,
Lower than his trouser legs.
When he watched with his scornful eyes,
Salamart held the sharp spear,
Gave Seytek a heavy blow.

Seytek left the saddle,
Leaned to the side of his steed.
The forelegs of his steed stumbled a little but it stood up again,
Everything went black before his eyes and then recovered soon.

"Ah, it is my turn to attack!"
Angry Seytek launched an attack.
Koykuron steed under his bottom,
Folded its ears and galloped its hooves forward.

Seytek stared his eyes widely and angrily,
Angry flames splashed out,
The sharp spear point in his hand,
Was like a ball of fire.
The lion attacked from the rival's flank,
He got Salamart in one prick.

Arrogant Salamart,
His bottom left the saddle,
His mount was going to turn on its side.
High skilled Salamart,

Sustained the ground with his spear immediately.
He avoided a tragedy of both throwing off their feet,
He saved his life.

They gave up the attacks in turn,
It had been countless rounds.
Fierce fight one after another,
Fought fiercely and regardless of danger.
Tried to attack each other's weak point,
With full of hostility and hatred.

Without a rest from dawn till dusk,
They were locked in a stalemate.
Either of them could not knock the other one down,
Either of them could not defeat the other one.
Darkness closed down,
Two heroes went back to have a rest.

Do not be in a hurry and wait a second,
Let me tell you an interesting thing first.
Ayichulek flew to Kuyale,
Without being noticed by anyone,
Reported her what happened there.

Kuyale said when he heard it:
"It is futile that Salamart come to ask for a marriage,
I have fallen in love with Ayikoler's offspring,
How can I lower my head to Salamart?
Seytek should not be worried,
He does not need to fight against Salamart!

"No matter when and where,
Salamart has the right to choose and marry beautiful girls.
Tell Seytek that he does not need to stop him,
Let Salamart march toward here,
I will stand by Seytek's side.

"If I go to where they are now rashly,
They two will doubt,
They will think I want to choose a stronger man,
They will gnash their teeth and fight it out."

Smart and virtuous Kuyale,
Her decision was correct.
If she went to where they fought,
Seytek might misunderstand it,
He would think she was not coming for helping him,
But coming for welcoming Salamart.
Why did not Kuyale come to this place,
Ayichulek knew the reason very well.

Ayichulek returned at night,
Went back in her yurt quietly.
Salamart headed his troops,
Marched toward Kuyale's city at that night.
There was a man called Tipukai,
He was leading the way for the troops.

Next morning,
Seytek chased Salamart.
Ayichulek flew in the sky,
Three heroes whipped and galloped on the ground.
Eight days passed,
They arrived at Kaypudan's city.
The massive troops stopped outside of the city,
They pitched camps there.

Kaypudan's daughter Kuyale,
Had her secret in her heart.
She expected Seytek to come earlier,
She looked calm on her face but she was worried in her heart.
When she found enemies approached the walls,
She felt worried and anxious:

"Has Seytek been defeated?
So the devil comes to occupy my city!
Have Khan Semtay and hero Kris,
Changed their mind and leave me?
Or has cold-blooded Salamart,
Cut their heads off?
If such disaster descends,
Ayichulek must come and deliver me the news.
Maybe these people were defeated,
And they run to here for a shelter."

She did not have much time to guess,
Dust rose up behind the troops.
Kuyale fixed her eyes and watched,
Tall Semtay galloped his steed and rushed forward.
Lion Seytek and hero Kris,
They three went shoulder to shoulder.

Kuyale considered as she saw it,
"I should let Salamart know,
I love Seytek,
Let his jealous flames burn!"

Kuyale sent a messenger,
To welcome Seytek into the city.
Seytek saw the messenger,
He understood Kuyale's heart to him.

What had happened,
Made Salamart feel embarrassed.
He became angry and red-faced,
Like dark clouds covered the sky.
The young man with a delicate looks,
Now had all hair on his face stood up.
If you shaved it,
It was enough for weaving a pair of socks.
Salamart was unable to contain his anger,

He roared and blocked Seytek's way.

Seytek thought:
"We are coming for the marriage,
Come to bow to her father and settle the marriage,
This guy whips Surbutan steed,
Comes and blocks my way,
He wants to ruin my marriage."
Seytek let others go into the city first,
He dealt with the challenge alone.

Salamart rushed to him,
Gave a severe prick to Seytek's belly.
Hurried Salamart did not get the target,
The spear point moved to the flank and hit the waist.
Pierced through three-layer sparrow eye net iron clothes,
A piece of muscle of leather flagon,
Fell off from Seytek's waist,
Blood spouted out of the split.

Hero Krichorao was burning with anxiety as he saw it,
He turned his steed round and galloped immediately,
Approached Seytek in a blink of an eye.
He shouted to Salamart:
"Fight me, if you are capable."

Kuyale looked at what was happening there,
She arrived there in an instant.
She announced she loved Seytek,
Then led Seytek into the city.

Salamart flew into a rage,
Started a most courageous fight,
Like he tied a restless life as a fly,
Onto a fine hair.
Lion Krichorao was battle-seasoned,
He was not afraid when he faced numerous enemies,

He never yielded when he faced strong enemies,
He had a clear idea so he always won the battle.
Countless self-confident strong men,
He defeated them without exception.

Salamart calculated in his mind,
He wanted to knock down,
Famous hero Krichorao.

Great hero Krichorao,
Did not fear at all and did not move.
No matter how Salamart attacked,
He did not worry himself about being hit.

Krichorao observed the rival carefully,
Appreciated the rival's courage.
"This young man will become a hero in the future,
But he is not good at winning through skills now,
In fierce battle,
He exposes many vital weak points.
I will let him know the way of heroes,
Let him understand he is not strong and powerful enough."

Krichorao dodged nimbly,
Salamart rushed to the empty air.
Salamart wanted to knock Krichorao down,
He pricked the spear out and looked,
The spear point stuck deep in the dirt.

Salamart burned with a frenzy of rage,
As ferocious as tigers.
He exerted all his strength,
Launched another attack to hero Krichorao.
He aimed at the front of the saddle,
At Krichorao's abdomen,
Poked his spear out fiercely.

Battle-scarred hero Krichorao,
Lay flat by the side of steed quickly,
Lay against the steed belly tight,
Let the coming spear skimmed over the saddle,
Salamart had failed seven times,
The spear he poked always stuck in the dirt.
Angry Salamart,
Still wanted to win through his brute strength.

Hero Krichorao,
Launched three attacks in a row,
And one was fiercer than another.
The spear hit the chest protector continuously,
The axe hit the helmet continuously.
In an instant,
Hero Krichorao,
Gave the rival sixty times' heavy attacks.

Self-confident Salamart,
Was almost destroyed completely,
But the damned guy,
Encouraged himself and braced himself up,
Did not yield at all and made a comeback,
He grabbed Krichorao's belt tight,
Then he grasped Krichorao's clothes edge,
Pressed it under his thigh firmly,
Whipped Surbudan steed severely,
Pulled Krichorao with full of his strength.
With full of courage and a cruel heart,
He was confident he could defeat Krichorao.

Krichorao was not an ordinary person,
He grasped Salamart's clothes edge by the way,
Whipped Surkoyun steed,
Dragged hard along with the steed strength.

Two heroes on horsebacks,

Started a violent pulling,
They gave up knives and axes,
With their bare hands,
Tussled and made their bones almost collapsed,
They did not have any strength to make a fist.

In order to drag the other one off the steed,
They were regardless of life.
In order to cut the other one's head off,
They did not care their own life.

Rocks were smashed and splashed,
Soil clods disappeared on the ground,
Turned into dust and rolled in air.
Grass was pulled up with its root,
The earth sank.
Underground water spouted out,
Grassland turned into swamp.

Heroes' steeds sweated badly,
Sweat turned into dense fog and covered the earth.
The steeds were strong and round,
Chased each other and did not know the tiredness.
Wide ditches they pranced over easily,
Deep valleys were not a problem at all.
Warriors fought from strength to strength,
People praised their heroic bearing.

Violent fight did not stop day and night,
Roaring was like thunders and deafened ears.
Heroes just finished one round of fight,
And were ready for the new round of attack.

One was a battle-seasoned general,
One was a green young hero,
What would the result of two heroes' battle be,
I will continue singing for you.

Seytek Married Kuyale

Krichorao and Salamart fought for several days,
It was really diamond cut diamond,
Either of them could defeat the other one.

Two heroes both panted heavily,
Aggressive Salamart,
Had not been in the mood for continuing the battle.
He complained to Semtay:
"Seytek is a valiant lion,
He is Semtay and Ayichulek's son,
He must exceed his father and be a great hero.
Now among Kirgiz Arashi of white felt hat,
He is the strong backing of the people.

"I have heard about your information,
I have experienced your abilities.
Kris, you are an invincible hero,
You defeat all rivals challenge you,
I admire your braveness and courage.

"Giant Semtay,
Was born after the sage's praying,
So he would not die an untimely death.
He once met with a misfortune and disappeared,
And returned to his palace after fourteen years.

"Your respectful elder Bakay,
He leads you in good luck.

"Ayichulek stands there,
Bright like the sun.

"I only heard but have never seen,
Your aunt Kanikai,
She is Manas' virtuous queen.
She defeated enemies with her wisdom,
She won people's trust with her sincerity.
Her manner of talking and acting,
Makes people in the world surprised and admire.

"In Kokotoy's ceremony in the past,
On the ceremony of tens of thousands of people gathered,
She got giant Koshaoyi's blessing,
Her fame passed in the world since then.

"You Kirgiz people are reasonable,
Please understand what I intended to do first.
Destroy the city and plunder people,
It is not my purpose of coming here,
Travel around and choose beautiful girls to marry,
This is my purpose of this trip.

"Heroine Kuyale,
I have heard her name for a long time,
But I do not know she has engaged,
I just come and ask out of curiosity.
I thought if she agrees,
I will marry her through a formal wedding.
If she refuses to marry me,
I will fight it out.

"I realize now,
I cannot displease numerous people.
I cannot let troops of both sides erect flags and fight,
To see more soldiers losing their life.

"I did not know who my father was since I was little,
My mother brought me up,
I have little talent and less learning.
I got over my miserable childhood,
And grow into a hero finally.

"You are a respectful elder in my eyes,
I speak my mind to you,
I change my mind and I will retreat,
Head my troops and return to my hometown."

Great hero Krichorao,
Understood the secret of the young man in front of him.
Krichorao appreciated the young man's braveness,
He also felt touched by the young man's sincerity and persistent.
He thought the young man was a diamond in the rough,
He was willing to satisfy the young man's wish.

Krichorao shook his moustache,
Showed a big smile:
"Salamart, if you think in this way,
If you only want to marry beautiful girls,
I, Krichorao, must make you fully satisfied and content.
You and we are of the same root,
You come specially to look for beautiful girls in the world,
Let us shake hands and unite,
Hold the wedding for Seytek together.

"Let's invite pretty Kirgiz girls to come,
You can pick from them,
If there is none you like,
We can go to Afghanistan and pick together."

Hero Krichorao and Salamart,
Shook hands and hugged and concluded friendship.
Bit arrow head and vowed,
That they would never separate now and in the hereafter.

They whipped and galloped shoulder to shoulder,
Clouds of dust rose up behind them.
Kuyale watched on the city wall,
Asked to open the city gate.
Welcomed her guests to accommodate,
Held banquet to welcome them.

Kuyale took good care of Seytek,
He had all kinds of plasters put on his wounds.
In less than two days,
The hero's wounds from gunshot were cured completely.

Fortunate Kayidanpu,
Knew they came to marry his daughter,
"Ayikoler's son Semtay,
I cannot make him embarrassed.
I will go and welcome him personally."
He dressed up and walked out of his palace.

Hero Krichorao came to Semtay:
"Big brother, have you visited Kaypudan?"
Semtay replied:
"It is unreasonanble if I go by myself,
I am waiting for you to go with me.

"He and my father Ayikoler Manas,
Were bosom friends.
They once ate on the same tablecloth,
They shared each other's food and fortunes.
Let's go, brother, do not delay,
Let's go and visit the elder together.
We should respect Kaypudan,
Let him improve his reputation and redeem his lost glory."
Hero Krichorao urged Semtay.

Seytek and Salamart,

And Ayichulek went together.
But on their way,
They met Kaypudan who came to welcome them.

Kaypudan praised as he saw Semtay:
"Oh, you are the son of my fine steed,
Trained and grew up in hardships.
Among nine tribes' Uzbek people,
Among countless Kirgiz people,
You are the bright guiding light,
You are the valuable treasure the great hero left to this world!

"Every time Kirgiz Arashi is in critical moment,
You stand out and charge ahead!
Mad dog Kanchorao was of noble birth,
But his father fame was damaged in his behavior!"

The elder turned round and faced Krichorao:
"Oh, You are the offspring of Sultan,
You are a Kirgiz of white felt hat,
A lofty tree,
You let the past be forgotten,
You are broadminded and farsighted,
You are an ocean holds everything.

"When thugs beat you with sticks,
When they cut your scapula gristles off,
When you met difficulty and suffered from humiliation,
You never had the thought of betraying Kirgiz.

"Not only in the human world,
Even among fairies in heaven,
Your morality and behavior,
Has become a favorite tale.

"My kid,
We are strangers to each other,

But your wisdom and heroic deeds,
Have struck my ears like the roar of thunder.
Do not think I, Kaypudan,
Just fawn on you with sweet words,
I was lucky to get together with fairies in heaven once,
I said 'heroes in the human world are better than fairies in heaven',
And praised you in front of them.

"Akun Khan's daughter Ayichulek,
Her only son Seytek,
And young hero Salamart,
You five come specially for proposing a marriage,
I feel it is a great honor to me.

"Kuyale is my beloved daughter,
But how I can refuse to become relatives with you.
Since Ayikoler passed away,
I have not visited and prayed yet.
My kid Semtay, please forgive me,
I did not do well on this.

"Please forgive me to delay you too long here,
I also want to know my contemporaries' news.
When lion Manas was alive,
She took good care of his daily life,
Accompanied and served him day and night.
She was not a fairy birth but she is better than a fairy,
Is Kanikai doing good?

"He has gold-like wisdom full in his mind,
His words are sweeter than honey,
His silver beard waves in front of his chest.
He mounts the grey steed,
Like a fairy in heaven.
He looks majestic and powerful,
Numerous enemies were terrified by the sight of him,
How is Bakay doing?

"Salamart from Terwut tribe,
My colt, you are very young,
You and Kris shake hands and make peace,
I appreciate your savvy!
Whoever wants to act on his own will,
And invade Kirgiz of white felt hat,
Ayikoler Manas' spirit in heaven,
Will not let him off and must make him die out.

"You want to marry a beautiful girl wholeheartedly,
I believe you can find one.

"Ayichulek's daughter Jezbilik,
She is pretty and smart and she matches you well.
If you two like each other,
Semtay will agree on your marriage.

"You unite with Seytek,
There will be no one dare attack you again.
Enemies cast evil eyes on you in the past,
Will come and ask for your forgiveness.

"Lion Seytek, Salamart,
And Kuyale unite together,
Who else dare challenge you?
Rivals make bet with you must lose.
People make enemies with you must die.
Ninety tribes' Uzbek people,
Countless Kirgiz people,
Unite around you and make you incomparably powerful."

Homer sometimes nods,
Wise Krichorao made a big mistake,
He did not know Salamart's birth and background at all,
He conducted a ridiculous action.
Semtay admired the elder's wisdom,

Agreed to marry Jezbilik to Salamart,
Ayichulek's daughter Jezbilik,
Was not her biological daughter.
Ajibayi's son Kermanbayi,
Gave the girl to her and let her raise the girl.

Let's talk about Jezbilik's background,
She was born in a rich and powerful family.
Her father was famous Kermanbayi,
Her adoptive mother was beauty Ayichulek.
Nobody and ordinary people,
Were not equal to her in social status.
Ayichulek's daughter Jezbilik,
Was both beautiful and intelligent,
She got praise from everyone who saw her.

Lion Seytek and Kuyale,
Were like Kukuk and Zenaif[1],
Were perfect for each other.
Both their parents worked together,
Arranged their wedding carefully.

The wedding lasted for thirty days,
All guests then left one after one.
Let us Put this aside,
Start the story of,
Krichorao married fairy Amin.

1. Kukuk, Zenaif: It refers to a pair of godly birds couple in Kirgiz legend. They are like magpies.

Krichorao Married Amin

Hero Krichorao Saved the Life of a Beauty

Two days after the wedding,
Kaypudan saw her daughter off.
Semtay started to return to Talas,
Salamart went together with them.

Kaypudan intercede for Salamart,
Let Salamart and Jezbilik marry,
But after they returned to Talas,
Semtay did not arrange them to meet each other.

But Krichorao said he should fulfill his promise,
He asked beautiful Kirgiz girls to line up,
Let Slamart choose among them.
If he did not choose anyone,
They also could go to Afghanistan and continued to choose.

Salamart called one woman in,
Gave her five hundred gold cions.
"Dear big sister, pelase tell me,
Semtay's daughter Jezbilik,
Is she hiding among these girls?
How can I see her?"

The woman accepted the gold cions and replied:
"Jezbilik does not appear in public easily.
If you carry a big weight in uncle's heart,
He will arrange you to meet each other.
If you do not reach an agreement,
Do not take the liberty of asking for seeing her.

"Once you see her beautiful face,
You will be carried away with her.
You will be unable to control yourself from missing her.
You will be restless like you are sick.
Young man, I suggest you to leave as early as you can,
Otherwise, you will be engulfed in a abyss of love."

Smart Ayichulek,
Saw everything that happened.
She thought they had agreed on the marriage,
So they could not act in bad faith.

She stood outside of the room on purpose,
She called Jezbilik in the room loudly:
"My baby Jezbilik,
Bring me my earrings!"
Jezbilik knew nothing about her purpose,
She walked out of the room with the earrings.

Salamart saw Jezbilik suddenly,
His eyes and mouth are fixed.
Jezbilik also forgot the earrings in her hand,
Opened her eyes wide with love.
Two youths fell in love at first sight,
Became close of one mind.

Ayichulek walked with a light pace,
Came to Semtay,
Told him what she had seen,
And persuaded Semtay in earnest words.

Semtay promised once,
To marry his daughter to Salamart,
But when he returned to Talas,
He pretended he forgot it and delayed deliberately.

Since she met Salamart,

Jezbilik was anxious and preoccupied,
She heaved sighs and did not eat everyday,
It seemed she was ill.

But Salamart came prepared,
He brought several bags of gold,
He would present his seventy thousand cavalries.
He would claim Bakay as his father-in-law,
He would send Surbudan steed to his home.
He would present bags of gold to Kanikai,
And plead her to help to bring about the marriage.

He begged lion Krichorao:
Please accept my seventy thousand cavalries,
Please accept my seventy thousand steeds.
Please accept my three bags of gold.
Please accept my Surbudan steed,
Please accept me as your nephew.

Krichorao and they accepted only the gold,
Declined his cavalries and steeds.
Sent messengers to invite guests from all places,
Held a grand wedding.

The wedding lasted for nine days,
Wedding games lasted for another thirty days,
Then saw the bride off for one day,
The ceremony lasted for totally forty days.

Seeing his sister Jezbilik off,
Tired Seytek spread himself.

Olus Khan delivered a letter one day,
He expressed his predicament and expectation:
"Ayikoler's son Semtay,
I am old and ill and have no strength to mount,
I cannot bear long journey either.

I miss my daughter and son-in-law day and night,
Please bring them to see me."

Semtay received the letter,
Called his Khans in and discussed:
"Olus Khan is an elder,
Now he is ill and completely bedridden,
He wants me to take Seytek and Gulinar to see him,
But I have emergency to deal with and cannot leave,
Krichorao and Seytek,
You two go with Gulinar to express my wish."

They three mounted,
Galloped toward Urum day and night,
Olus Khan was at the last gasp,
His people worried and cared very much.
Fortunately Krichorao took magical medicine,
So Olus Khan got well soon.

They three said goodbye to Olus Khan,
Stepped on the return journey to Talas.

Seytek pondered over on the way,
He did not know when he could come again,
He could visit his sister Jezbilik by the way,
Made his sister surprised and happy.
So they turned round their steeds and took lavish gifts,
Came to Jezbilik's city.
Salamart gathered all his people,
According to Kirgiz traditional custom,
Welcomed the relatives from afar.

They stayed there for five days,
Then mounted their steeds reluctantly.
On the way back to Talas,
They whipped their steeds and chased each other.
When evening closed in,

They arrived in Betibakt basin,
Slept in the open by a river.
What they had experienced on their way,
Was interesting and surprising!

In the distant horizon,
At where fairies lived,
A beautiful girl was born,
Her name was Amin.

When she got eighteen years old,
Nukurdo reached his evil hands to her,
Amin did not want to marry Nukurdo,
Her father Banursha refused the hoodlum too.

Nukurdo got angry from embarrassment,
He threatened to plunder Banursha's city.
Both sides erected flags and put in battle array,
Banursha and Nukurdo fought fiercely.
They were equal in strength,
The battle had lasted for three years.
Unfortunately Banursha failed at last,
Nukurdo almost fulfilled his dream.

Amin fell in difficulty,
She was worried and depressed,
She was lonely and did not know what to do,
She walked along the riverbank blankly.

She met a girl on the road suddenly,
The girl was about her age,
Two girls greeted each other,
Told names to each other.

They became immediately good friends,
Amin told the girl everything about her.
The girl told Amin her information:

"My mother is a fairy,
My father is Adam's offspring.
My name is Kokmenchok,
Once I led a group of girls and lived in the human world.
Disaster happened suddenly one day,
I fled back to heaven in a hurry.
I did not step on the earth since then,
I come specially to meet you today."

Kokmenchok told her in detail,
About how he hid Semtay for fourteen years.
After telling her sad experience,
She advised Amin sincerely:
"If you do not like Nukurdo,
Do not yield and be forced to marry him.
If you marry such a hoodlum,
You will regret in your whole life.
Please listen carefully,
I can tell you where you can go for help.

"Human beings live in this world,
There are many heroes,
One of them is Kaypudan,
He is both brave and intelligent.
His daughter is Kuyale,
She is powerful and smart.
If you go to her for a shelter,
She will help you out.

"If you go to a man for a shelter,
You will be bound to commit adultery.
We women are ill-fated,
We are easy to be framed.
If you can find Kuyale,
She will help you clear Nukurdo's crimes out!"

Kaypuchal's daughter Kokmenchok,

Described Kuyale's character and appearance.
She pointed to Banursha's daughter Amin,
Where Kuyale lived.

Amin transferred into a white pigeon,
Flapped her wings and flew into the sky.

Nukurdo found Amin's trace,
Dragged his heavy body and chased after her,
Amin flapped her wings hard and flew fast forward,
Finally she arrived at Kuyale's father's palace.

Amin felt at ease,
She bowed to Kaypudan and saluted him.
She explained her purpose of coming,
And asked to talk to Kuyale face to face.

Kaypudan answered,
He talked about Kirgiz ancestors,
Talked about lion Manas' great achievements,
Talked about Bakay and Kanikai's contribution,
Talked about Semtay Tori[①]'s merits and virtues,
Talked about leopard hero Krichorao's wisdom and intelligence,
Talked about how his only daughter Kuyale,
Got married with Seytek.

He told Amin:
"Hero Krichorao, Seytek,
And Gulinar,
Are one the way back to Talas.
Kid, you do not need to ask Kuyale for help,
You should go to see hero Seytek and Krichorao.

"They are Manas' offspring,
They are invincible.

1 Tori: Kirgiz Khan was called Tori in records of Tang dynasty.

And fairy Ayichulek,
Is resourceful and foretell things accurately.

"The heroes wear Olbok battle gowns,
No arrow can pierce through.
Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Can see through any kind of magic.
Only these heroes,
Can help out of the difficulty."

Accepted Kaypudan's suggestion,
Amin flew into the sky again.
She circled and overlooked in the sky,
She found lion Krichorao.

Amin observed carefully,
Hero Krichorao was really handsome.
She loved him at the first sight,
The fear in her heart disappeared immediately:
"I do not know which woman is lucky enough,
To sleep with him?
If he hugs me tight in his arms,
Even only for a while,
Then kills me in person,
I will not regret at all."

She longed to the love very much,
Sad tears rolled down her cheeks.
She flew lower and lower in the sky,
She lost her mind.

Hero Krichorao saw a little white pigeon,
Flapped its wings and landed by his side.
"Ah, poor white pigeon,
Does bird Kumupay[1] chase you?

1 Kumupay: One kind of bird in eagle family.

You are driven into a corner,
So you come here for a shelter."

He carried the pigeon in his hands gently,
But the white pigeon transferred suddenly,
Into a pretty girl,
Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Was struck dumb with astonishment.
The pretty girl was slim and graceful,
She was shining like otter came out of water.

On the returning way of outside,
Gulinar saw the magical thing,
She woke Seytek up immediately,
Urged the hero to open his eyes quickly.

She was impatient to wait him to open his eyes,
Gulinar began to say what she had just seen.

Seytek felt it interesting,
He turned round and stretched his neck,
Watched what they were doing:
He saw his uncle looked at a girl and lost in thought,
The girl fixed her eyes on his uncle too.

Seytek told himself:
"Uncle Kris is forty years old this year,
The girl is about twenty-five years old.
It seems the girl has fallen in love with my uncle,
And my uncle loves the girl at the first sight.
But he does not know where the girl comes from.

"Do not know whom her father is.
She comes alone to the wilderness and meet people,
She is not an ordinary woman."

Seytek got up and came at a slow walk,

He would figure it out:
"Good morning, my respected uncle,
Where is this girl from?
Is she your old friend?
Come and wait for you here?"

Krichorao replied immediately:
"We meet by chance,
We are strangers to each other,
You can ask by yourself."

Seytek turned to the girl and asked:
"You meet with us in the wilderness,
Where are you from and where are you going?
Where is your hometown?
Are you a human or a fairy?"

Banursha's daughter Amin,
From the beginning, without hiding anything,
Told him her information.

How Kokmenchok pointed the way out,
How she came a long journey for a shelter,
How she asked for information on the way,
How she went to Kaypudan,
And how Kaypudan saw her off on the way,
She told in detail.

Amin finished all her words,
Fixed her eyes on Krichorao.
Sincerely,
Gracefully.
Uncle looked at her silently,
He did not move like a statue.
Seytek saw what happened,
He thought they had windfall,
He was extremely pleased.

Right at the moment,
Gulinar came in light pace,
She put hearty breakfast on.
Three people became four,
They ate and talked around the tablecloth.

The morning sun rose in the east,
They folded the tablecloth after breakfast,
They were busy preparing for the journey,
Saddled their own steeds,
Krichorao calculated in his mind,
Set out immediately and did not rest at all,
They should arrive in Talas in one day.

When they were ready to set out,
Lightning flashed and deafening thunder rumbled suddenly,
A fierce gale sprang up and swept the land.
Poor Amin felt frightened,
As seeing the thunder and lightning,
She trembled all over with fear.

"Girl, what's wrong with you?"
Hero Krichorao asked lovingly,
He held the girl's arm quickly.

"Thunder and lightning appears unexpectedly,
It is the sign of Nukurdo's coming,
So I feel frightened.
You are a great hero,
I believe you can protect me."

Lion Seytek,
Mounted Koykuron steed.
He held the sharp spear in his hand tight,
Was ready to fight in high spirits.
Giant Nukurdo came aggressively,

Raised storm everywhere he went,
Trees and grass were swept,
Rows of plane trees were blown down.
Nukurdo should get God's punishment,
He did not ride a horse but came on foot.

He had nothing to fear,
Did not put these people in his eyes.
He reached his steel fork hands,
Wanted to grab poor Amin.

Young warrior Seytek,
Had sharp eyes and agile hands,
He shouted harshly: "Stop!"
Aimed his spear at Nukurdo's armpit and pricked.
Nukurdo got the hit from the spear,
He fell sideways and then he stood up again.
He looked fierce with ghastly pale face,
He got angry from embarrassment.

Tall and big Nukurdo,
Was like a mountain.
He was battle-seasoned and bloodthirsty,
He was strong and with high skills.

He wore nine-layer iron armor,
Held Albars sword tight in his hand,
He could cut the rock in two.

Nukurdo was a Khan too,
He had thirty cities under his administration.

Nukurdo and lion Seytek,
Two giants started a fierce fight.
Their angry roaring,
Traveled to ten miles away.

They braced up and attacked each other,
Poked the sharp spears out fiercely.
They did not fear to be poked and die,
They attacked in turn.

Nukurdo fought on foot,
One day finally passed.

"Hey, Seytek,
We both are heroes,
I suggest we ceasefire and you wait me for one day here.
I am not a person has no steed,
Let me go back and ride on my steed and fight you again."

"Go, Nukurdo, ride your steed,
I will make you die without regret."

When Nukurdo turned round and went back,
Amin said to Seytek:
"Fish never has hair on its body,
Nulurdo never keeps his promise.
He administers thirty cities,
There are tens of thousands of giants,
Nukurdo said he wants to get his steed,
Actually he cheats you.

"When he returns to the battlefield,
He will bring giants who are too heavy for horses,
He will bring countless warriors,
Let the war spread from here.
His troops will like roaring flames,
They will burn everything mercilessly.
He will divide his troops in two groups,
One goes to plunder your people,
One stays here and fights us.

"You only have a few people here,

Krichorao, please allow me to fly,
And go back to my father now.

"My father has numerous divine troops from heaven,
There are many powerful giants,
Each of them worth ten.
I will ask my father for help,
Head his troops and come to the battle.
Facing troops from heaven,
Nukurdo will have no way to invade Talas,
Even he asks one group of his troops to march to Talas,
He still cannot fulfill his plan of occupying Talas."

Krichorao agreed on her idea,
Amin transferred into a white pigeon and flew into the sky,
Landed in Banursha's heavenly palace,
Lowered her head and saluted her father.

Hearing his daughter's request,
Banursha replied:
"My daughter, what you said is true,
We always send fairies to the human world,
Go and find out what's going on in human world.
For Manas' birth and achievements,
We have a comprehensive understanding.

"In order to get rid of Nukurdo's harassment,
You descend to human world and meet some heroes,
You come for help at the critical moment,
How I can look on and do nothing.
Tell me clearly,
The names and appearances of those Manas' offspring,
I will verify their information,
Then I can descend to the human world with my troops."

Fairies in heaven never tell lies,
They never hide things from each other.

Almanbet's son Krichorao,
And Seytek's information,
The white pigeon described comprehensively,
She neither exaggerated nor hid anything.

Banursha lived in heaven,
He verified the information and made a decision:
"My dear daughter Amin,
You go and see your mother quickly,
If your mother agrees,
We will hold a grand wedding for you.
Let's wet out tomorrow,
Let's seize the time and prepare.
We will call divine troops in,
Declare the war on Nukurdo!"

Fairy Amin and Krichorao Got Married

Banursha's order,
Passed through all fairies quickly.
Without hesitation,
A hundred thousand divine troops assembled soon.

In two days,
Nukurdo headed a hundred thousand troops and came.
Banursha's one hundred thousand troops,
Also came in time and fought.

Banursha and Nukurdo,
Were equal in match of strength, with imposing manner,
Hundred thousand of heavenly troops and hundred thousand devil troops,
Fought there and the earth could not bear them.

Nukurdo came aggressively,
He divided his troops in two,
Fifty thousand stayed there and waited for the order,
The other fifty thousand marched to Talas quickly.

Banursha observed the information carefully,
Gave orders to his troops.
All his hundred thousand troops,
Jumped at the fifty thousand devil soldiers.

Banursha and Nukurdo commanded,
Heavenly soldiers and devils in the west fought against each other.

Fought fiercely, blood splashed,
Clotted blood splahed,
Heads that were cut off,
Fell to the ground one by one.

Facing heavenly soldiers and devils fight in the air,
People on the ground were frightened to death,
Lost their wits, did not know what to do,
Confused and fled in all directions.

Soldiers of both sides fought fiercely,
They were in close combat.
Survived soldiers called a truce,
Reported to Babursha and Nukursha separately.
Nukurdo suffered heavy losses,
He stamped with rage, his flames of rage reached the sky.

Furious Nukurdo,
Put on his red cloak,
Mounted Kalaburuler steed,
Like a hungry wild beast.
His thin hair stuck up,
Wide sleeves waved with wind.

He roared like thunder,
Made earth quaked,
People saw his ferocious face felt frightened,
They were scared out of their wits.

He whipped Kalaburuler steed and galloped,
Clouds of dust rose up behind him.
He wanted to fight Seytek alone,
Clamored to ask Seytek to come out and fight.

Hearing Nukurdo's roaring,
Lion Seytek calculated in his mind:
"If I do not meet head-on with him,

He will say I do not have the courage to fight him."
Seytek mounted Koykuron and galloped to the battlefield,
Like a lightning shot across the sky.

Handsome and powerful hero Seytek,
Went to fight Nukurdo bravely.
Two heroes placed in battle array,
Started a face-to-face battle.
They fought each other for two days not long ago,
So they were familiar with each other's skills.

Nukurdo came on foot and fought then,
Was unable to withstand, felt frightened,
Asked for a truce, returned to his place,
Rode on his steed and came back.
He did not avenge a previous insult,
But he suffered heavy casualties this time.

He got angry from embarrassment, stamped with rage,
Exerted all this strength onto his two arms.
He wanted to cut Seytek's head off,
And hung on his saddle.

Two heroes charged and warded,
Wanted to kill the other one wholeheartedly,
Gnashed their teeth and used all their skills,
They swung swords, poked their spears out,
The spear knocked on the spear,
Axe warded with axe.
Spears broke in several pieces,
Whistled and flew a few miles away.
Angry eyes splashed flames,
Like male wolf in heat in winter.

Nukurdo and Seytek,
One was the devil in the west,
One was the great hero in the world,

They were equal in strength.

Suddenly another devil rushed out,
He wore a yellow cloak,
He was Nukurdo's giant,
He roared and charged forward.
Hero Krichorao saw it,
Galloped his steed forward and fought him.

Two human persons and two devils,
Fought for two days without a stop.
Almanbet's son Krichorao,
Faced the mountain-size divil,
He was fearless and brave,
He seized a chance and knocked him down.
Before the rival stood up,
He cut the rival's head off quickly.

The devil whose head was cut off,
Had a brother,
When the brother saw Krichorao killed the devil,
He dashed ahead regardless of his safety and poked his spear out.

He shook his long and strong legs,
Rolled his angry eyes,
Glanced at both sides,
Like hungry wolf met with sheep,
Stuck his tongue out and licked his lips and nose.

Smoke puffed out of his mouth,
His eyes flashed angrily,
Like flames blew up by bellows.
He wore six-layer iron armor,
Rushed ahead crazily.
Like a frenzy bull,
With frowning brows and angry eyes, clouded face,
Nose turned up to the air arrogantly.

His mouth was like a abyss,
He gnashed his teeth with full of hatred.

He carried the yurt-size iron hammer on his shoulder,
Roared at the top of his voice:
"Adam's son,
Open eyes and wait for me to take your life away!"
He swung the huge iron hammer,
Pounded at hero Krichorao fiercely!

Hero Krichorao was agile,
And with high skills,
He dodged to one side smartly,
The Do[1]'s hammer,
Pounded into the dirt.
The Do felt worried,
Bent over and exerted his strength but could not get the hammer out.

Right at the moment,
Below his helmet,
Above his iron armor,
His neck exposed completely in front of Krichorao.
Hero Krichorao was smart and brave,
How could he miss such a good chance?
He swung his sharp spear,
The spear point was envenomed.
He aimed at the Do's ear,
Poked his spear out fiercely.

The spear came out from the other ear,
The cold air shined aggressively in sunshine.

The Do even did not have chance to raise his head,
He just lay on ground on his stomach.
Hero Krichorao went the whole beast,

1 Do: Kirgiz language. It means giant. It refers to the devil from the west.

Lifted his crescent axe and cut the head off.

Seeing this,
All devil soldiers fled in a panic,
Banursha's heavenly troops chased.
Troops of both sides fought hand to hand with each other,
Another battle in blood started.

Almanbet's son lion Krichorao,
Whipped his Sur steed,
Rushed about, back and forth,
Rushed into enemies and fought.

The Does sweated badly and smelled bad,
After seventy days of journey on foot,
Those Does could eat seven Patman[①] at one meal,
But send out shit smell,
No matter how many they were, no matter how huge they were,
Krichorao drove them all away.
He knocked them down rows after rows,
Heads fell off like rocks.
"How can such a hero exist in the human world?"
Does feared and praised Krichorao!

On the day when Jalgezack's arm was cut off,
On the day when Buruler's leg was broken,
On the day when Kanchorao got injured,
On the day when Baytaylak got shot and died,
On the day when Khan Bakay was care-laden,
Fierce battle also happened.
Now,
Facing the devils swarmed up from the west,
It was the same like fighting fiercely in the past,
Hero Krichorao's courage doubled, rage towered,

① Patman: It was the unit of weight in ancient times. One Patman equals about 200 kilograms.

Numerous Does met with him,
None of them escaped, they all rushed to the hell.

Nukurdo saw it went in a bad way,
He was in a flurry of alarm, he feared and panicked:
"It seems my troops are done for,
Seytek will not spare my life!"
He shook his clumsy and heavy body,
Turned the steed round and fled in a panic.
He whipped his steed unstoppably,
Did not look back at all.
Seytek urged Koykuron,
Galloped at its top speed, followed and chased.
Seeing Seytek coming closer and closer,
Nukurdo calculated in his mind:
"I cannot defeat Seytek,
He will knock me down,
I need make Koykuron fallen with plot,
Then try to escape."

Cunning Nukurdo,
Drew his sharp sword out of the sheath.
When Seytek approached and poked his spear,
Nukurdo jumped to the ground agilely.

Koykuron galloped fast as it was flying,
It almost went by him,
Damned Nukurdo,
Cut the sword toward the steed's legs,
The four legs of the steed were cut off immediately,
Koykuron fell to the ground.
The lion's offspring Seytek,
Had jumped to the ground and rushed to the enemy.

Nukurdo stood up immediately,
Ran to Gulinar.
He kidnaped Gulinar,

Abandoned his mount and flew into the sky in a hurry.
Seytek mounted Nukurdo's mount,
And chased the cloud they were on.

The white pigeon flew high in the sky,
And landed in boundless Talas,
She paid a visit to Ayichulek immediately,
Told her what had happened.

White pigeon Amin and white swan Ayichulek,
Flapped their wings and flew into the sky.
Kuyale rode on Surbudan steed,
Galloped on the ground and followed them.

Ayichulek flew in the sky,
She found Nikorkuler was in the sky too.
Nikorkuler was Ayihan's son,
Kokberi was his older brother.
He knew his brother and Manas,
Cherished the same ideals, and had eternal friendship.

Nikorkuler hunted for a living,
He was going to hunt that day,
He and Ayichulek knew each other from long ago,
They were thoroughly familiar with each other.

Ayichulek sped up,
Appeared in the front of Nikorkuler.
Nilorkuler recognized Ayichulek,
And he asked:
"Oh, Ayichulek,
Ayichulek,
Why are you in such a hurry?"

Ayichulek saluted him,
Told him the reason from the beginning.
Nikorkuler felt worried after he heard it,

He came to the ridge of Kesrim quickly.

Nikorkuler lifted his telescope and watched,
He found Nukurdo walked on the clouds.
Nikorkuler could call for wind and rain,
He called wind to blow clouds away.

Nukurdo lost the cover of clouds,
He had no place to hide and showed himself up in the blue sky.
Nikorkuler drew his bow,
Shot sharp arrow toward Nukurdo.

The sharp arrow whistled across the sky,
Hit Nukurdo's right eye.
Nukurdo could not bear the pain,
He let Gulinar off and fled in a panic.

Ayichulek and white pigeon Amin,
Caught Gulinar in the air,
Did not let her fall on the ground.
They bade farewell to Nikorkuler,
Brought Gulinar back to Seytek.

Right at the moment,
Kuyale also came to them,
She wanted to set out with Seytek,
And look for hero Krichorao.
They let Ayichulek take Gulinar,
And return to Talas first.

The white pigeon flew in the sky and overlooked,
She looked for hero Krichorao.
She circled in the sky,
Suddenly she met a bunch of Does in the air.
The white pigeon got close to one Do,
And asked where they came from,
The Do answered honestly without hiding anything:

"Let me tell you, but do you tell others,
We all come from the west.
Our commander is Nukurdo,
He is without equal in strength, his fame is widely known in the world,
Banursha's daughter Amin,
Is the girl he wants to marry.
But Amin goes to the human world,
And will marry Krichorao.

"Nukurdo heads troops and fights against Krichorao,
One hundred thousand troops are completely wiped out,
No single one is still alive.
Nukurdo's eye was shot with an arrow,
He made a hairbreadth escape, ran back to his palace.
We assemble these Does and go again,
To avenge Nukurdo."

The white pigeon got the exact news,
She flew to Seytek.
She saw Seytek and Kuyale were herding their steeds,
So she landed by the side of them.
"Ah, my lion and heroine,
I have something important to tell you.
I flew in the sky just now,
And I encountered many Does,
I got to know that Nukurdo has fled back to the west,
He assembles all devils under his administration,
With a hundred thousand troops to fight again.
They are likely to invade Talas,
We need prepare and beware of it.
If you agree on my suggestion,
Let Kuyale return to Talas to organize a defence,
Let Seytek stay on the only way they must pass,
Block the enemies here.
I will fly into the sky again,
Send the news to Krichorao,

Guide him to come back here and garrison,
Then I will fly back to my father's palace,
Ask him to send his heavenly troops for help,
I will return by this time tomorrow."
The white pigeon finished her words,
Flapped her wings, flew into the sky.

Nukurdo made a comeback,
He found Seytek,
So he ordered the devil troops to land on the ground.
Heroine Kuyale,
Was on the way back to Talas,
She felt it was not right behind her,
She returned to Seytek decisively.

Nukurdo was overcautious and indecisive,
He gave such an order to his Does:
"Do not act by yourself,
You should hold the iron chain tight in your hands,
Go and besiege Seytek together,
Tie him with the iron chain,
Do not act recklessly!"

Fifty thousand devil soldiers descended from the heaven,
They did not have steeds,
They all went on foot,
They swarmed up from all directions,
Surrounded Seytek in the center.

Invincible hero Seytek,
Did not care at all when he faced massive troops.
Seytek roared angrily,
And rushed into enemies.
He swung his sharp sword,
The Does were completely routed,
None of them could hold the chain in the hand.

Another fifty thousand troops came,
Nukurdo gave his order out,
Asked them to catch Seytek alive.

Before the Does charged ,
The white pigeon and Krichorao arrived in time.

The white pigeon wanted to go and ask Banursha for help,
Krichorao did not allow her to go at all:
"Nukurdo has lost one of his eyes,
He has no scaring skills anymore,
I can deal with him,
You do not need to disturb your father."

The separated fifty thousand troops,
Launched attack toward Krichorao.
They dare not come up one by one,
They swarmed up from all directions in groups.

Wish God not let us see this,
Look at those flying Does,
Warriors fought them fiercely.
Blood converged into rivers,
The earth under foot was dyed red with blood.

Nukurdo headed his fifty thousand troops,
Marched toward Talas in a hurry.
He wanted to arrive at Talas in one day,
And plunder Talas at his will.

The white pigeon found their trace,
She came and reported to Seytek quickly:
"Nukurdo is going to invade Talas,
And descend disasters to fellow people there.
Your steed Buruler can fly in the sky.
Hero Khan, if you agree,
I will let your steed fly in the sky,

I will lead the way,
Let's go and stop the devil."

Seytek replied her:
"If my Buruler has the ability to fly in the sky,
White pigeon,
You just let it fly in the sky,
I will set out immediately,
Go back to grandfather Bakay and grandmother Kanikai,
Protect them from suffering devil's humiliation.

"As long as the son like me live in the world,
My father Semtay does not need to mount and fight."

The white pigeon led Buruler steed,
Flapping her wings and flew high in the sky,
They flew fast from west to east,
Caught up with Nukurdo's troops soon.

Nukurdo suddenly noticed,
Seytek came and challenged him.
It is said:
"When you are at the end of your rope,
The blind will have tears welled up in eyes."
Arrogant Nukurdo,
Felt desperate as he saw Seytek.
Among his fifty thousand devil soldiers,
There were fifty brave and powerful generals,
He ordered them to attack in turn,
And keep nagging Seytek about it.
Nukurdo sent his servant Yiming,
To call a magician for help.

Powerful Does,
Jumped out one after one,
Some of them lost their lives in less than one round,
Some of them fought from dawn to dusk,

Escaped death by sheer good luck, and went back to their camp.

Krichorao and Kuyale fought barvely,
Numerous Does could not bear and fled in panic.
The heroes were in a hurry, they were anxious,
Galloped their steed toward Talas immediately.

Hero Seytek swung his spear,
The spear point poked into Does' chests.
Those Does were like skinny goat kids with full of fleas,
Were picked up on Seytek's spear point.

Right at this critical moment,
Nukurdo's servant came with the magician,
He turned the white pigeon into a fixed star,
And turned Seytek and his mount into fossil.

When hero Krichorao arrived,
Seytek and his mounted had transferred into fossil,
Nukurdo got so exasperated,
He went even further,
He asked to pull Buruler's arterial blood vessels away.
He was going to pull Seytek's blood vessels,
Hero Krichorao came with his spear angrily.

Nukurdo was startled by the roaring,
He gave up Seytek's fossil,
Ordered his magician hurriedly,
To cast a spell on Krichorao.
The sinister and cunning magician,
Cast all magic he knew.

Look,
Krichorao,
How resourceful he was, how magical he was,
No matter how many magic the magician played,
They were all useless to Krichorao.

Krichorao thoroughly understood crack art,
He cast spell and made Seytek show himself.
Seytek told him.
Buruler steed's blood vessels were pulled out,
It was too late when Krichorao arrived.
Seytek lost his mount,
He had to go on foot, like a drowned mouse.
Buruler steed was set in place and could not move,
The place was named "Tashiburuler's Kairu"[1],
The story came down the ages.

Hero Krichorao said to the white pigeon:
"You can go to your father now,
Tell him what has happened,
In detail."

Banursha heard his daughter's report,
He got the news of Nukurdo's fleeing,
So he asked his soldiers to set out immediately,
Asked them to catch Nukurdo alive.

Received Banursha's order,
Numerous fairies went on expedition,
They searched and marched forward,
They made Nukurdo had no place to hide.

Seeing more and more fairies approaching,
Nukurdo left quietly.
He led the magician,
Mounted the clouds and flew toward Krichorao.
Amin reminded him in time,
Then Krihcorao made good preparations,
And got ready to fight.

1 Tashiburuler's Kairu: It is the name of a place. It means the slope where steed Buruler turned into fossil.

The magician cast a spell,
Turned Kuyale and her steed into fossil,
He used his magic up to Krichorao,
But they did not work on him at all,
They all failed with no exception.
As long as God blessed him,
Others had no way to deal with him.
The shirt sage Jusurp left,
Was on Krichorao,
Any kind of magic was useless on him,
He could deal with any devil.

He had another two magic stuff,
He carried them,
With him all the time,
They could drive evil spirits away for him.
One was Jurendo's white steel sword,
The other was Almanbet's horse cloak,
Which was on the back of Krichorao's steed.
Nukurdo dare not get close to him as seeing this,
He could not defeat Krichorao.

So Nukurdo calculated in his mind:
"Seytek has lost his mount,
Why do not I go back and chase him!
I will make that damned guy complain to heaven,
I will swing my knife and cut his head off,
Then I will have no regret even if I die."

Nukurdo returned to Seytek,
He reached his evil claws to Seytek.
His face was dark,
He was extremely angry,
Held the sharp spear in his hand,
Launched an attack fiercely.

Seytek had lost his mount,
He met the challenge head-on on foot, he shouted with rage:
"Come on,
You such an ugly bastard,
Show me all your skills!"
Seytek stood there without moving bravely,
Let Nukurdo poke his spear first.

Aggressive Nukurdo,
Aimed at Seytek's waist and gave three pokes,
One was fiercer than another,
The third poke was the fiercest.
When he poked his spear for the fourth time,
Seytek thought he could not bear anymore.

Peerless hero Seytek,
Grabbed the coming spear quickly,
And pulled it at the same time,
Mountain-size Nukurdo,
Flew with his spear like a fleabane,
Landed on Seytek's hand.

Seytek got a firm foothold,
Held his waist tight,
Then threw him out of one shooting range.

Self-confident Nukurdo,
Was thrown on the ground with hands and legs in the air,
He passed out for a while, then he regained consciousness,
And got up and continued to fight.

Seytek did not give him any chance to fight back,
By Nukurdo's drive of kickback,
Grabbed his belt tight,
Lifted him over his head and twisted,
Nukurdo in Seytek's hands,
Span like a fleabane,

Rolled a gale up,
The roaring of the gale made people frightened!

The place where they fought,
Was between a valley,
Stiff Tumshok mountain was opposite the valley.
Seytek rotated Nukurdo faster,
Threw him toward Tumshok mountain with full of his strength,
Nukurdo was smashed, his flesh and blood flew in all directions,
The hard peak collapsed,
It was called "Collapsed Mountain" since then.

The heavenly troops caught the magician,
He received his due punishment.
Banursha came to help from the heaven,
Made a triumphant return to heaven with his troops.
One battle between gods from the east and devils from the west,
Ended in such way,
That devils from the west failed completely.

White pigeon Amin married hero Krichorao,
Stayed in Talas.
The steed sent out from Talas,
Brought Seytek back home safely.
He did not find an ideal steed,
So he stayed at home leisurely.

Gulianr gave birth to a boy,
You should remember his name Almsarik.
Almsarik grew up healthily,
He was ten years old soon.

Heroine Kuyale got pregnant that year,
She gave birth to a boy called Kenainym,
He would be a peerless hero,
He won a title Death Sarik.
Third book of Manas is like a comedy,

It ended in three couples weddings,
So, the coming stories,
Let me begin from Kenainym's birth.

Postscript

The Chinese version of Kirgiz heroic epic Seytek-Book Three of Manas (Volume One and Two) was translated from the second edition Kirgiz language Book Three of Manas by Xinjiang People's Publishing House in 2004. Zhumak Kader translated the book. He taught Kirgiz language and Kirgiz-Chinese translation course in the department of civil languages in Central University of Nationalities (which is now called Minzu University of China) when he was young. He has long been engaged in investigating, translating and researching on Manas and in writing on ethnic theme like Kirgiz while he worked in the government later. Since 2004, he directed the daily work of Manas Chinese Translation Committee as the director of Manas Chinese Translation Committee. He organized and was responsible for the annotation, process and validation of Manas translation draft. He is very familiar with all versions of Manas. The translation of this book was based on the experience and theory study of the Chinese translation.

Amantur Abudurisuler and Zhayir Jumashi made a Kirgiz-Chinese check, and then turned it over to the editing and validating group. The review draft was printed to solicit opinions after Jihong He made the structural adjustment and literary polish.

Reviewing and soliciting opinions of this translation draft was going on the Internet. We sent the translation draft to more than thirty Manas researchers and experts nationwide and invited them to review and validate it. In about two months, we received the reviewing opinions from more than twenty of them. They are Zhenhua

Hu, professor of Minzu University of China, Langying, researcher of Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, Adili Jumaturdi, researcher of Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, Zhanzhu Wu, researcher of Heilongjiang Institute of Nationalities, Hongchao Zhang, former chairman of Xinjiang Federation of Social Sciences, translator and editor, Yerkesy, vice chairman of Literary Federation of Xinjiang Uygur Autonomous Region and writer, Minjie Guo and Ruizhou Li from Chinese Translation Committee, and more than twenty researchers and experts from Kizilsu Kirgiz Autonomous Prefecture. Especially Professor Zhenhua Hu sent seven feedbacks in one month. He fully affirmed the translation draft, apart from that, he gave some detailed revise opinions. He even made some changes directly on the characters and words. Experts and scholars who participated in the review all consider the translation is in high quality and faithfully reflects Jusurp Mamay's singing style.

Zhumak Kader and Jihong He summarized and classified the feedbacks from the experts and researchers. The experts and scholars mainly have four types of opinions. First, the translation draft has some inaccurate translation and even some omissions in translation. Zhumak Kader does the work of correcting and supplementing translation under the comparison with the original Kirgiz version. Second, there are inappropriate Chinese words and rhetoric in translation which need to be polished and poetic. Jihong He works on it. Third, some names of people and places that are not consistent with the first two books or within this book should be corrected. Fourth, annotations should be increased. Professor Zhenhua Hu listed more than one hundred words that should be annotated in his feedback. These are very good opinions. Since there was already a basic framework in picking the words to be annotated in Book One and Book Two which have been already published, we added some annotations in this book to be consistent with each book of this version, but there are still some regrets left behind.

At the time of the publication of this book, we show our sincere appreciation to the people participating in translating and publishing and to the Party leaders and the experts who devoted their time to Manas.
